Judges Withhold Decision In Integration Hearings

U.S. DISCLOSES

Soviets Building Powerful Armed Forces In Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro has used a mounting flood of arms from Russia and other Communist sources to build the most powerful military force in Latin America, the United States said Friday night.

The State Department pinned responsibility for the massive buildup squarely on the Soviet bloc, particularly Russia and Czechoslovakia. It also accused them of contributing to Caribbean tensions and of taxing the shaky Cuban economy with an excessive arms burden.

The department said in a special statement that Castro now has a regular army, navy and air force of 40,000 men backed by 200,000 militia — a force "10 times the size" of that maintained by Cuba before the bearded revolutionary seized power.

MODERN WEAPONS

It said they were equipped with late - model weapons and "large quantities of heavy equipment of a variety of types," including tanks, assault guns, armored personnel carriers, flame throwers and mortars.

Flouts Latin Countries

The department also said in effect that Russia flouted Cuba's Latin neighbors by stepping up arms deliveries to Castro after the Western Hemisphere foreign ministers in August condemned Soviet and other Red intervention in hemispheric affairs.

The department's statement came only 24 hours after President Eisenhower's disclosure that he had ordered U.S. warships and planes deployed off Cuba to block any Communist-backed aggression against this country's Latin American friends.

U.S. officials said they hoped the mere presence of the U.S. forces would deter any aggressive move. They also emphasized, however, that unit commanders would not act except under specific orders from Washington.

The U.S. statement on the Cuban arms buildup, officials said, was designed to support this country's contention that Castro plans new military adventures abroad. They said Cuba's military strength now is far in excess of its legitimate defense needs.

These officials said the statement also showed that Castro now is depending exclusively on

Cave Slayer Indicted By Grand Jury

OTTAWA, Ill. (UPI) — Cave killer Chester (Rocky) Weger was indicted Friday for clubbing three vacationing housewives to death in a snowbound Starved Rock State Park canyon.

The 23-year-old ex-Marine must stand trial on three indictments charging he murdered Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 53, and Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, in the state park near Ottawa last March 14.

ON HOLIDAY

The women were society matrons from the Chicago suburb of Riverside, Ill., who had come to Starved Rock for a holiday. Their bodies were found in a cave March 16, but their killer was not known until Weger broke under questioning Thursday and confessed.

A special grand jury of 11 women and one man also indicted Weger for three other attacks on the vacationers who roam Starved Rock's scenic trailways and ravines.

Two indictments charging rape, armed robbery, assault, assault with a deadly weapon and larceny grew out of a Sept. 13, 1959, attack on a 17-year-old girl and her boyfriend. Armed with a hunting rifle, Weger forced the girl to tie up her escort. Then he beat and robbed the boy and raped the girl.

On July 24, 1959, the sixth indictment charged, Weger snatched a purse from a woman in the park. His profit was $10.

The quickly returned indictments were based on Weger's detailed confession, the testimony of 40 witnesses, and grisly evidence such as Weger's blood-spattered cowboy jacket, the club he used to kill the women, and the butcher's cord with which he tied their hands before battering them to death.

Weger, a father of two children, hung his head when he appeared before Circuit Judge J. Leonard Hoffman for a preliminary hearing. When the judge asked him if

Air Force Bans Travel Abroad For Dependents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force Friday canceled all overseas travel after next Feb. 1 for dependents of its uniformed personnel.

It thus was the first of the three armed services to put teeth into President Eisenhower's order requiring a reduction of 204,000 in the number of women and children living abroad with the forces.

The Air Force informed its overseas and global commands of immediate action to halt issuance of dependent travel authorizations calling for overseas movement after Feb. 1.

In a message to commands in the United States, Air Force headquarters said military personnel on orders or alerted for foreign assignments "will be expected to comply with such orders." It said they will proceed without their families unless they have approved reservations calling for departure no later than the last day in January.

The Air Force said it recognized that exceptions "will have to be granted for humanitarian considerations, hardships and peculiarities of selected Air Force units."

The Navy Department, in a message signed by Secretary William B. Franke, voiced general support for the administration decision on dependents overseas.

Britain Ends Military Draft

LONDON (AP) — Britain ended the draft Friday and freed civilians from military obligations for the first time in 21 years. Compulsory military service had existed without a break since 1939.

John Hare, Minister of labor and national service, announce the windup in the House of Commons.

British defense planning now calls for a highly trained professional army of around 165,000 regulars.

DAVIS TO SPEAK

Plans Completed For Rights Rally

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, U. S. Rep. Otto Passman and Frank Voolker, chairman of the state sovereignty commission, will speak at a huge rally here Tuesday that may determine the fate of north Louisiana in the state - federal government crisis.

Several thousand officials and residents of the Fifth Congressional District are slated to attend the 8 p.m. state sovereignty rally at Neville High School. It is expected to be the largest mass meeting ever held in the northern part of the state.

"It will show Gov. Davis that north Louisiana is offering to support him in this crisis, and most important, it will show him and the rest of the state that we don't have a mayor like Chep Morrison (New Orleans Mayor) or a school board like the one in New Orleans," said Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard of Monroe, at a meeting held Friday to plan for the all - out demonstration.

"The psychological effect of a united front will have great bearing on what happens in this part of the state," he forecast.

The rally follows eight days after federal court orders were carried out to integrate two New Orleans public schools. Morrison took no action to maintain school segregation on that date. Orleans school board members ignored a state - wide school holiday and kept schools open to allow the integration, and New Orleans police since have used force against city residents who protested the violation of state laws.

"What you give now you will never get back," warned Ouachita Bailey Grant, who attended yesterday's meeting of local leaders in the Monroe Chamber of Commerce office.

All mayors, legislators, sheriffs, school board officials, district attorneys, principals and teachers, city commissioners, Farm Bureau members, police jury officers and members, college officials, Civic organizations, and residents from

U.S. COURT RULINGS

Justices Say Wright Wrong

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Louisiana Supreme Court Friday criticized U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright for superceding the state legislature without a hearing in its attempt to operate New Orleans schools.

But at the same time, the court ruled out a suit the legislature tried to get into a state court.

The high court said Wright's order removing the legislature's suit to give a legislative committee control of New Orleans schools was "improvidently granted."

The court refused to direct civil district Judge Luther E. Hall to hear the suit.

The legislature was seeking an injunction to restrain four members of the school board and school Supt. James Redmond from taking any action to interfere with operation of the schools by a legislative committee.

Judge Hall issued a restraining order when the suit was filed, but Wright dissolved Hall's order.

REFUSES REQUEST

The court issued an unanimous opinion holding that the federal court was not entitled "either to supercede the legislative branch of the state government or to conclude, without a hearing, that the legislature was without right or authority to abolish a subdivision created by it."

The legislative committee sought to remove the school board and operate New Orleans school to prevent integration which took place last Monday.

REPUBLICANS ACT

Vote Checks Due In Eight States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican campaign officials Friday ordered field checks which might lead to vote recounts in eight states — and even possibly a turnabout victory for GOP presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon.

The decision to send representatives into the eight states was reached by Leonard W. Hall, Robert H. Finch and Fred C. Scribner, top strategy planners in Nixon's campaign against apparently victorious Democrat John F. Kennedy.

Finch told an interviewer that Nixon, now resting in Florida, hadn't been consulted about the meeting that produced the decision to send GOP representatives into Illinois, Texas, Missouri, New Mexico, Nevada, South Carolina, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

MORE FOR RECOUNT

About the time this was being announced, New Jersey Republicans moved for a recount in five counties where Kennedy rolled up a 139,000 plurality over Nixon. Kennedy won New Jersey and its 16 electoral votes by 21,800 votes.

Lou Guylay, spokesman for the Republican National Committee, told newsmen the party's agents will check on complaints of alleged election irregularities and try to determine whether a vote recount in those states might snatch victory from Kennedy and confer it, belatedly, on Nixon.

Guylay said GOP headquarters has received an estimated 25,000 written and telegraphed complaints claiming voting shenanigans in the election 10 days ago. Many suggested recounts, he said.

The latest tabulation — with votes still tricking in — showed Kennedy maintaining a wafer-thin popular vote lead over Nixon, but more than enough electoral votes — 300 — to claim the presidency. The required number is 269.

The totals to date:
Kennedy — 33,869,700.
Nixon — 33,687,285.

The difference in Kennedy's favor — only 182,415 out of more than 67½ million votes cast for the major party candidates.

U.S. T-Agents Raid Gamblers Across Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury agents raided nearly 100 gambling places in 45 cities across the nation Friday in a crackdown on gamblers suspected of failing to pay federal gambling taxes.

In a precision move, agents of the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division simultaneously hit gambling houses from coast-to-coast at 3:15 p.m. EST.

By 7 p.m. EST, 82 arrests had been made in raids on 91 gambling places in 40 cities. In addition, more than $50,000 in gambling money had been confiscated.

The coordinated sweep was the second in about seven weeks. A federal dragnet Sept. 28 resulted in 123 arrests.

Agents were looking for gamblers suspected of failing to pay one or more of three taxes: a $50 occupational tax all gamblers must pay; a $250 levy on coin-operated gambling devices, such as slot machines and a tax of 10 per cent on gross gambling revenue.

First reports reaching Internal Revenue headquarters listed five persons arrested in New York City — two in Manhattan, two in Brooklyn, and one in the Astoria section of Queens. Agents in New York seized cash totaling $1,831 and two cars.

Congo Expels Ghana Staff Of Diplomats

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Determined to maintain his strongman role in the Congo, Col. Joseph Mobutu Friday ordered the entire diplomatic staff of Ghana to get out of the country by Monday. The United Nations command said it could not interfere.

The chief target of Mobutu's anger is Nathaniel Welbeck, Ghanian charge d'affaires who has openly acted as political adviser to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. Mobutu is prevented from arresting Lumumba only by a U. N. guard posted around the ex-premier's villa.

WARFARE SPREADS

The development came as the United Nations found itself dangerously enmeshed in pitiless tribal warfare in secessionist Katanga Province. There, the fierce Baluba tribesmen loyal to Lumumba spread to south Katanga and the United Nations was forced to throw in heavy reinforcements.

The feud of Mobutu and his pro-Western supporters with the Ghana diplomats is of long standing and broke into the open early in October.

Only Tuesday night, Mobutu's soldiers arrested Lovelace Mensah, third secretary of Ghana's embassy. He was accused of trying to take money and plans for an invasion of Katanga to Lumumba. Katanga President Moise Tshombe is an old foe of Lumumba. Welbeck at the time called the accusation a fabrication.

Mobutu's ally, President Joseph Kasavubu, had declared Welbeck persona non grata—unacceptable—last month. But Welbeck appealed to the United Nations and stayed on, guarded in his residence and embassy by Ghana troops.

The U. N. Command at that time told Kasavubu and Mobutu it would not permit the forcible expulsion of the Ghanian diplomats.

Now, without explanation, the command has switched positions. Western diplomats speculated that it was due to Kasavubu's effective appearance at the U. N. General Assembly in New York.

Brig. Indar Jit Rikhye of India, acting head of the U. N. mission, said the United Nations cannot prevent Welbeck's ouster because it was the president who declared him unacceptable.

Chicago Crime Chief Gets Six Years and Fine

CHICAGO (AP) — Anthony J. (Tony) Accardo, who reputedly succeeded his old boss Al Capone as chief of the Chicago crime syndicate, was sentenced to six years in prison Friday on an income tax charge.

Capone's former bodyguard who now lives in a swank, suburban mansion, was sentenced by U.S. Dist. Judge Julius Hoffman on charges similar to those which put away his boss — false income tax reporting.

Accardo, also fined $15,000, heard the sentence without revealing any emotion.

Later, as he was being led to an elevator by deputy U.S. marshals, Accardo snapped, "Keep your hands off me. I can walk by myself."

Accardo, 54, was found guilty Nov. 11 of falsely claiming a $3,993 reduction for maintenance expenses of his red sports car during the period from 1956 to 1958. The reputed crime czar claimed he was a $65,000-a-year beer salesman and used the car in his promotion and sales efforts.

Government prosecutors contended that Accardo used his position with the Premium Beer Sales Corp., of Chicago, as a cover-up for income from rackets and gambling.

Gov. Talmadge Silent On Bolt

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., kept a tight lip Friday about whether Georgia's Democratic electors might bolt the national ticket if such action would block the election of John Kennedy.

Talmadge declined to give Mississippi's unpledged electors, who hope to keep both parties from getting a majority in the electoral college, any encouragement about Georgia.

"I'm not an elector," he told a news conference.

Kennedy now has 300 electoral votes, counting 27 from Illinois. If he should lose Illinois in a recount, a Georgia bolt would cut his total below the 269 needed for election.

IN SCHOOL CRISIS

Legislators Ask End Of Violence

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Legislature, calling for a halt in New Orleans violence and calming its own anger, went home Friday until next Wednesday at noon.

But members voted they were ready to rush back at any moment, should Senate and House presiding officers sound a quick new battlecry for action in the school integration crisis.

The House passed 96-0 and sent back to the Senate a sharply revised Senate concurrent resolution, which now simply echoes Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' words in appealing to the people of New Orleans for cool heads. Senators will act on it when they return.

JUDGE STIRS IRE

Three fast restraining orders against the legislature by U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright had stirred the legislature to emotional outbursts.

Passman Sure Position Safe On Committee

U.S. Rep. Otto E. Passman Friday said he does not believe House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas will yield to pressure from a faction of pro-Kennedy northern Democrats and strip him and four other veteran Southern congressmen of posts of legislative power.

In addition to Passman, those under fire are Rep. William M. Colmer, 70, Pascagoula, Miss.; Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, 50, Charleston, Miss.; Rep. John Bell Williams, 51, Raymond, Miss.; and Rep. Arthur Winstead, 56, of Philadelphia, Miss.

All are accused of campaigning against the election of President-designate Kennedy. The pro-Kennedy northern faction contends the object of the purge would be to increase chances of enactment of Kennedy's legislative program.

Passman, in Baton Rouge, issued the following statement on the situation:

CLARK GABLE

Military Rites Set For Top Film Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Air Force will conduct private funeral services with full military honors for Clark Gable Saturday, his studio announced Friday.

Pallbearers will include Spencer Tracy, James Stewart and Robert Taylor.

The screen's top star, who died Wednesday night at 59 of a second heart attack within 10 days, served in the Army Air Corps in World War II.

Quietly enlisting as a private, Gable attended officer's candidate school, earned his wings as a gunner, and in Europe won the Air Medal for exceptionally meritorious achievement in five combat bomber missions. He was discharged a major.

Air Force Secreary Dudley Sharp has appointed Lt. Col. James D. Hunter to represent him at the funeral at 9 a.m. Saturday, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer said. The rites will be in the Church of the Recessional, Forest Lawn Memorial Park at nearby Glendale, with Chaplain Johnson E. West of March Air Force Base officiating.

There will be a troop escort including a three-man color guard, 10 airmen and a troop commander from the air base near Riverside, 50 miles east of here.

Gable's body will be entombed in a crypt beside that of the third of his five wives, actress Carole Lombard, who died in a Nevada plane crash in 1942 while returning from a war bond-selling tour.

Gable's widow, the former Kay Williams Spreckels, who is five months pregnant with his first child, approved the plan for entombment. Another crypt adjoining Gable's has been reserved for her.

Panel Takes Case Under Advisement

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS — Louisiana's integration crisis reached an impasse here Friday when a three-judge court declined to rule immediately on a request for renewed school segregation.

The panel, instead, took the case under advisement and will announce a decision at a later date. No indication was given yesterday as to when this might be.

The Orleans Parish School Board closed public schools here next week and the Legislature, under immunity at the capitol, recessed until Wednesday.

At a packed, tense courtroom, Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion filed an interposition suit on behalf of the state, declaring that Louisiana will not recognize federal orders to intergrate.

The three - judge court, which included Judge J. Skelly Wright, received motions on three major cases pertaining to the integration issue, then announced it would recess subject to call.

Gremillion asked the jurists to dismiss all three legal actions against Louisiana, including Wright's restraining orders against numerous state officials, plus the Legislature.

Meanwhile, the city, scene of near - violence during the week, remained calm, but the white boycott of the two integrated schools increased.

Only pupils at McDonogh No. 19 were the three Negro pupils permitted to enroll under Wright's orders. Only one white student attended William Frantz.

Judge Richard T. Rives, Chief Justice of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, of Montgomery, Ala., presided over the hearing with Wright and Judge Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans on

Three Firemen Perish As Six Buildings Burn

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular blaze visible for miles roared through six Lower Manhattan buildings Friday night, killing three firemen who were trapped in a basement.

The three were declared dead after they were taken to a hospital.

Five firemen were trapped in the basement of a five-story brick loft building in which the fire started. But two were quickly pulled to safety up through a blazing stairway. It was nearly four hours before the other three were pulled out.

The fire started in a loft building at Broadway and Grand Street in an area infamous for some of New York's dealiest fire disasters.

Within two hours, it had fanned out to five other buildings. Fire fighters in time restricted the flames to two of the buildings, both about 100 years old.

The building in which the fire started houses several wholesale textile firms. Jacob Kra, owner of a wholesale lace shop on the building's ground floor, was inside with several employes when he smelled smoke. They rushed outside and an alarm was sounded.

Eventually, nine alarms were out. After five alarms were sounded, a borough call automatically went out with four more alarms bringing additional equipment from Brooklyn. Nearly 500 firemen fought the blaze.

The coordinated sweep was the second in about seven weeks. A federal dragnet Sept. 28 resulted in 123 arrests.

Agents were looking for gamblers suspected of failing to pay one or more of three taxes: a $50 occupational tax all gamblers must pay; a $250 levy on coin-operated gambling devices, such as slot machines and a tax of 10 per cent on gross gambling revenue.

First reports reaching Internal Revenue headquarters listed five persons arrested in New York City — two in Manhattan, two in Brooklyn, and one in the Astoria section of Queens. Agents in New York seized cash totaling $1,831 and two cars.

The West Monroe Kiwanians were entertained and instructed at their noon session the past week when Dan Davis, foreman on the construction, told the club members of the progress made thus far on the new bridge over the Ouachita here. He said that the construction is about seven weeks behind schedule but that it should be finished in 13 months from the present time.

DAVIS TO SPEAK

Plans Completed For Rights Rally

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, U. S. Rep. Otto Passman and Frank Voolker, chairman of the state sovereignty commission, will speak at a huge rally here Tuesday that may determine the fate of north Louisiana in the state - federal government crisis.

Several thousand officials and residents of the Fifth Congressional District are slated to attend the 8 p.m. state sovereignty rally at Neville High School. It is expected to be the largest mass meeting ever held in the northern part of the state.

"It will show Gov. Davis that north Louisiana is offering to support him in this crisis, and most important, it will show him and the rest of the state that we don't have a mayor like Chep Morrison (New Orleans Mayor) or a school board like the one in New Orleans," said Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard of Monroe, at a meeting held Friday to plan for the all - out demonstration.

"The psychological effect of a united front will have great bearing on what happens in this part of the state," he forecast.

The rally follows eight days after federal court orders were carried out to integrate two New Orleans public schools. Morrison took no action to maintain school segregation on that date. Orleans school board members ignored a state - wide school holiday and kept schools open to allow the integration, and New Orleans police since have used force against city residents who protested the violation of state laws.

"What you give now you will never get back," warned Ouachita Bailey Grant, who attended yesterday's meeting of local leaders in the Monroe Chamber of Commerce office.

All mayors, legislators, sheriffs, school board officials, district attorneys, principals and teachers, city commissioners, Farm Bureau members, police jury officers and members, college officials, Civic organizations, and residents from

Congo Expels Ghana Staff Of Diplomats

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Determined to maintain his strongman role in the Congo, Col. Joseph Mobutu Friday ordered the entire diplomatic staff of Ghana to get out of the country by Monday. The United Nations command said it could not interfere.

The chief target of Mobutu's anger is Nathaniel Welbeck, Ghanian charge d'affaires who has openly acted as political adviser to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. Mobutu is prevented from arresting Lumumba only by a U. N. guard posted around the ex-premier's villa.

WARFARE SPREADS

The development came as the United Nations found itself dangerously enmeshed in pitiless tribal warfare in secessionist Katanga Province. There, the fierce Baluba tribesmen loyal to Lumumba spread to south Katanga and the United Nations was forced to throw in heavy reinforcements.

The feud of Mobutu and his pro-Western supporters with the Ghana diplomats is of long standing and broke into the open early in October.

Only Tuesday night, Mobutu's soldiers arrested Lovelace Mensah, third secretary of Ghana's embassy. He was accused of trying to take money and plans for an invasion of Katanga to Lumumba. Katanga President Moise Tshombe is an old foe of Lumumba. Welbeck at the time called the accusation a fabrication.

Mobutu's ally, President Joseph Kasavubu, had declared Welbeck persona non grata—unacceptable—last month. But Welbeck appealed to the United Nations and stayed on, guarded in his residence and embassy by Ghana troops.

The U. N. Command at that time told Kasavubu and Mobutu it would not permit the forcible expulsion of the Ghanian diplomats.

Now, without explanation, the command has switched positions. Western diplomats speculated that it was due to Kasavubu's effective appearance at the U. N. General Assembly in New York.

Brig. Indar Jit Rikhye of India, acting head of the U. N. mission, said the United Nations cannot prevent Welbeck's ouster because it was the president who declared him unacceptable.

Chicago Crime Chief Gets Six Years and Fine

CHICAGO (AP) — Anthony J. (Tony) Accardo, who reputedly succeeded his old boss Al Capone as chief of the Chicago crime syndicate, was sentenced to six years in prison Friday on an income tax charge.

Capone's former bodyguard who now lives in a swank, suburban mansion, was sentenced by U.S. Dist. Judge Julius Hoffman on charges similar to those which put away his boss — false income tax reporting.

Accardo, also fined $15,000, heard the sentence without revealing any emotion.

Later, as he was being led to an elevator by deputy U.S. marshals, Accardo snapped, "Keep your hands off me. I can walk by myself."

Accardo, 54, was found guilty Nov. 11 of falsely claiming a $3,993 reduction for maintenance expenses of his red sports car during the period from 1956 to 1958. The reputed crime czar claimed he was a $65,000-a-year beer salesman and used the car in his promotion and sales efforts.

Government prosecutors contended that Accardo used his position with the Premium Beer Sales Corp., of Chicago, as a cover-up for, income from rackets and gambling.

Fair And Mild Expected Today

The weather outlook for Monroe and vicinity is for a fair to partly cloudy day with partly cloudy skies tonight.

Sunday is expected to be partly cloudy with scattered showers and turning cooler, the official forecast says.

The high temperature expected today will be about 70 degrees. Tonight's low will be around 42.

Yesterday's high temperature at Selman Field was 70 degrees.

Gov. Talmadge Silent On Bolt

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., kept a tight lip Friday about whether Georgia's Democratic electors might bolt the national ticket if such action would block the election of John Kennedy.

Talmadge declined to give Mississippi's unpledged electors, who hope to keep both parties from getting a majority in the electoral college, any encouragement about Georgia.

"I'm not an elector," he told a news conference.

Kennedy now has 300 electoral votes, counting 27 from Illinois. If he should lose Illinois in a recount, a Georgia bolt would cut his total below the 269 needed for election.

Talmadge declined to predict what the Georgia electors would do.

U.S. CONGRESSMAN Otto Passman of Monroe, speaks to a joint session of the Louisiana legislators in Baton Rouge Friday. Passman told the legislators that federal penetration of public schools sooner or later would produce robots "in accordance with Washington blueprints". "You and I know", he said, "we cannot allow Washington to get a foot in the door of our schools". (AP Wirephoto)

IN SCHOOL CRISIS

Legislators Ask End Of Violence

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Legislature, calling for a halt in New Orleans violence and calming its own anger, went home Friday until next Wednesday at noon.

But members voted they were ready to rush back at any moment, should Senate and House presiding officers sound a quick new battlecry for action in the school integration crisis.

The House passed 96-0 and sent back to the Senate a sharply revised Senate concurrent resolution, which now simply echoes Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' words in appealing to the people of New Orleans for cool heads. Senators will act on it when they return.

JUDGE STIRS IRE

Three fast restraining orders against the legislature by U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright had stirred the legislature to emotional outbursts.

In a joint session Friday, U. S. Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe told the attentive legislators public apathy and shameful political expediency were responsible for a current trend toward a strong federal government.

But he warned federal penetra-

Passman Sure Position Safe On Committee

U.S. Rep. Otto E. Passman Friday said he does not believe House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas will yield to pressure from a faction of pro-Kennedy northern Democrats and strip him and four other veteran Southern congressmen of posts of legislative power.

In addition to Passman, those under fire are Rep. William M. Colmer, 70, Pascagoula, Miss.; Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, 50, Charleston, Miss.; Rep. John Bell Williams, 51, Raymond, Miss.; and Rep. Arthur Winstead, 56, of Philadelphia, Miss.

All are accused of campaigning against the election of President-designate Kennedy. The pro-Kennedy northern faction contends the object of the purge would be to increase chances of enactment of Kennedy's legislative program.

STATEMENT

Passman, in Baton Rouge, issued the following statement on the situation:

CLARK GABLE

Military Rites Set For Top Film Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Air Force will conduct private funeral services with full military honors for Clark Gable Saturday, his studio announced Friday.

Pallbearers will include Spencer Tracy, James Stewart and Robert Taylor.

The screen's top star, who died Wednesday night at 59 of a second heart attack within 10 days, served in the Army Air Corps in World War II.

Quietly enlisting as a private, Gable attended officer's candidate school, earned his wings as a gunner, and in Europe won the Air Medal for exceptionally meritorious achievement in five combat bomber missions. He was discharged a major.

Air Force Secreary Dudley Sharp has appointed Lt. Col. James D. Hunter to represent him at the funeral at 9 a.m. Saturday, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer said. The rites will be in the Church of the Recessional, Forest Lawn Memorial Park at nearby Glendale, with Chaplain Johnson E. West of March Air Force Base officiating.

There will be a troop escort including a three-man color guard, 10 airmen and a troop commander from the air base near Riverside, 50 miles east of here.

Gable's body will be entombed in a crypt beside that of the third of his five wives, actress Carole Lombard, who died in a Nevada plane crash in 1942 while returning from a war bond-selling tour.

Gable's widow, the former Kay Williams Spreckels, who is five months pregnant with his first child, approved the plan for entombment. Another crypt adjoining Gable's has been reserved for her.

Panel Takes Case Under Advisement

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS — Louisiana's integration crisis reached an impasse here Friday when a three-judge court declined to rule immediately on a request for renewed school segregation.

The panel, instead, took the case under advisement and will announce a decision at a later date. No indication was given yesterday as to when this might be.

The Orleans Parish School Board closed public schools here next week and the Legislature, under immunity at the capitol, recessed until Wednesday.

At a packed, tense courtroom, Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion filed an interposition suit on behalf of the state, declaring that Louisiana will not recognize federal orders to intergrate.

The three - judge court, which included Judge J. Skelly Wright, received motions on three major cases pertaining to the integration issue, then announced it would recess subject to call.

Gremillion asked the jurists to dismiss all three legal actions against Louisiana, including Wright's restraining orders against numerous state officials, plus the Legislature.

Meanwhile, the city, scene of near - violence during the week, remained calm, but the white boycott of the two integrated schools increased.

Only pupils at McDonogh No. 19 were the three Negro pupils permitted to enroll under Wright's orders. Only one white student attended William Frantz.

Judge Richard T. Rives, Chief Justice of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, of Montgomery, Ala., presided over the hearing with Wright and Judge Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans on

Three Firemen Perish As Six Buildings Burn

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular blaze visible for miles roared through six Lower Manhattan buildings Friday night, killing three firemen who were trapped in a basement.

The three were declared dead after they were taken to a hospital.

Five firemen were trapped in the basement of a five-story brick loft building in which the fire started. But two were quickly pulled to safety up through a blazing stairway. It was nearly four hours before the other three were pulled out.

The fire started in a loft building at Broadway and Grand Street in an area infamous for some of New York's dealiest fire disasters.

Within two hours, it had fanned out to five other buildings. Fire fighters in time restricted the flames to two of the buildings, both about 100 years old.

The building in which the fire started houses several wholesale textile firms. Jacob Kra, owner of a wholesale lace shop on the building's ground floor, was inside with several employes when he smelled smoke. They rushed outside and an alarm was sounded.

Eventually, nine alarms were out. After five alarms were sounded, a borough call automatically went out with four more alarms bringing additional equipment from Brooklyn. Nearly 500 firemen fought the blaze.

Soviets Building Powerful Armed Forces In Cuba

the Communist bloc for arms.

The State Department said 12 Soviet ships have delivered arms and ammunition to Cuba since July 14 and "total Soviet bloc arms provided to the Castro government amount to at least 28,000 tons."

The latest Russian ship to unload arms for Castro was the PSOW, which delivered about 6,000 tons at the port of Preston Nov. 7, the department said in a statement.

Castro now has enough small arms to equip the Cuban militia, totaling "more than 200,000 persons," with late model weapons and also possesses "large quantities of heavy equipment of a variety of types," the department said.

"The tempo of arms deliveries to Cuba has stepped up noticeably" since the August meeting in Costa Rica at which the foreign ministers of the other American republics condemned Soviet and other Communist intervention in hemisphere affairs, it said.

The State Department issued a tabulation "compiled from a number of sources which are considered reliable "showing that Castro has purchased Soviet tanks, and MIG fighters, helicopters and more than 100,000 automatic rifles and machine guns in recent months.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said Cuban purchases in the Soviet bloc were continuing and no end appeared to be in sight.

The department condemned the action of Soviet bloc nations "principally the U.S.S.R. and Czechoslovakia," in contributing to "Caribbean tensions by burdening the Cuban economy with excessive arms and by supporting the aggressive policies of the Cuban prime minister."

The department said that since Castro came to power 23 months ago Cuba "has created an armed military force 10 times the size of that of ex-President Fulgencio Batista and far larger than any army in Latin America."

The department did not make available immediately the size of the regular army, which is in addition to the "more than 200,000" listed for the Cuban militia.

Officials said Eisenhower's announcement on deployment of the U.S. ships was designed to alert Castro and his sympathizers that this country was ready to move swiftly to counter any aggression.

While the President's announcement was made Thursday, actual deployment of the vessels began last weekend. At the time, Guatemala and Nicaragua were battling local revolutions and told the United States they feared Castro would come to the aid of the rebels.

U.S. officials could not verify this through intelligence information, but the administration felt it could not take the risk that Castro would send reinforcements.

At first the State Department hoped the Navy could begin reconnaissance patrols without any public announcement. But then Guatemala disclosed that it had asked the United States for help.

The decision to announce the policy and use it as a diplomatic weapon was made at the vacation White House at Augusta, Ga., Thursday with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. present.

Guatemala and Nicaragua already had just about crushed their revolts. The administration apparently does not now expect a Cuban invasion of either country, but it was not so certain when the warships were first sent to the area.

In addition, officials have been concerned about shipments of war equipment from Russia and China to Cuba. They fear that Castro might try to extend his revolution throughout the Caribbean.

In Augusta, the White House brushed aside Cuban and Moscow charges that the U.S. action was "provocative." Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty merely noted the similarity of the protests from the two countries.

Cuba's official newspaper, La Calle, termed the U. S. action "Yankee military intervention." Moscow radio said "the new U.S. military demonstration is of an obviously provocative nature."

The Navy emphasized its vessels would take no action in the area without specific instructions from Washington. A spokesman said that "in suspicious circumstances, we would report back to Washington and await further instructions."

Dixie Electors Urged To Upset Recent Election

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The Mobile Press-Register, Inc., publisher of two daily newspapers, launched an editorial campaign Friday urging Southern presidential electors to band together and upset results of the recent election.

Both papers urged Dixie electors to seize the opportunity presented by the close presidential contest to force the race into the House of Representatives where a further fight to preserve segregation could be waged.

The Press, an afternoon newspaper, published an article by chief editorial writer C. E. Mathews, saying "federal efforts to force racial mixing in New Orleans and the resultant violence should be enough to preceipitate a revolt of all Southern presidential electors against the candidates of both national parties."

The Register, the morning newspaper, followed with a similar editorial saying "there should be no indecision by any southerner in a choice between slavish goose-stepping in partisan politics and defending southern school children against federal enslavement in racial integration."

The rally is slated to be held in Neville Auditorium. If there is an overflow crowd, it will be moved to the Neville Stadium, which holds 4000.

It will last for about one and one - half hours.

"The state legislators are under terrific pressure," said Howard. "They need all the support and help they can get. The governor needs a show of strength to show we're backing his position."

Davis and the state legislature are fighting to maintain Louisiana's rights, one of which is to be in charge of its public schools.

Grant, present at the meeting of parish and city officials to plan the rally, said that state Superintendent of Education Shelby M. Jackson and the legislators are concerned that they may be jailed in the crisis.

"They're fighting our battle," he said, and urged all - out support of the rally.

Van Odom, superintendent of Monroe City schools, said that he has invited all city school system employees, including teachers, to attend.

Neville's band will play from 7:30 to 7:55, immediately before the rally starts.

Officials who attended the planning session included West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris, Monroe school board member and bank official Grayson Guthrie, Howard Griffin, Monroe businessman and Chamber official, James W. Moore, Ollie Bales of station KUZN, O. W. Brown, David I. Garrett Jr., Farm Bureau leader Fred Huenefeld Jr., Slim Scogin, Monroe businessman, Ouachita school board member Fred McVay, George Rorex, Ouachita school board member and bank official, President George T. Walker of Northeast Louisiana State college, Monroe Police Chief James C. Kelly, Mayor Howard, Odom and Grant, as well as representatives from newspapers, radios and a television station.

Following that session, Howard conducted another meeting at 5 p. m. at city hall, with about 40 district representatives, to finalize plans for the rally.

Legislators Ask End Of Violence

tion of public schools in the individual states sooner or later would produce "robots in accordance with Washington blueprints."

"You and I know," Passman asserted, "we cannot allow Washington to get a foot in the door or our schools."

U. S. Rep. John Garrett, powerful chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation asked passage of the resolution deploring violence in New Orleans.

He asserted the legislature should neither condone violence nor condemn peaceful demonstrations. The legislature has previously urged white parents to keep their children out of integrated schools.

Passman, Fifth District congressman, won applause when he told the lawmakers what they wanted to hear from all the Louisiana delegation — He was solidly with them in their struggle to hold the line against school integration.

"If any federal judge should knowingly and willfully take actions in violation of the Constitution, then certainly I would have no alternative but to vote for his impeachment," Passman said. That got applause.

Passman was granted the privilege of addressing the joint session because he was unable to appear when five other congressmen, headed by U. S. Sen. Russell Long, spoke Wednesday.

The legislature, unanimously, adopted a resolution commending State Education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson for "faithfully performing" his public duties when he called a statewide school holiday last Monday when four Negro girls were escorted by federal deputy marshals to two white schools.

Jackson was cited by the federal court for contempt. The resolution said the legislature was "deeply incensed at the citation for contempt."

The House passed 92-1 and sent to the Senate the $420,000 appropriation bill for expenses of the 30-day special session.

The legislature more or less began to mark time, pending final outcome of the big legal arguments in New Orleans. Gov. Davis' leaders and their segregation colleagues, working together, will call the tune for the next moves. They apparently can count on overwhelming vote strength for any direction they take.

Rep. T. T. Fields, Union Parish, chairman of the House Judiciary B Committee, called off a hearing on a bill designed to clamp down on any police interference in the legislature's segregation efforts.

"There are several issues to be tried in court, we'd like to hear the outcome before this committee meets," he said. The committee agreed unanimously.

Gov. Davis, in his inauguration speech May 10, had pledged keeping segregation without compromise and without violence.

The House - passed resolution echoed his words voiced Wednesday when he urged the people of New Orleans "to keep cool heads amid the emotional strain" and "do not do anything you might be sorry about later."

Rep. Wellborn Jack, Caddo Parish, a segregation leader, said "we want the people down there to know they have a right to peacefully demonstrate," and he added, "everyone knows we are all against violence."

In the Senate, emotions subsided amid promises of a shrimp boil and a deer and elk barbecue dinner.

Sen. French Jordan of Gretna promised the barbecue, at Houma, because "after so much peace and harmony oefore this session—I figure we are entitled to something tender. After all, we have tender feelings for each other."

Sen. A. O. Rappelet, Galliano, promised the shrimp party while Sen. Michael O'Keefe, New Orleans, suggested "let's all kiss and make up."

Hospital Ward Closed After Mystery Death

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (UPI)—Officials of Mount Clemens General Hospital closed the hospital's maternity ward Friday while they sought to trace the cause of an outbreak of a mysterious "meningitis-like" disease.

Mrs. Katherine Verscheuren, 33, Mount Clemens, died of the disease at the hospital Friday morning. Three other mothers afflicted with it were reported recovering.

Vote Checks Due In Eight States

the move — an Associated Press check with GOP officials in 11 states, including the eight now to be given special attention, turned up little disposition to press for recounts.

A week ago, Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton asked for reports from GOP organizations in those 11 states. At that time, he called for a look into what he said were purported vote frauds and urged whatever follow-up action was indicated.

There was no mention in Friday's announcement that Morton took part in the Hall-Finch-Scribner decision to conduct on-the-spot checks in the eight states.

In Illinois — 27 electoral votes — Kennedy won by a little more than 6,000 votes. Republicans in Cook County — Chicago — are planning a recount there. The Democratic presidential candidate polled a big enough plurality in Cook County to overcome a heavy downstate deficit.

In addition to Illinois and New Jersey, the other six states to undergo a searching GOP inquiry gave these pluralities to Kennedy (with their electoral votes in parentheses

Texas (24) — 45,264, Missouri (13) — 9,299, New Mexico (4) — 2,477, Nevada (3) — 2n379, South Carolina (8) — 8,139, and Pennsylvania (32) — 130,158. A few votes still were out in Nevada and Pennsylvania.

26th Of July Dissidents Give Castro Warning

HAVANA (UPI) — Members of Fidel Castro's 26th of July movement, who have broken with it because of pro-Communist policies, warned him Friday that his days are numbered.

The warning, issued by the underground "action and sabotage" section of the dissident group, was emphasized by two bomb explosions in greater Havana and a gasoline-bomb attack on a government vehicle.

"As of now you are not going to be able to sleep in peace because we are not going to let you," a mimeographed bulletin of the "movement for revolutionary recuperation" told Castro.

One bomb explosion was in downtown Havana and the other across the bay at suburban Regla. The city explosion caused considerable damage to the Los Precios Fijos department store and a shoe shop.

A "Molotov cocktail" (gasoline-filled bomb) was thrown into a parked government jeep which burned before firemen could reach the scene.

The bulletin accused Castro of "selling out to the Soviet" and said the premier's followers no longer could call themselves "revolutionaries."

'Storm Cellar' Is Suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two scientists suggested Friday that it might be necessary to build a small "storm cellar" into the three-man spacecraft scheduled to fly around the moon and back in the late 1960s, as protection against solar flare radiation.

Beams of charged particles from unpredictable solar eruptions, like the three huge explosions which occurred Nov. 10, 12, and 15, are among the most serious hazards of space travel.

The suggestion for a shielded storm cellar was made in Science Weekly magazine of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, by Dr. Homer E. Newell and Dr. John E. Naugle of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

They suggested that perhaps only enough general shielding should be built into the whole spacecraft to take care of normal radiation hazards in space. The small "storm cellar," more heavily shielded than the rest of the craft, would serve as a refuge in the vent of unexpected solar flares.

Dixie Electors Urged To Upset Recent Election

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The Mobile Press-Register, Inc., publisher of two daily newspapers, launched an editorial campaign Friday urging Southern presidential electors to band together and upset results of the recent election.

Both papers urged Dixie electors to seize the opportunity presented by the close presidential contest to force the race into the House of Representatives where a further fight to preserve segregation could be waged.

The Press, an afternoon newspaper, published an article by chief editorial writer C. E. Mathews, saying "federal efforts to force racial mixing in New Orleans and the resultant violence should be enough to precipitate a revolt of all Southern presidential electors against the candidates of both national parties."

The Register, the morning newspaper, followed with a similar editorial saying "there should be no indecision by any southerner in a choice between slavish goose-stepping in partisan politics and defending southern school children against federal enslavement in racial integration."

throughout the 14 parishes in the Fifth District are invited.

The rally is slated to be held in Neville Auditorium. If there is an overflow crowd, it will be moved to the Neville Stadium, which holds 4000.

It will last for about one and one - half hours.

"The state legislators are under terrific pressure," said Howard. "They need all the support and help they can get. The governor needs a show of strength to show we're backing his position."

Davis and the state legislature are fighting to maintain Louisiana's rights, one of which is to be in charge of its public schools.

Grant, present at the meeting of parish and city officials to plan the rally, said that state Superintendent of Education Shelby M. Jackson and the legislators are concerned that they may be jailed in the crisis.

"They're fighting our battle," he said, and urged all - out support of the rally.

Van Odom, superintendent of Monroe City schools, said that he has invited all city school system employees, including teachers, to attend.

Neville's band will play from 7:30 to 7:55, immediately before the rally starts.

Officials who attended the planning session included West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris, Monroe school board member and bank official Grayson Guthrie, Howard Griffin, Monroe businessman and Chamber official, James W. Moore, Ollie Bales of station KUZN, O. W. Brown, David I. Garrett Jr., Farm Bureau leader Fred Huenefeld Jr., Slim Scogin, Monroe businessman, Ouachita school board member Fred McVay, George Rorex, Ouachita school board member and bank official, President George T. Walker of Northeast Louisiana State college, Monroe Police Chief James C. Kelly, Mayor Howard, Odom and Grant, as well as representatives from newspapers, radios and a television station.

Following that session, Howard conducted another meeting at 5 p. m. at city hall, with about 40 district representatives, to finalize plans for the rally.

Vote Checks Due In Eight States

the move — an Associated Press check with GOP officials in 11 states, including the eight now to be given special attention, turned up little disposition to press for recounts.

A week ago, Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton asked for reports from GOP organizations in those 11 states. At that time, he called for a look into what he said were purported vote frauds and urged whatever follow-up action was indicated.

There was no mention in Friday's announcement that Morton took part in the Hall-Finch-Scribner decision to conduct on-the-spot checks in the eight states.

In Illinois — 27 electoral votes — Kennedy won by a little more than 6,000 votes. Republicans in Cook County — Chicago — are planning a recount there. The Democratic presidential candidate polled a big enough plurality in Cook County to overcome a heavy downstate deficit.

In addition to Illinois and New Jersey, the other six states to undergo a searching GOP inquiry gave these pluralities to Kennedy (with their electoral votes in parentheses

Texas (24) — 45,264, Missouri (13) — 9,299, New Mexico (4) — 2,477, Nevada (3) — 2n379, South Carolina (8) — 8,139, and Pennsylvania (32) — 130,158. A few votes still were out in Nevada and Pennsylvania.

26th Of July Dissidents Give Castro Warning

HAVANA (UPI) — Members of Fidel Castro's 26th of July movement, who have broken with it because of pro-Communist policies, warned him Friday that his days are numbered.

The warning, issued by the underground "action and sabotage" section of the dissident group, was emphasized by two bomb explosions in greater Havana and a gasoline-bomb attack on a government vehicle.

"As of now you are not going to be able to sleep in peace because we are not going to let you," a mimeographed bulletin of the "movement for revolutionary recuperation" told Castro.

One bomb explosion was in downtown Havana and the other across the bay at suburban Regla. The city explosion caused considerable damage to the Los Precios Fijos department store and a shoe shop.

A "Molotov cocktail" (gasoline-filled bomb) was thrown into a parked government jeep which burned before firemen could reach the scene.

The bulletin accused Castro of "selling out to the Soviet" and said the premier's followers no longer could call themselves "revolutionaries."

'Storm Cellar' Is Suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two scientists suggested Friday that it might be necessary to build a small "storm cellar" into the three-man spacecraft scheduled to fly around the moon and back in the late 1960s, as protection against solar flare radiation.

Beams of charged particles from unpredictable solar eruptions, like the three huge explosions which occurred Nov. 10, 12, and 15, are among the most serious hazards of space travel.

The suggestion for a shielded storm cellar was made in Science Weekly magazine of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, by Dr. Homer E. Newell and Dr. John E. Naugle of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

They suggested that perhaps only enough general shielding should be built into the whole spacecraft to take care of normal radiation hazards in space. The small "storm cellar," more heavily shielded than the rest of the craft, would serve as a refuge in the vent of unexpected solar flares.

Legislators Ask End Of Violence

tion of public schools in the individual states sooner or later would produce "robots in accordance with Washington blueprints."

"You and I know," Passman asserted, "we cannot allow Washington to get a foot in the door or our schools."

U. S. Rep. John Garrett, powerful chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation asked passage of the resolution deploring violence in New Orleans.

He asserted the legislature should neither condone violence nor condemn peaceful demonstrations. The legislature has previously urged white parents to keep their children out of integrated schools.

Passman, Fifth District congressman, won applause when he told the lawmakers what they wanted to hear from all the Louisiana delegation — He was solidly with them in their struggle to hold the line against school integration.

"If any federal judge should knowingly and willfully take actions in violation of the Constitution, then certainly I would have no alternative but to vote for his impeachment," Passman said. That got applause.

Passman was granted the privilege of addressing the joint session because he was unable to appear when five other congressmen, headed by U. S. Sen. Russell Long, spoke Wednesday.

The legislature, unanimously, adopted a resolution commending State Education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson for "faithfully performing" his public duties when he called a statewide school holiday last Monday when four Negro girls were escorted by federal deputy marshals to two white schools.

Jackson was cited by the federal court for contempt. The resolution said the legislature was "deeply incensed at the citation for contempt."

The House passed 92-1 and sent to the Senate the $420,000 appropriation bill for expenses of the 30-day special session.

The legislature more or less began to mark time, pending final outcome of the big legal arguments in New Orleans. Gov. Davis' leaders and their segregation colleagues, working together, will call the tune for the next moves. They apparently can count on overwhelming vote strength for any direction they take.

Rep. T. T. Fields, Union Parish, chairman of the House Judiciary B Committee, called off a hearing on a bill designed to clamp down on any police interference in the legislature's segregation efforts.

"There are several issues to be tried in court, we'd like to hear the outcome before this committee meets," he said. The committee agreed unanimously.

Gov. Davis, in his inauguration speech May 10, had pledged keeping segregation without compromise and without violence.

The House - passed resolution echoed his words voiced Wednesday when he urged the people of New Orleans "to keep cool heads amid the emotional strain" and "do not do anything you might be sorry about later."

Rep. Wellborn Jack, Caddo Parish, a segregation leader, said "we want the people down there to know they have a right to peacefully demonstrate," and he added, "everyone knows we are all against violence."

In the Senate, emotions subsided amid promises of a shrimp boil and a deer and elk barbecue dinner.

Sen. French Jordan of Gretna promised the barbecue, at Houma, because "after so much peace and harmony oefore this session—I figure we are entitled to something tender. After all, we have tender feelings for each other."

Sen. A. O. Rappelet, Galliano, promised the shrimp party while Sen. Michael O'Keefe, New Orleans, suggested "let's all kiss and make up."

Hospital Ward Closed After Mystery Death

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (UPI)—Officials of Mount Clemens General Hospital closed the hospital's maternity ward Friday while they sought to trace the cause of an outbreak of a mysterious "meningitis-like" disease.

Mrs. Katherine Verscheuren, 33, Mount Clemens, died of the disease at the hospital Friday morning. Three other mothers afflicted with it were reported recovering.

Woman Fined For Opening Wrong Door

A Fairbanks woman received a $5 suspended fine in Monroe City Court yesterday for opening a car door into traffic.

Florence Clarke had opened her door on the traffic side of the street on Jackson and a City of Monroe bus hit the door, then hit a parked car, a parking meter and a utility pole.

Judge W. M. Harper told her that few people follow the rule that you cannot open a door on the traffic side in the path of an oncoming vehicle.

Until a situation such as this arises, the judge said, the rule is seldom enforced, even though it is made for the protection of people.

Harper also sentenced a Negro man to six months compulsory jail sentence, plus $400 in fines.

The Negro, Jessie James Boyd of Hipp Marks Alley, was charged with theft of a .22 pistol and carrying a concealed weapon, a knife. He was fined $100 and costs on the weapons charge and $300 and costs plus the six months compulsory sentence on the theft charge.

The judge also sentenced a white man to a six months compulsory jail sentence on a theft charge. Clarence White of 411 Seventh St. was charged with the theft of a rifle, radio and tools valued at $75.

In another case in court, Lavalle Young of route one, Calhoun, was required to pay his former landlord $12.10 and a $10 court costs. Young was charged with battery on the man and owed him $5 for rent and $7.10 for utilities, which the judge made him pay.

Two men were fined $25 and costs of court on charges of public drunkenness. They were Lonnie Bridges of Calhoun and a Negro, Annais Williams of 615 Layton St.

James Cutright of 2022 Filhoil was fined $25 and court costs for public drunkenness.

The rest of court was taken up with traffic cases, which included eight reckless driving cases, eight speeding cases, seven overparking fines, and 10 other traffic violations.

Forfeiting bonds for speeding were Barbara F. Bratton, 502 Roselawn; Babby Caldwell, Crowville; Mable Hemphill, 1302 Emerson St.; Frances Mooreman, 109 Height St.; Razz Williams, Negro of 33 BFoster Homes; Lawrence D. Kulicke, 1500 South Third St. and Lois P. Landry, 500 Cole St. A warrant was issued for Harrison Killens when he failed to answer his summons for speeding.

Forfeiting fines for reckless driving were Peggy Hammonds, 319 Oakland Dr.; Elnoka S. Jackson, 714 Adams St.; Thomas Minor, 2622½ DeSiard St.; Lela B. Robinson, Negro of 2011 Conover St.; J. W. DeMoss Jr., 801 Standifer St. and William Lee Smith. Minor was also charged with driving without state driver's license. Ernest Alexandria, Negro of 707 Goldman St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving. Fined for following too close in traffic was Robert H. Hammons of 4119½ DeSiard St. and Charlie T. Walker of 703 McCain Drive was fined for running a red light.

Fined in other traffic violations were Ernest Grandberry, 816 Atkinson St.; George Mott; and charges against Oseo J. Wicks of 111 Catherine Av. were nolle prossed.

State To Open Highway Bids

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Bids will be received here Nov. 30 by the State Highway Department on proposed construction of 13 new road improvement projects.

Highway Director Ray W. Burgess said Friday the projects call for improving 58 miles of state maintained highways and will cost an estimated 12 million dollars.

Two major projects on which bids will be received, Burgess said, include 11.4 miles of interstate highway near Lake Charles.

Contractors will bid on this Interstate-10 project in two separate sections, including a 5.6 mile section from the east end of the U. S. Highway 171 interchange east of Chloe, and on a 5.8 mile section from Chloe to the junction with U. S. 165.

Burgess said other projects will be located in Acadia, Calcasieu, DeSoto, Evangeline, St. Landry, Iberia, Jefferson, Lafourche, Livingston, Pointe Coupee and Terrebonne parishes.

Negro Reported To Be Missing

Monroe police Friday reported they have been requested to help find a missing Negro youth.

The youth was identified as James Ray Williams, 10, of slender build, about 80 pounds, five feet tall, light-skinned, wearing a short-sleeved shirt and blue jeans.

Air Force Staff Chief Grounded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff who has been a pilot for more than 35 years has been grounded.

In military parlance, the 59-year-old general will be "excused" from light duty after Jan. 1.

White is one of 237 Air Force generals who no longer will be required to fly four hours a month to keep up their flying proficiency. They will continue to draw flight pay, however.

Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, the famed bomber general tho is now 54 and vice chief of staff, will remain on flying status. Lemay continues to fly far more hours monthly than the minimum.

White and other top generals are being "excused" from flying to make room for more pilots in the low ranks. This is necessary, it was said, so the service can stay within a limit of 70,620 officers on flying status.

Congress authorized such action some years ago to make way for younger pilots. Continuing flight pay for the 20-year men was designed to compensate them for the much lower pay they received in their early service years.

White will continue to draw $165 a month flight pay, in addition to his base pay of $1,700 a month.

No Socialistic Farming

Any idea held by President-elect John F. Kennedy, prior to the election, that the farmers wanted a more socialistic, more federally-supervised farm program surely must have been dissipated by the election results. Except for the traditionally Democratic south, the states in the big farm belt went almost solidly for Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, reflecting approval of the government's movement away from rigid farm control.

Farmers, including those in the south, led by the American Farm Bureau Federation, have been calling for a program aimed at promoting greater world markets for their products. Instead of government payments for limiting production, they would rather see such payments made in behalf of leveling off the difference in prices paid in this country and in other countries so that American-produced farm commodities again could be placed in world-wide demand.

One of the bright spots in our foreign trade picture is the figures on farm exports. True, many of these have been subsidized and exported at a loss to the taxpayers, but they make the trade-balance picture look less bleak, as many lines of manufactured exports decline.

Efficient American farmers, if left alone, could produce a far greater amount for the world market and probably would be able to do it at world prices, without subsidies. The productive capacity of our farmers is so much higher than that of farmers elsewhere that it offsets the difference in living standards and costs and allows them to sell abroad at low prices.

High prices set by our farm program, which Kennedy had proposed to make even more rigid and more costly to the taxpayers, have caused a great increase in farming efforts abroad and foreign productivity is rising. As other nations become more enlightened and use more modern farming methods their productivity will go up still more. The future market for our products is not assured and if prices are kept artificially high, without any offsetting subsidies, the outlook is bleak.

A more expensive farm program, especially as related to decreased production, will make the situation worse. It will hurt our international trade balance by cutting down our farm exports. It will have a tendency to reduce the number of farmers because the lower the production the fewer farmers will be needed and, therefore, only those with good production quotas will be permitted to take part in the farming industry.

In reality, the concept of a rigged farm price scale to cover the costs of the least efficient producer is a national liability.

No economy can afford to let the marginal producer set its pace. Under a natural free-enterprise system the less efficient are automatically eliminated and diverted into other fields of endeavor or employment. Unfettered, American farmers can produce at a rate that will boost our farm exports tremendously, and retain our world markets.

While subsidization is contrary to the law of supply and demand, it is better than paying farmers for over-production of commodities which cannot be sold and then paying tremendous prices for storing those surpluses year after year and then eventually allowing the government to sell them abroad at huge losses.

Fettered, even the best of the farmers will become unwilling public charges, defeated in their life work and humiliated at their dependence upon and subservience to government dictation.

Particularly in view of the farmer voting, Kennedy would do well to overhaul his thinking on the farm problem, with a view to restoring the independence of the farmers and rebuilding world farm export trade.

Pressure Group Justice

The release of convicted atom spy David Greenglass has caused pressure groups for the release of Morton Sobell to move into high gear. There is an important difference in the two cases.

Both Greenglass and Sobell were tried and convicted in connection with the activities of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg who passed atomic secrets to the Russians.

Greenglass, a former U. S. Army sergeant, was recruited by his own wife to memorize vital atomic data which he passed to the Rosenbergs. This couple in turn passed the information on to Russia even before the first U. S. atom bomb was exploded.

Sobell, a radar expert, also passed information to Russia through the Rosenbergs. But Greenglass turned state's evidence while Sobell joined the Rosenbergs in denying guilt on the spy charges.

The Rosenbergs were executed in June, 1953, marking the first time spies were executed in the United States during peacetime. Greenglass was given the lightest sentence of any member of the ring, 15 years. Sobell was sentenced to 30 years and another defendent, Harry Gold, a Philadelphia biochemist, pleaded guilty and was sentenced from 8 to 30 years. Mrs. David Greenglass, who persuaded her husband to pass information to the Rosenbergs, was the only one directly or indirectly involved in the ring to go free.

Greenglass, who was the brother of Ethel Rosenberg, no longer seems popular with the communist "front" organizations. Perhaps this is because he was the man who gave vital testimony which broke up the Rosenberg spy ring.

But Morton Sobell's supporters, apparently led by his wife, have a new petition signed with 600 names urging President Eisenhower to free the tight-lipped spy.

Also the "Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" has announced plans for a weekend gathering in Washington, D. C., of people from all over the nation who are seeking Sobell's freedom.

In making the announcement relative to the new petition of Mrs. Sobell, the committee said 1,200 clergymen of different faiths had signed an appeal to President Eisenhower.

The committee said efforts will be made to have Sobell's sentence shortened in time for him to be released during the traditional Christmas amnesty period.

A Morton Sobell "freedom banquet" was also scheduled.

It is unfortunate but true that such left-wing pressure groups are able to exert a decisive influence on the highest courts in our land.

There is no reason to believe dismissing Morton Sobell who offered no help to the country would be just simply because he has served as much time behind bars as David Greenglass.

There is a pronounced difference in a person who offers evidence to the state and one who remains silent even though he knows he is working against his country by so doing.

Washington officials would do well to break up such functions as the weekend rally for Morton Sobell as acts of sedition or disorder.

Jessup Selection Opposed

Vigorous Part In Institute Of Pacific Relations Unfits Him For International Court Position

It is true that as the course of events moves, men grow wiser; they correct their errors of thought and decision. On the other hand, when the errors were of so serious a nature as to imperil their country, it is soundest to avoid trusting such persons not to be doctrinaire in their attitudes. Dr. Philip Jessup of Columbia University was at one time a vigorous activist in the Institute of Pacific Relations, chairman of its American Council, chairman of its international council and of its research committee. Now it is proposed that the same Philip Jessup be chosen as the American member of the International Court before whom questions may come concerning which Dr. Jessup's position must remain in doubt.

The institute, during the years when Dr. Jessup was most active in it, was under the domination of E. C. Carter and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, the latter an open Communist.

The record shows that Jessup had a very important voice in the Hot Springs Conference of the I.P.R. in January 1945. This conference was a prelude to the San Francisco Conference of the allied nations to organize the United Nations. Recommendations as to who should be delegates to the I.P.R. meeting came from Philip Jessup and Lauchlin Currie, the latter at that time being stationed in the White House. The McCarran Committee reports that:

". . . Of the approximately 30 recommendations by Jessup, 10 were identified by witnesses as being associated with the Communist organization."

The McCarran Committee states:

The material "shows how the leaders of the IPR and their advisers—Lattimore, Carter, Currie, Hiss, Vincent, Jessup, Field, and Fairbank—conducted their operations during the war. Through their influence in the White House, by reports from Foreign Service officers in the field, and through the Mission of the Vice President (Henry Wallace) to China, they sought to bring pressure to bear to undermine the Chinese government, and to exalt the status of the Chinese Communist party first to that of a recognized force, and then to that of a member of a coalition government."

The McCarran report also states:

"During this period Mr. Philip C. Jessup expressed to Admiral Cooke opposition to United States aid for the Nationalist government. General Chennault testified that he urged Jessup not to release the white paper as it would undermine the Nationalist government. The white paper was nevertheless released.

"Jessup acknowledged before the Foreign Relations Committee that he edited the white paper, which was released July 30, 1949 . . ."

Regarding Jessup's career, the McCarran Committee states:

". . . Jessup had had extensive experience in the Institute of Pacific Relations, but there is evidence that up to the time when he became active in the institute he had in no way specialized in Far Eastern policy . . ."

Also it is to be noted:

"The committee finds that the October 1949 conference held in the State Department, and presided over by Philip C. Jessup, is a clear instance in which persons associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations became conspicuously influential in shaping American foreign policy. In the opinion of the committee, the selection of personnel, the events at the conference and the subsequent developments established clearly influence of individuals associated with the IPR sought to exert on the foreign policy of the United States.

". . . On November 29, 1949, Philip C. Jessup told Admiral Cooke that we were going to furnish no more munitions to Nationalist China. On January 5, 1950, three months after the conference, President Truman announced that the United States had no intention of providing military aid to the Nationalists on Formosa and that Formosa should be returned to 'China' in accordance with the Cairo agreement."

Hypnotism Talk

Physician Says Doctor Can Be As Amateurish As Salesman

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What do you think of hypnotism? Mr. W.

ANSWER: Just how do you mean? Is there such a thing? Is it a fake? Is it of any use in medicine? Is it dangerous?

I could go on with questions and suppositions. What I think of it might take a book to answer; but, frankly, I don't know enough about it from practical experience to write a book. I can give you only a few personal reactions.

I know it isn't something newly discovered. It goes back many years to the time Mesmer practiced it and it was called Mesmerism. Then it fell into the hands of quacks and into disrepute. I hope it doesn't soon meet a similar fate.

I feel this is likely the more I see (and hear of) amateur hypnotists trying to put people under their spell. You can see it done as a parlor game. The other day a friend of mine told me that she had allowed her daughter of 15 to be hypnotized by a family friend who had just finished a half dozen lessons in the art of hypnosis. I told her she was foolish to allow such experiments on her child.

Later, I saw this same, enthusiastic hypnotist (so called) trying to put a grown woman "under" to cure her of the cigarette habit. He didn't like it when I told him to stick to selling cars and leave hypnotism where it belonged: in the trained hands of people licensed by law to treat their fellows.

Hypnotism is potentially a great and useful force. Well trained medical men (physicians and dentists) are finding it useful in the management of numerous ills.

It can be helpful in childbirth, dentistry, anesthesia, major and minior operations, and in some emotional disorders. But we don't have all the answers.

Even doctors should hesitate to use hypnotism unless they have acquired much experience and training. A doctor can be an amateur in the art as well as a car salesman or other layman!

As Dr. Harold Rosen, chairman of the American Medical Association's committee on hypnotism has said: "Whoever plays with hypnosis is playing with dynamite."

I don't know that I've answered any of the questions you had in mind, Mr. W. But I hope I've made you think twice before becoming a "hypnotist" — or allowing anyone to work his spell on you.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What are some medical conditions that would make you hesitate to get into a car with the driver involved? Mrs. D.

ANSWER: I guess none of us can live the sequestered, safe life. Just living is living dangerously. Especially during this age of speed and gadgets. Therefore, we can't expect all drivers of automobiles to be A1 physically and emotionally.

But I'd certainly feel apprehensive if I knew that the driver had suffered a coronary thrombosis only a few weeks previously; or if he had an untreated blood pressure over 250; or if he had untreated diabetes; or if he had been having recent spells of unconsciousness due to epilepsy; or if he was full of sedatives or tranquilizers of anti-allergy drugs that cause drowsiness; or if he had just had a terrible quarrel with his wife and was emotionally unstable.

You will notice that I mention a number of untreated conditions. The treated diabetic, epileptic, hypertensive, coronary, and glaucoma patient are as safe to be with as anyone else in the driver's seat. And that's what various states are rightly trying to pass laws about: that you have periodic health checkups for the safety of yourself and others.

EYE INFLAMMATION

Mrs. S. of Florida wants to know "What is conjunctivitis?"

ANSWER: As most people know, the "itis" after a long medical term means "inflammation." In this case it signifies that the lining of the eyes and eyelids has become inflamed.

The symptoms are redness, pain, watering, sensitiveness to light, itchiness and pus in the corners of the eye. It is sometimes called Pink Eye.

The cause is usually infection with such germs as staphylococci, streptocci and others. In such cases the treatment is use of the proper antibiotics — either locally, or given by mouth or needle.

If the inflammation is due to an allergy (as it often is), the treatment is removal of such irritants as dust, chemical fumes, cigarette smoke, etc., and giving anti-allergy drugs.

Whatever the cause, get to the bottom of it as fast as you can. The trick is not to allow the conjunctivitis to become chronic and stubborn.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Be a Happy Hypochondriac," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Tax Time Vital

'Charitable Deduction' Means Much More Than Many Believe

There's a lot more to the "charitable deduction" on your income tax return than most taxpayers realize — and that probably includes you, no matter how hep to tax savings you think you are. The fact that the contributions are deductible is by no means the whole story. Going far beyond this is the fact that contributions are deductible whether made in cash or property and you can save more by making a gift in one form than another. And businessmen particularly have a built-in tax break when they make contributions to charity in their own merchandise rather than in cash.

As Leon Gold, chief tax expert of the Research Institute of America, puts it, "Most investors know they get a tax break by contributing stocks or bonds which have gone up in value because they save taxes on the profits and also get a deduction for the full value of what they contribute. But most businessmen still don't know how favorable rules officially approved by the Treasury in 1958 can be to them if they give merchandise in charity."

The timing of this tax-savings report is vital, for in this pre-Thanksgiving, pre - Christmas period is when giving to charity reaches an annual peak. Here goes with the tale, therefore—and if this one doesn't directly affect you, Gold and I urge you to pass it on to a businessman or charity, for it can be so helpful all around . . .

Let's say you're head of the ABC store which sells some type of goods. You buy the goods at one price, sell at a higher price and the difference is your profit.

If you give some of your goods to a charity, you'll pay no tax on the difference between their cost and sales price, your potential profit. But when you give, you'll be able to claim a tax deduction for your contribution based on the sales price of the goods, not the lower cost to you of the goods.

You do not report as taxable income the difference between the sales price and cost. You do get a deduction for the full sales price — a two - way tax break that can add up to big-time savings.

For instance, say at this season your ABC store usually has given $1,000 in cash to local charities. Since your store is a corporation, the annual out-of-pocket cost has been $480. If you hadn't given the cash, under the 52 per cent corporate tax rate, you would have had to pay the remaining $520 to the government.

After reading this, say you decide to give the $1,000 in goods which cost you $600, but which under your usual mark-up policy are priced for sale at $1,000. We assume the charities can sell the goods immediately at your usual mark-up, so they're as well off, but what about you? Here is your vastly improved tax picture:

You have saved the same $520 in taxes you would have saved had you made the contribution in cash. But since the goods cost you only $600, your actual out-of-pocket cost is only $80 (the cost minus the $520 tax savings.)

You have contributed $1,000 at a net cost to you of $80 instead of $480 — enough of a savings to impress any one!

In brief: the tax savings opportunities open up where you have property worth more than it originally cost. When you contribute it, you take a deduction on your return for the Fair Market value of the property, not its cost — but simultaneously, you are not taxed on the difference between the cost and fair market value.

So, when feasible, make your contributions in your own merchandise — remembering that the fair market value of your merchandise is considered to be your lowest normal selling price to customers.

Claim as a charitable deduction on your return the selling price, not the cost price to you of the merchandise.

Don't Run Again

Vice President Is Urged Not To Seek Presidency In 1964

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Dear Mr. Vice President: Don't do it! After you went off to Florida on vacation, a couple of your brain-trusters called a press conference and launched a — you know what! Herb Klein, your press secretary, told us you had received thousands of telegrams expressing "affection," "admiration" and the conviction that you are a "great statesman." I'm sure you know what this is leading up to —but don't do it.

Bob Finch, your closest political adviser, wouldn't say, "We wuz robbed!", although many reporters were trying to needle him into it. But he wouldn't quite say, "We wuz not robbed," either. The recount is going ahead in the States where it's possible to show more Nixon votes. The chances are almost negligible for a Republican victory in the electoral college, but there is another wishing lamp that Finch is rubbing. He'd like to see Nixon win the popular vote. Already, there is intense Republican satisfaction that John Kennedy failed to get a total majority over Republicans and Independents. But if Nixon could claim to be the "people's choice" of 1960, the psychological impact would be impressive. You see what it's all working up to, Mr. Vice President — but don't do it.

Klein made it plain — or was it ambiguous? — that you would accept the verdict of the electoral college. Well, that's just fine. It's like the remark Carlyle made to a lady who said she'd take life as it is? "Madam, you'd better!" But the feeling of the Klein-Finch press conference was that a martyr was preparing to hitch-hike on a two-way street. If you "wuz robbed," there is still time to claim the election. If otherwise, you have a head start toward 1964 — but don't do it, Mr. Vice President, don't do it.

Don't do it for personal reasons. The very close popular vote is deceptive. To have run a near-dead heat against such a young, inexperienced, religiously handicapped Democrat on November 8th does not make you any more of a "statesman" than you were on November 7th. People expressing "affection" and "admiration" for a loser — a good loser, so far — are daffy sentimentalists for the most part. They are the ones who deceived poor Harold Stassen. They dragged the big pumpkin head, William Jennings Bryan, to the chopping block three times. They wore out the whiskey-drinking, card - playing, charming old man, Henry Clay, by teasing him four times with the hope of becoming President. Don't be like that!

And please, discourage this Nixon-in-'64 boom for another reason — a patriotic one. The Tilden-Hayes fiasco of 1876 is the one scandal on our presidential election record. To this day a majority of historians believe that Democrat, Samuel Tilden, won it — but that he was counted out with bayonets around the ballot boxes. The Republicans may have thought there was something to it, as they didn't run Rutherford Hayes for reelection. But the matter which could make 1960 in a rough way comparable with 1876 is that these are the only two occasions when a West Pointer, a professional soldier, has sat in the White House. General U. S. Grant, as commander in chief, was able to use military force in the Southern States where there were disputed ballots. Grant put Hayes in the White House. While it's not conceivable that General D. D. Eisenhower could use the same sort of power, let's not put the question to the test.

Don't be a candidate any more, Mr. Vice President. From Babe Ruth to Bonaparte, attempted come-backs have been disastrous. Don't be an office-seeker. Be a party leader. This is where you shine. You deserve credit for many of the twenty-odd House seats which the GOP regained this year. You presided over the Republican renaissance in the Midwest farm belt. At this writing it appears that one or both of the new States, Alaska and Hawaii, are Republican — a significant wave of the future.

But don't let your friends talk you into being one of those perennial candidates. Don't let your ambition or vanity misread the signs of 1960. Go to work. Make a lot of money for your family. Make speeches. Take trips. Help your party. But don't run again — or you'll be sorry.

Daily Meditation

A "happy ending" in literature is often more difficult to achieve than an interesting beginning. But the 150th and last Psalm provides this happy climax with a simple "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in His sanctuary." Of course, there are many methods by which praise may be given — by lives of rectitude and devotion, by service to mankind, by "tithes and offerings". But there is a never - failing weekly opportunity for going into the house of God for worship, prayer and meditation.

Father, may we be led into Thy courts on the morrow that we may worship and receive strength and inspiration. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

". . . Jessup had had extensive experience in the Institute of Pacific Relations, but there is evidence that up to the time when he became active in the institute he had in no way specialized in Far Eastern policy . . ."

Also it is to be noted:

"The committee finds that the October 1949 conference held in the State Department, and presided over by Philip C. Jessup, is a clear instance in which persons associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations became conspicously influential in shaping American foreign policy. In the opinion of the committee, the selection of personnel, the events at the conference and the subsequent developments established clearly influence of individuals associated with the IPR sought to exert on the foreign policy of the United States.

". . .On November 29, 1949, Philip C. Jessup told Admiral Cooke that we were going to furnish no more munitions to Nationalist China. On January 5, 1950, three months after the conference, President Truman announced that the United States had no intention of providing military aid to the Nationalists on Formosa and that Formosa should be returned to 'China' in accordance with the Cairo agreement."

Hypnotism Talk

Physician Says Doctor Can Be As Amateurish As Salesman

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What do you think of hypnotism? Mr. W.

ANSWER: Just how do you mean? Is there such a thing? Is it a fake? Is it of any use in medicine? Is it dangerous?

I could go on with questions and suppositions. What I think of it might take a book to answer; but, frankly, I don't know enough about it from practical experience to write a book. I can give you only a few personal reactions.

I know it isn't something newly discovered. It goes back many years to the time Mesmer practiced it and it was called Mesmerism. Then it fell into the hands of quacks and into disrepute. I hope it doesn't soon meet a similar fate.

I feel this is likely the more I see (and hear of) amateur hypnotists trying to put people under their spell. You can see it done as a parlor game. The other day a friend of mine told me that she had allowed her daughter of 15 to be hypnotized by a family friend who had just finished a half dozen lessons in the art of hypnosis. I told her she was foolish to allow such experiments on her child.

Later, I saw this same, enthusiastic hypnotist (so called) trying to put a grown woman "under" to cure her of the cigarette habit. He didn't like it when I told him to stick to selling cars and leave hypnotism where it belonged: in the trained hands of people licensed by law to treat their fellows.

Hypnotism is potentially a great and useful force. Well trained medical men (physicians and dentists) are finding it useful in the management of numerous ills.

It can be helpful in childbirth, dentistry, anesthesia, major and minior operations, and in some emotional disorders. But we don't have all the answers.

Even doctors should hesitate to use hypnotism unless they have acquired much experience and training. A doctor can be an amateur in the art as well as a car salesman or other layman!

As Dr. Harold Rosen, chairman of the American Medical Association's committee on hypnotism has said: "Whoever plays with hypnosis is playing with dynamite."

I don't know that I've answered any of the questions you had in mind, Mr. W. But I hope I've made you think twice before becoming a "hypnotist" — or allowing anyone to work his spell on you.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What are some medical conditions that would make you hesitate to get into a car with the driver involved? Mrs. D.

ANSWER: I guess none of us can live the sequestered, safe life. Just living is living dangerously. Especially during this age of speed and gadgets. Therefore, we can't expect all drivers of automobiles to be A1 physically and emotionally.

But I'd certainly feel apprehensive if I knew that the driver had suffered a coronary thrombosis only a few weeks previously; or if he had an untreated blood pressure over 250; or if he had untreated diabetes; or if he had been having recent spells of unconsciousness due to epilepsy; or if he was full of sedatives or tranquilizers of anti-allergy drugs that cause drowsiness; or if he had just had a terrible quarrel with his wife and was emotionally unstable.

You will notice that I mention a number of untreated conditions. The treated diabetic, epileptic, hypertensive, coronary, and glaucoma patient are as safe to be with as anyone else in the driver's seat. And that's what various states are rightly trying to pass laws about: that you have periodic health checkups for the safety of yourself and others.

EYE INFLAMMATION

Mrs. S. of Florida wants to know "What is conjunctivitis?"

ANSWER: As most people know, the "itis" after a long medical term means "inflammation." In this case it signifies that the lining of the eyes and eyelids has become inflamed.

The symptoms are redness, pain, watering, sensitiveness to light, itchiness and pus in the corners of the eye. It is sometimes called Pink Eye.

The cause is usually infection with such germs as staphylococci, streptocci and others. In such cases the treatment is use of the proper antibiotics — either locally, or given by mouth or needle.

If the inflammation is due to an allergy (as it often is), the treatment is removal of such irritants as dust, chemical fumes, cigarette smoke, etc., and giving anti-allergy drugs.

Whatever the cause, get to the bottom of it as fast as you can. The trick is not to allow the conjunctivitis to become chronic and stubborn.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Be a Happy Hypochondriac," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Tax Time Vital

There's a lot more to the "charitable deduction" on your income tax return than most taxpayers realize — and that probably includes you, no matter how hep to tax savings you think you are. The fact that the contributions are deductible is by no means the whole story. Going far beyond this is the fact that contributions are deductible whether made in cash or property and you can save more by making a gift in one form than another. And businessmen particularly have a built-in tax break when they make contributions to charity in their own merchandise rather than in cash.

As Leon Gold, chief tax expert of the Research Institute of America, puts it, "Most investors know they get a tax break by contributing stocks or bonds which have gone up in value because they save taxes on the profits and also get a deduction for the full value of what they contribute. But most businesamen still don't know how favorable rules officially approved by the Treasury in 1958 can be to them if they give merchandise in charity."

The timing of this tax-savings report is vital, for in this pre-Thanksgiving, pre - Christmas period is when giving to charity reaches an annual peak. Here goes with the tale, therefore—and if this one doesn't directly affect you, Gold and I urge you to pass it on to a businessman or charity, for it can be so helpful all around . . .

Let's say you're head of the ABC store which sells some type of goods. You buy the goods at one price, sell at a higher price and the difference is your profit.

If you give some of your goods to a charity, you'll pay no tax on the difference between their cost and sales price, your potential profit. But when you give, you'll be able to claim a tax deduction for your contribution based on the sales price of the goods, not the lower cost to you of the goods.

You do not report as taxable income the difference between the sales price and cost. You do get a deduction for the full sales price — a two - way tax break that can add up to big-time savings.

For instance, say at this season your ABC store usually has given $1,000 in cash to local charities. Since your store is a corporation, the annual out-of-pocket cost has been $480. If you hadn't given the cash, under the 52 per cent corporate tax rate, you would have had to pay the remaining $520 to the government.

After reading this, say you decide to give the $1,000 in goods which cost you $600, but which under your usual mark-up policy are priced for sale at $1,000. We assume the charities can sell the goods immediately at your usual mark-up, so they're as well off, but what about you? Here is your vastly improved tax picture:

You have saved the same $520 in taxes you would have saved had you made the contribution in cash. But since the goods cost you only $600, your actual out-of-pocket cost is only $80 (the cost minus the $520 tax savings.)

You have contributed $1,000 at a net cost to you of $80 instead of $480 — enough of a savings to impress any one!

In brief: the tax savings opportunities open up where you have property worth more than it originally cost. When you contribute it, you take a deduction on your return for the Fair Market value of the property, not its cost — but simultaneously, you are not taxed on the difference between the cost and fair market value.

So, when feasible, make your contributions in your own merchandise — remembering that the fair market value of your merchandise is considered to be your lowest normal selling price to customers.

Claim as a charitable deduction on your return the selling price, not the cost price to you of the merchandise.

Monday: Shifting income and expenses to save taxes for 1960.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Dear Mr. Vice President: Don't do it! After you went off to Florida on vacation, a couple of your braintrusters called a press conference and launched a — you know what! Herb Klein, your press secretary, told us you had received thousands of telegrams expressing "affection," "admiration" and the conviction that you are a "great statesman." I'm sure you know what this is leading up to —but don't do it.

Bob Finch, your closest political adviser, wouldn't say, "We wuz robbed!", although many reporters were trying to needle him into it. But he wouldn't quite say, "We wuz not robbed," either. The recount is going ahead in the States where it's possible to show more Nixon votes. The chances are almost negligible for a Republican victory in the electoral college, but there is another wishing lamp that Finch is rubbing. He'd like to see Nixon win the popular vote. Already, there is intense Republican satisfaction that John Kennedy failed to get a total majority over Republicans and Independents. But if Nixon could claim to be the "people's choice" of 1960, the psychological impact would be impressive. You see what it's all working up to, Mr. Vice President — but don't do it.

Klein made it plain — or was it ambiguous? — that you would accept the verdict of the electoral college. Well, that's just fine. It's like the remark Carlyle made to a lady who said she'd take life as it is? "Madam, you'd better!" But the feeling of the Klein-Finch press conference was that a martyr was preparing to hitchhike on a two-way street. If you "wuz robbed," there is still time to claim the election. If otherwise, you have a head start toward 1964 — but don't do it, Mr. Vice President, don't do it.

Don't do it for personal reasons. The very close popular vote is deceptive. To have run a near-dead heat against such a young, inexperienced, religiously handicapped Democrat on November 8th does not make you any more of a "statesman" than you were on November 7th. People expressing "affection" and "admiration" for a loser — a good loser, so far — are daffy sentimentalists for the most part. They are the ones who deceived poor Harold Stassen. They dragged the big pumpkin head, William Jennings Bryan, to the chopping block three times. They wore out the whiskey-drinking, card - playing, charming old man, Henry Clay, by teasing him four times with the hope of becoming President. Don't be like that!

And please, discourage this Nixon-in-'64 boom for another reason — a patriotic one. The Tilden-Hayes fiasco of 1876 is the one scandal on our presidential election record. To this day a majority of historians believe that Democrat, Samuel Tilden, won it — but that he was counted out with bayonets around the ballot boxes. The Republicans may have thought there was something to it, as they didn't run Rutherford Hayes for reelection. But the matter which could make 1960 in a rough way comparable with 1876 is that these are the only two occasions when a West Pointer, a professional soldier, has sat in the White House. General U. S. Grant, as commander in chief, was able to use military force in the Southern States where there were disputed ballots. Grant put Hayes in the White House. While it's not conceivable that General D. D. Eisenhower could use the same sort of power, let's not put the question to the test.

Don't be a candidate any more, Mr. Vice President. From Babe Ruth to Bonaparte, attempted come-backs have been disastrous. Don't be an office-seeker. Be a party leader. This is where you shine. You deserve credit for many of the twenty-odd House seats which the GOP regained this year. You presided over the Republican renaissance in the Midwest farm belt. At this writing it appears that one or both of the new States, Alaska and Hawaii, are Republican — a significant wave of the future.

But don't let your friends talk you into being one of those perennial candidates. Don't let your ambition or vanity misread the signs of 1960. Go to work. Make a lot of money for your family. Make speeches. Take trips. Help your party. But don't run again — or you'll be sorry.

Daily Meditation

A "happy ending" in literature is often more difficult to achieve than an interesting beginning. But the 150th and last Psalm provides this happy climax with a simple "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in His sanctuary." Of course, there are many methods by which praise may be given — by lives of rectitude and devotion, by service to mankind, by "tithes and offerings". But there is a never - failing weekly opportunity for going into the house of God for worship, prayer and meditation.

Father, may we be led into Thy courts on the morrow that we may worship and receive strength and inspiration. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

PREMIER AGREES

Laos Coalition To Include Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Faced with the mounting strength of rightist rebels, Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma agreed Friday to take the Communist-led Pathet Lao into his coalition regime.

Then Souvanna took off for San Neua in northeast Laos, apparently to confer with Prince Souvanna Vong, his half-brother who leads the Pathet Lao.

Once before, when he was entrusted with the premiership in 1956, Souvanna patched up a truce with his half-brother that halted the civil war for a time.

But now his approach to the Pathet Lao may only intensify civil strife. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, head of the rightist rebel regime, has sworn to drive the Pathet Lao guerrillas from this Asian kingdom.

The hard-pressed premier appeared to be turning toward the Communists because of the pressure from Phoumi, who, he charges, is backed by the United States.

A communique announcing agreement to the formation of a coalition government did not say when it would be formed or give the extent of Pathet Lao participation.

The government said it will appeal to Communist China and Communist North Viet Nam for economic aid. Souvanna's government accepted in principle an offer of economic aid from the Soviet Union last month.

In the past few days Souvanna has become increasingly bitter toward the United States, which has been the main financial prop of Laos.

He charges that U.S. moral and military support is going to Phoumi, making reunification impossible. The United States says the financial aid it gives Phoum is pay for soldiers under his command and was agreed to by Souvanna himself.

Reds Seeking To Bar U.S. From Canal

International Communists are making a move to deny use of the Panama Canal by the United States in case of war in the Far East.

The United States is out to stop them cold. The pattern had become too clear. Sending warships into Central American waters will be the first step if the movement continues.

The abortive pro-Castro invasion of Panama immediately after the Castro victory in Cuba seemed a little more than he was prepared to handle at the time. Now it appears that both operations may have been conducted with malice aforethought by the International Communists, instead of merely opening the door to post factum Communist participation as it seemed at first.

Since then, what appear to be Castro forces have created disturbances in several Latin-American countries which flank the canal. They have been intensified simultaneously with arrival in Cuba of large shipments of Communist arms.

Not all of the disturbance is Communist. The Reds are taking advantage of local circumstances. No out-and-out, die-casting move has been made.

So far, the small rebellions have taken more of the guise of dress-rehearsals, perhaps designed primarily to arouse dissident elements within the countries—a sort of advertising for recruits.

The trouble is general, however, around the approaches to the canal, and only latent in Panama itself. In it the Chinese Reds and Spanish refugee Communista are playing their parts, as well as Soviet and Czech agents.

With Cuba as an established base within the Caribbean, the Reds have recently shown their hands in Guatemala—a short boat ride from Cuba—and in Nicaragua and Venezuel.

The three worships dispatched to the Guatemalan-Nicaraguan area are merely tokens of a policy already adopted in conection with this country's right to hold the Guntanamo naval base in Cuba—that the United States will permit no political precedent or military adventures to infringe on the safety of the canal.

However, a policy of preventing any physical attack from Cuba is one thing. Measures to prevent in Central America what happened in Cuba—a Communist conquest through the use of internal forces, remain inchoate.

The Organization of American States is still overawed by the fear of that antiquated word, intervention.

FBI Puts Bank Robber On Top Wanted List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ray Delano Tate, a hard-drinking and "highly dangerous" 27-year-old bank robber, was placed Friday on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

Tate, who has a record of armed robbery, parole violation and prison escape, is sought under a federal warrant for the June 23, 1960, shotgun robbery of a Newark, N.J., bank.

He was wanted at the time for escaping from a Hudson, N.C., prison camp.

A native of Mt. Airy, N.C., Tate's criminal record dates back to the age of 16 when he was convicted of burglary.

The fugitive stands 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds, has brown eyes, dark brown hair, a medium build and a ruddy complexion.

On his right arm is the tattoo of a rose. He is also believed to have the name "Ada" tattooed on the upper right arm, and the inscription "Ada-Ray" on his upper left arm.

In the past he has worked as a restaurant short-order cook, apprentice welder and as a worker in an automobile plant and hosiery mill.

Mack Solomon Quits Post At Northeast

Northeast Louisiana State College has announced the resignation of Mack B. Solomon as director of the college news bureau.

Solomon said in a resignation statement:

"It is with deep regret that I leave Northeast. However, I feel the position with the Wall Street Journal offers an outstanding professional opportunity. I appreciate the backing I have received from the college administration, from the news media and from the people of this area."

Walker said in a statement:

"It is with keen regret that we announce Mr. Solomon's resignation. We appreciate his efforts during his tenure here and extend good wishes to him in his future endeavors."

Walker said no immediate announcement of a replacement would be made. He added that Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl and Oscar E. Banks, assistants in the news bureau, will carry on the functions of that office.

Solomon, an assistant professor of journalism, is also adviser to the Pow Wow, the college newspaper. Walker said Banks will become adviser to the students weekly.

Physician Says Churchill Gains After Injury

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill is suffering some pain from a broken small bone in his back but his daughter said Friday that despite a "disturbed" night there is no cause for worry.

The elder statesman's daughter, Mary, wife of Agriculture Minister Christopher Soames, said her father was able to eat a light lunch and seemed "fine and in good spirits." Churchill will be 86 Nov. 30.

A physiotherapist, Martyn Jones, gave Churchill a treatment and he was visited again by two physicians. He was described as "a wonderful patient."

A morning medical bulletin reported he had a "rather disturbed night" in a special bed designed to hasten the healing of his back, injured Tuesday when he tripped on a throw rug and fell.

A secretary said "his spinal injury is progressing satisfactorily and is giving no anxiety."

Lord Moran, his physician said "so far as I am concerned, Sir Winston is getting better every minute."

The special "spinal" bed being used allows the doctors to move the patient and allow him to sit up.

Sir Winston was reported cheerful and uncomplaining.

Complain To Kennedy

LONDON (UPI)—A white collar workers' union claiming 25,000 members Friday cabled President-elect John F. Kenedy charging that labor-managemet relations in American-owned factories in Britain were in a "worsening state."

The union said the U.S.-owned Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. here refused to recognize it and charged that working conditions in one plant were "deplorable."

Mack Solomon Quits Post At Northeast

Northeast Louisiana State College has announced the resignation of Mack B. Solomon as director of the college news bureau.

Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast, said the resignation becomes effective Nov. 28. Solomon leaves to join the copy desk of the Wall Street Journal in New York City early in December.

Solomon said in a resignation statement:

"It is with deep regret that I leave Northeast. However, I feel the position with the Wall Street Journal offers an outstanding professional opportunity. I appreciate the backing I have received from the college administration, from the news media and from the people of this area."

Walker said in a statement:

"It is with keen regret that we announce Mr. Solomon's resignation. We appreciate his efforts during his tenure here and extend good wishes to him in his future endeavors."

Walker said no immediate announcement of a replacement would be made. He added that Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl and Oscar E. Banks, assistants in the news bureau, will carry on the functions of that office.

Solomon, an assistant professor of journalism, is also adviser to the Pow Wow, the college newspaper. Walker said Banks will become adviser to the students weekly.

Physician Says Churchill Gains After Injury

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill is suffering some pain from a broken small bone in his back but his daughter said Friday that despite a "disturbed" night there is no cause for worry.

The elder statesman's daughter, Mary, wife of Agriculture Minister Christopher Soames, said her father was able to eat a light lunch and seemed "fine and in good spirits." Churchill will be 86 Nov. 30.

A physiotherapist, Martyn Jones, gave Churchill a treatment and he was visited again by two physicians. He was described as "a wonderful patient."

A morning medical bulletin reported he had a "rather disturbed night" in a special bed designed to hasten the healing of his back, injured Tuesday when he tripped on a throw rug and fell.

A secretary said "his spinal injury is progressing satisfactorily and is giving no anxiety."

Lord Moran, his physician said "so far as I am concerned, Sir Winston is getting better every minute."

The special "spinal" bed being used allows the doctors to move the patient and allow him to sit up.

Sir Winston was reported cheerful and uncomplaining.

FBI Puts Bank Robber On Top Wanted List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ray Delano Tate, a hard-drinking and "highly dangerous" 27-year-old bank robber, was placed Friday on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

Tate, who has a rocord of armed robbery, parole violation and prison escape, is sought under a federal warrant for the June 23, 1960, shotgun robbery of a Newark, N.J., bank.

He was wanted at the time for escaping from a Hudson, N.C., prison camp.

A native of Mt. Airy, N.C., Tate's criminal record dates back to the age of 16 when he was convicted of burglary.

The fugitive stands 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds, has brown eyes, dark brown hair, a medium build and a ruddy complexion.

On his right arm is the tattoo of a rose. He is also believed to have the name "Ada" tattooed on the upper right arm, and the inscription "Ada-Ray" on his upper left arm.

In the past he has worked as a restaurant short-order cook, apprentice welder and as a worker in an automobile plant and hosiery mill.

Complain To Kennedy

LONDON (UPI)—A white collar workers' union claiming 25,000 members Friday cabled President-elect John F. Kenedy charging that labor-managemet relations in American-owned factories in Britain were in a "worsening state."

The union said the U.S.-owned Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. here refused to recognize it and charged that working conditions in one plant were "deplorable."

Passman Sure Position Safe On Committee

to be an honorable, and fair man. I cannot believe that any type of pressure could prevail upon the speaker to give his support to a minority group of liberals who would try to purge five veteran legislators from valuable seniority in Congress when the only reason which such a move would be motivated would be that these members have attempted to uphold and suport the constitution of the United States.

"Only in a Communist - controlled country are such tactics carried out.

"Mr. Rayburn is an honorable man. I have no fear but what he will be guided by wisdom and not by northern radicals who would act in haste."

If Rayburn refuses the purge, there will be none. If he consents, action undoubtedly will be taken against the five when the new Congress convenes in January.

Rayburn has given no public indication of what stand he will take. He conferred Thursday night with Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

If the five are stripped of their committee assignments, or committee seniority, congressional old-timers believe it would be the first time in 36 years that either party in the house has broken the unwritten, but sacred, rule of seniority.

Passman, 60, is a veteran of 14, years in Congress. He heads the House Foreign Aid Appropriations subcommittee. He could be expected to battle for sharp cuts in any major foreign aid program proposed by Kennedy.

Colmer is the second-ranking Democrat on the powerful House Rules Committee and has served 28 years in Congress. If Colmer holds his committee post, Democratic liberals fear he will block action on Kennedy's school aid and slum clearance programs.

Whitten, chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee handling funds for the farm program, came to Congress 19 years ago.

Williams, a congressman for 14 years, has moved up to become second-ranking Democrat on the House Commerce Committee. This panel handles all legislation dealing with the FCC, ICC, SEC and other regulatory agencies.

Winstead is sixth-ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee and has been in Congress 18 years.

he had a lawyer, the husky young woodsman murmured "No, sir, I don't believe I have."

Hoffman then named public defender Joseph Carr as Weger's lawyer and set a Nov. 25 arraignment date.

Weger's teen-age wife and father-in-law still couldn't believe he was the man who had terrorized the Starved Rock country. They clung to the hope that he was "covering up" for someone else.

But Weger was calmly explicit in telling how he wandered from his dishwasher's job at the park lodge "looking for someone to rob," saw the women emerging from St. Louis Canyon, and tried to snatch a camera case from one of them.

Weger herded the women back to the cave, promised he wouldn't harm them, and tied them with the butcher's twine.

But Mrs. Murphy broke free and slashed Weger's face with a blow from her binocular case. The other women tried to kick and scratch him. Weger seized a log of dead wood and struck again and again until all three were dead.

Panel Takes Case Under Advisement

the bench with him.

Besides the request made by the Orleans School Board to reverse Wright's integration order, the court heard these two cases.

1. The United States vs. the State of Louisiana in which the Federal government is seeking to enjoin state officials and most local officials from interfering with the order to integrate.

2. A suit by 31 white citizens attempting to enjoin the Legislature from carrying out its program of taking over the Orleans Public School System.

Pending contempt charges against Supt. Shelby M. Jackson for declaring last Monday a school holiday were delayed until a future hearing.

Jackson, however, sat in the audience and watched the proceedings.

Gremillion, under Federal orders not to interfere, instructed the court that he was not representing the state in its defense but was instructed to appear by the Legislature.

Assisting him were members of his staff, in addition to Dist. Atty. Thompson Clarke, St. Joseph, and Scott Wilkinson, the Lawmakers' attorney, of Shreveport.

Chief counsel for the NAACP, which backed opposition against the board's request for a return to segregation, was Thurgood Marshall, the NAACP's top legal advisor, of New York.

He was seated with four Negro lawyers, including A. P. Tureaud Sr. of New Orleans.

U. S. Atty. H. Hepburn many represented the Federal government in its cases enjoining state and local officials, including the city of New Orleans.

Alvin J. Liska, city attorney for New Orleans, argued on behalf of Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison, under constant fire in the current touch-and-go crisis.

Gremillion filed a motion to dismiss all charges against the state, charging that the court lacked jurisdiction because the legislature had passed the interposition bill.

He made reference to one Judge as being "Biased and prejudiced," evidently referring to Wright without calling him by name.

Wright remained silent throughout the three-hour hearing, but smiled often and several times chuckled to himself.

Gremillion asked for dismissal of the Bush case, the original New Orleans school integration action, on grounds that the state had put into effect the act of interposition.

Actually, in asking that the charges be dismissed, Gremillion filed a suit of interposition, explaining later, "in other words, we don't recognize a thing that was said here."

With a federal case against the eight-man legislative committee appointed by the legislature to run the Orleans schools, Wilkinson handled the defense.

He argued that the constitution of the state says that the Legislature has full authority to make provisions for education in the state and has full authority over operation of the school system.

"The people of Louisiana do not believe racial segregation is right, legally or morally, and no court can make them believe such," Wilkinson said.

He quickly corrected the statement as the courtroom stirred, saying, "I beg your pardon. I should like to correct that statement. The people of Louisiana do not believe that racial integration is right legally or morally."

He added, asking the court, "How much blood must be shed? How much hatred and antagonism must be accentuated"?

JACK GREMILLION, attorney general of Louisiana, is interviewed on leaving a federal court hearing in New Orleans Friday where the Orleans parish school board sought removal of the court's integration order affecting two New Orleans schools. (AP Wirephoto)

Marshall, in reply to arguments for dismissal of the suits, said the interposition act of the legislature is "nothing but a rehash of old historical documents."

He said in every single school case in Louisiana the 10th amendment has unsuccessfully been raised every time.

He questioned the right of the legislative body to take over the operation of the city's public schools.

"This is not an action against the legislature to stop them from making legislation," he said.

Marshall added, "This is not a case of getting some children into school, the issue is whether the federal court can protect its jurisdiction."

Wilkinson argued, however, by saying there is nothing in the U.S. constitution or the laws of the U.S. that "tell the Louisiana it must follow the same separation of powers as that of the federal government."

He said the legislature has the right to decide on matters involving operating of public schools and He insisted there are no restrictions on the legislature in connection with addressing elected state officials out of office.

With the exception of President Lloyd J. Rittiner, all members of the Orleans board were present. They were represented by Attorney Samuel I. Rosenberg.

Earlier in the week the Legislature passed a motion firing Rosenberg and Superintendent Dr. James F. Redmond, but Wright restrained the resolution.

Before the hearing started at 10 o'clock, the board announced that New Orleans public schools would be closed next week because of the annual teachers convention here and the Thanksgiving holidays.

However, Msgr. Henry C. Bezou disclosed in a letter to pastors and principals of Catholic schools that a desegregation plan would be put into effect in Catholic schools starting Monday.

He added, however, that the plan would be launched provided public schools are open and integrated. Integration in the Catholic schools will start on the first-grade level too, Bezou stated.

His statement came to light shortly before the hearing began in the post office building located in downtown New Orleans.

With tight security measures in effect, at least 15 deputy marshals screened persons who entered the building and only newsmen were admitted to the courtroom at the outset.

The hearing, which started promptly at 10 a.m. when the three judges entered the courtroom, was void of emotional outbreaks. Covering it were scores of out-of town newspapermen, including several representing national news medias.

A local relative of an Atlanta Ga., youngster, injured in a gun accident, has asked prayers for the 11 - year - old boy. Danny Franklin, who is being treated in the Emory University Hospital in Atlanta, was playing with a friend and was shot with a German luger from a gun collection in a friend's house. His spine was shattered and he is completely paralyzed from the chest down.

The appeal for prayers was voiced in an Atlanta newspaper and Jes' Ramblin received a request from Bob Presley of 2709 Gordon Ave. to make the request locally.

French Smith, Monroe Utilities Commission general manager, said the lights are being installed at a cost of approximately $85,000.

Two new transmission lines are included in the project, to provide a greater power lead and improved service for the eastern section of the city.

Other locations in the city also are receiving additional lighting, as the Commission works toward its goal: "to light up Monroe."

Presently, 625 lights are being installed, principally along College Avenue, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Plum and South Tenth Streets.

Estimates of need are: 12,000 feet of two and one - fourth inch pipe, at 70 cents per feet; 3800 feet of four inch pipe, at $1.21 per foot; and 6000 feet of six inch pipe at $1.81 per foot. New Lights Planned For Louisville

U.S. Highway 80, main thoroughfare cutting through Monroe from the eastern limits of the city to the west limits at the Ouachita River, soon will have an ultra modern lighting system turning day into night along Louisville Avenue and DeSiard Road.

French Smith, Monroe Utilities Commission general manager, said the lights are being installed at a cost of approximately $85,000.

Two new transmission lines are included in the project, to provide a greater power lead and improved service for the eastern section of the city.

Other locations in the city also are receiving additional lighting, as the Commission works toward its goal: "to light up Monroe."

Presently, 625 lights are being installed, principally along College Avenue, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Plum and South Tenth Streets.

As a result of an all - out effort to improve safety and driving visibility on residential streets as well as main thoroughfares, the Commission has given Monroe better lighted residential streets than any other North Louisiana city may boast of, Commission official state.

At a recent meeting, Commission members accepted the following bids:

1. Six months' supply of east iron pipe from Lone Star Steel Co. of Dallas, Tex. Estimates of need are: 12,000 feet of two and one - fourth inch pipe, at 70 cents per feet; 3800 feet of four inch pipe, at $1.21 per foot; and 6000 feet of six inch pipe at $1.81 per foot. Commission officials reserve the right to deviate from this.

2. About 280 assemblies of horizontal post insulators, at $10.76 each, from Lapp Insulator Co. of Shreveport. They will be used in connection with the Highway 80 lighting.

Kennedy Is Given Secret Briefing

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy received a secret briefing Friday on the Communist menace that has U. S. warships and planes ready to strike in the Caribbean.

Kennedy had asked them to do so even before President Eisenhower ordered an aircraft carrier, four destroyers and two long-range aircraft on patrol in response to appeals from Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Eisenhower's action Thursday followed attempted revolts which Guatemala and Nicaragua claimed were led by supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro. It was a definite warning to both Cuba and the Soviet Union to stay away from the rest of Latin America.

Dulles and Bissell brought two large folders, presumably containing maps, charts and top secret documents, to the president-elect's ocean-front vacation retreat. The three men sat in the sun in lawn chairs, looking out over the Atlantic for the 2-hour, 40-minute briefing.

Kennedy's acting press secretary, Donald M. Wilson, gave that picture to newsmen, along with word that: "They discussed a wide range of matters, one of which was the situation in Central America."

Both Kennedy and Dulles were silent on their appraisal of Caribbean trouble spots.

Saturday, the man who will be the next president will be digging into a question somewhat related to the Caribbean worry—whether the Defense Department organization is strong enough to perform its mission in an uneasy world.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a former Air Force secretary now mentioned for secretary of defense, was commissioned by Kennedy to draft a report of this topic. Also a Florida vacationer, Symington will go over the report with Kennedy during the weekend.

Sen. George A. Smathers, Fla., a close friend, also will be a Kennedy guest Saturday.

In another area of international affairs, Kennedy designated Paul Nitze, his chief adviser on national security affairs, to meet in Washington Tuesday with Paul 'Henri Spaak, director general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Wilson said Spaak had asked Kennedy to name some one to discuss with him a 10-year plan for NATO which the American government proposed last December.

Nitze formerly was director of the State Department's planning and policy staff. He now is head of the Foreign Service Educational Foundation in Washington.

As for home front problems, the president-elect arranged to discuss unemployment conditions with President George Meany of the AFL-CIO in Washington Wednesday.

The Massachusetts senator is flying to the capital that day to spend Thanksgiving with his family. He expects to return to Palm Beach Thursday night or Friday morning.

Wilson declined to say whether Kennedy was advised in advance of Eisenhower's dispatch of planes and fighting ships to the Caribbean or whether he approves the action.

"Sen. Kennedy," he said, "feels it would be improper for him to discuss actions or policies of the United States government at this time, as he has no responsibilities until he assumes office after inguration day. This will be the policy until inauguration day."

During his campaign, Kennedy was repeatedly and harshly critical of the Eisenhower administration's policies toward Cuba and Latin America. He said the record was one of failures and "disastrous and tragic defeats" that largely destroyed the good will built up for the United States in 20 years of Democratic regimes.

First Round In U.N. Won By Kasavubu

The possibility of victory came on a motion by Ghana in the 99-nation assembly to adjourn without considering a recommendation of the assembly's Credentials Committee to seat a delegation headed by Kasavubu.

Ghana sought to delay until an Asian-African conciliation commission tries for an on-the-spot reconciliation between the forces of Kasavubu and the man he deposed as premier, Patrice Lumumba.

But the Asian-African bloc split on the motion and it was defeated by a vote of 51 against, 36 in favor of and 11 abstentions.

This was a far wider victory margin than expected by the United States and other Western supporters of Kasavubu. Western sources were confident he would win by as much or more when the assembly votes on the committee's recommendation.

Ten newly admitted African members of the French community voted against adjournment, as did four other members of the Asian-African bloc — Japan, the Philippines, Thailand and Turkey. Abstainers included Cambodia, Iran, Jordan, Laos, Lebanon, Liberia, Pakistan, Somalia, and upper Volta.

The Soviet bloc voted solidly for postponement along with Ghana, Guinea, India and other nations who are backing a Lumumba delegation for the vacant Congo seat.

Just what effect the seating of Kasavubu would have on the decision of the 15-nation conciliation commission to leave for the Congo next week remained uncertain.

Some U.N. sources said Mali and Guinea had threatened to quit the commission if Kasavubu were seated, and that Ghana and India would resign if that occurred.

The commission decided Thursday night it would begin its work in Leopoldville at the end of next week.

But Kasavubu has declared the commission should not go without his consent — and this could not be given until he obtains his assembly seat.

U.N. sources predicted that debate over the committee recommendation would not be finished until sometime next week.

At its morning session the assembly heard a suggestion from President Fulbert Youlou of the Congo Republica, Brazzaville, for a conference of heads of black states of Africa to deal with the Congo situation.

The United Nations released a letter sent by Kasavubu to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold accusing Lumumba of trying to set up a dictatorship in the Congo by means of terror.

He charged that terror and disorder in that city are the work of Lumumba's bullies, and are made possible by the surprising inertia of the United Nations forces."

Kasavubu criticized Hammarskjold for circulating a letter from Lumumba suggesting a political referendum on the presidency under supervision of the U.N. commission.

IN CARIBBEAN

Reds Hotly Blast U.S. Navy Patrol

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cuba and its big Communist friends, the Soviet Union and Red China, denounced as a menace to world peace Friday the U.S. warship shield thrown up to protect Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Cuban newspapers said the deployment of U.S. warships in nearby waters could open the way for an attack on Cuba, "thus shattering the peace of the world."

Radio Moscow said the movement of U.S. warships into the turbulent Caribbean is "fraught with the danger of a military conflict."

Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China said the United States was threatening Cuba "by force of arms" and promised continued support for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The clamor from Cuba and the world's two largest Communist powers was brushed aside by the United States. The Navy in Washington reiterated that the carrier Shangri La and four destroyers are in position to help repel any invasion of the two little Central American nations.

The State Department in Washington spiked a report published in London that the warships might halt suspected ships on the high seas. Washington said ships would be stopped only in the two nations' territorial waters, and then only on the request of Nicaragua and Guatemala.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said in Augusta, Ga., the Moscow broadsides were "Communist-type reaction" and added: "There's a very similar reaction — the words are almost the same—from Cuba."

President Eisenhower ordered the warships into the Caribbean at the request of Guatemala and Nicaragua after both nations stamped out uprisings they charged had support from Castro's Cuba.

In Havana, the semiofficial newspaper Revolucion called the U.S. action "Yankee military occuptation of Central America," and asserted it was designed to intimidate Cuba.

"Guantanamo or Guatemala, the place for the self-provoked aggression is immaterial," said Revolucion.

The Castro regime has charged repeatedly that the United States was preparing an incident at its leased Guantanamo naval base in eastern Cuba as a pretext for military intervention.

"We denounce the new crime that already is in execution against the peoples of Guatemala and Nicaragua, whose rebelliousness will now be punished with more repression than the barbarous repression already used by their tyrannical governments," said Revolucion.

Havana's El Mundo asserted the movement of the warships "could hide a maneuver against Cuba." The Communist newspaper Hoy said "the spectre of the hateful Marine Corps again hangs over Latin America."

The Havana correspondent of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said "the dictatorships in Guatemala and Nicaragua are wavering under the impact of the hatred of their peoples." The dispatch was distributed by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

A Moscow broadcast declared "the rotten, antipopular regimes of these two countries can exist only with U.S. support."

Radio Peiping and the United States was helping "the reactionary dictatorial governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua in suppressing the people's revolutionary movements there."

The radio said Chou told a reception for a visiting Cuban economic delegation: "The Cuban people have been waging a struggle directed squarely against U.S. imperialism which is close by—the most vicious imperialism. They are ready to repulse the armed provocation and attack the enemy at any moment."

The Cuban mission is in Peiping to seek expansion of trade ties. It is headed by Maj. Ernesto Guevara, Castro's leftist economic chief who negotiated the recent trade treaty with Peiping.

Trustees Agree To Integration

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The University of Tennessee board of trustees agreed Friday to admit Negroes to the university on the undergraduate level.

The board adopted a resolution saying, "There shall be no racial discrimination in the admission of qualified students to the University of Tennessee."

The first Negro students will be admitted in January at the beginning of the winter quarter.

The university's graduate school and law college have been desegregated since 1952.

One Witness Fails Court Reading Test

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Earl E. Smith, 43-year-old white registered voter, testified in a Negro voting purge trial Friday he was unable to read and interpret the law.

Thelma M. Tobin of Castor, a Negro school teacher who has a masters degree from Sanford University, said her interpretation of the registration provision was not accepted by the defendant, Mrs. Pauline Culpepper.

An attorney read statements of eight other Negroes which said they were not allowed to register because they did not interpret the law to the satisfaction of Mrs. Culpepper, the Bienville Parish registrar.

Smith testified his education was limited to service with the Civilian Conservation Corps and the U. S. Army.

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. handed Smith a lawbook and said, "I'm not trying to embarass you, but this is for a purpose."

Smith was unable to read the first section cited by the judge, then, haltingly, read another section while making several mistakes.

Judge Dawkins asked for an interpretation, and Smith said, "I don't know just what to say."

The federal government seeks to reinstate 560 Negro voters it claims were challenged and removed from the registration rolls in 1956 because of their race.

The government also seeks an injunction to prevent discrimination against Negro voters and the appointment of a federal voting referee for Bienville Parish.

Guy Corley, secretary of the Arcadia Citizens Council, testified he told the Arcadia Citizens Council president minutes of a council meeting did not exist.

However, Corley said the minutes were later found and that the meeting was called to discuss challenges of unqualified voters.

OPPOSED BY BRANDT

Adenauer Girds For Vote Battle

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, born the year of Custer's last stand, is preparing to fight his fourth national election campaign with the vigor of a man half his age.

The 84-year-old chancellor will be opposed in the 1961 elections by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who is 47.

Adenauer does not appear to have slowed down at all since becoming West Germany's first post war chancellor in 1949 at the age of 73, when most statesmen would be thinking of retirement.

"My doctor told me I could carry the burdens of the chancellorship for a maximum of another 18 months," Adenauer said to an interviewer recently. "He told me that in 1949."

During a recent length news conference, Adenauer insisted on jumping to his feet to answer each question. His host advised him to remain seated.

"I like to stand up for the questions, because I want the exercise," the chancellor said. "Also, I find if one is a bit above the audience, one's words are more effective."

If Adenauer seems to be deliberately flouting his vigor these days, it may be because of the youth of Brandt, his Socialist opponent.

The issue of experience is bound to come up in the campaign, as it did in the American presidential race.

With the resignation of former South Korean President Syngman Rhee, Adenauer became the oldest leader of any nation in the free world. He obviously intends to stay around longer.

Among those closest to him in age are French President Charles de Gaulle, 70 just this week, and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, both 66. In comparison, American president-elect John F. Kennedy is 43, and French Premier Michel Debre is 48.

Adenauer spent many years cultivating roses in enforced retirement from political life during the Nazi era. He was dismissed from his post as lord mayor of Cologne by the Nazis in 1933, after serving in the city government since 1906. He was arrested twice, in 1934 and 1944, but freed after short periods in concentration camps.

Adenauer returned to his native Cologne after the collapse of the Hitler regime and joined with other German Democrats in rebuilding the nation. He moved quickly from city politics to the national field as the Christian Democratic Union grew into the dominant party of the country. It won the first elections in 1949 and repeated its victory twice, with Adenauer the moving force.

His government rebuilt West Germany on two fronts: It cleared away the rubble of war and got the economy producing again, and it returned the nation to the ranks of the democracies.

Adenauer took a personal role in every major development. He pushed treaties of alliance through parliament, made trips to allied capitals, and fought to overcome old prejudices against former enemies.

With West Germany a full partner in the NATO alliance and the European Common Market and its economy enjoying a prolonged boom, Adenauer could be expected to step down from the chancellorship and watch from the sidelines.

Kennedy Is Given Secret Briefing

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy received a secret briefing Friday on the Communist menace that has U. S. warships and planes ready to strike in the Caribbean.

Kennedy had asked them to do so even before President Eisenhower ordered an aircraft carrier, four destroyers and two long-range aircraft on patrol in response to appeals from Guatemala and Nicaragua.

As for home front problems, the president-elect arranged to discuss unemployment conditions with President George Meany of the AFL-CIO in Washington Wednesday.

The Massachusetts senator is flying to the capital that day to spend Thanksgiving with his family. He expects to return to Palm Beach Thursday night or Friday morning.

First Round In U.N. Won By Kasavubu

This was a far wider victory margin than expected by the United States and other Western supporters of Kasavubu. Western sources were confident he would win by as much or more when the assembly votes on the committee's recommendation.

Ten newly admitted African members of the French community voted against adjournment, as did four other members of the Asian-African bloc — Japan, the Philippines, Thailand and Turkey. Abstainers included Cambodia, Iran, Jordan, Laos, Lebanon, Liberia, Pakistan, Somalia, and upper Volta.

The Soviet bloc voted solidly for postponement along with Ghana, Guinea, India and other nations who are backing a Lumumba delegation for the vacant Congo seat.

Just what effect the seating of Kasavubu would have on the decision of the 15-nation conciliation commission to leave for the Congo next week remained uncertain.

Some U.N. sources said Mali and Guinea had threatened to quit the commission if Kasavubu were seated, and that Ghana and India would resign if that occurred.

The commission decided Thursday night it would begin its work in Leopoldville at the end of next week.

But Kasavubu has declared the commission should not go without his consent — and this could not be given until he obtains his assembly seat.

U.N. sources predicted that debate over the committee recommendation would not be finished until sometime next week.

At its morning session the assembly heard a suggestion from President Fulbert Youlou of the Congo Republica, Brazzaville, for a conference of heads of black states of Africa to deal with the Congo situation.

The United Nations released a letter sent by Kasavubu to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold accusing Lumumba of trying to set up a dictatorship in the Congo by means of terror.

He charged that terror and disorder in that city are the work of Lumumba's bullies, and are made possible by the surprising inertia of the United Nations forces."

Kasavubu criticized Hammarskjold for circulating a letter from Lumumba suggesting a political referendum on the presidency under supervision of the U.N. commission.

IN CARIBBEAN

Reds Hotly Blast U.S. Navy Patrol

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cuba and its big Communist friends, the Soviet Union and Red China, denounced as a menace to world peace Friday the U.S. warship shield thrown up to protect Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Cuban newspapers said the deployment of U.S. warships in nearby waters could open the way for an attack on Cuba, "thus shattering the peace of the world."

Radio Moscow said the movement of U.S. warships into the turbulent Caribbean is "fraught with the danger of a military conflict."

Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China said the United States was threatening Cuba "by force of arms" and promised continued support for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The clamor from Cuba and the world's two largest Communist powers was brushed aside by the United States. The Navy in Washington reiterated that the carrier Shangri La and four destroyers are in position to help repel any invasion of the two little Central American nations.

The State Department in Washington spiked a report published in London that the warships might halt suspected ships on the high seas. Washington said ships would be stopped only in the two nations' territorial waters, and then only on the request of Nicaragua and Guatemala.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said in Augusta, Ga., the Moscow broadsides were "Communist-type reaction" and added: "There's a very similar reaction — the words are almost the same—from Cuba."

President Eisenhower ordered the warships into the Caribbean at the request of Guatemala and Nicaragua after both nations stamped out uprisings they charged had support from Castro's Cuba.

In Havana, the semiofficial newspaper Revolucion called the U.S. action "Yankee military occuptation of Central America," and asserted it was designed to intimidate Cuba.

"Guantanamo or Guatemala, the place for the self-provoked aggression is immaterial," said Revolucion.

The Castro regime has charged repeatedly that the United States was preparing an incident at its leased Guantanamo naval base in eastern Cuba as a pretext for military intervention.

"We denounce the new crime that already is in execution against the peoples of Guatemala and Nicaragua, whose rebelliousness will now be punished with more repression than the barbarous repression already used by their tyrannical governments," said Revolucion.

Havana's El Mundo asserted the movement of the warships "could hide a maneuver against Cuba." The Communist newspaper Hoy said "the spectre of the hateful Marine Corps again hangs over Latin America."

The Havana correspondent of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said "the dictatorships in Guatemala and Nicaragua are wavering under the impact of the hatred of their peoples." The dispatch was distributed by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

A Moscow broadcast declared "the rotten, antipopular regimes of these two countries can exist only with U.S. support."

Radio Peiping and the United States was helping "the reactionary dictatorial governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua in suppressing the people's revolutionary movements there."

The radio said Chou told a reception for a visiting Cuban economic delegation: "The Cuban people have been waging a struggle directed squarely against U.S. imperialism which is close by—the most vicious imperialism. They are ready to repulse the armed provocation and attack the enemy at any moment."

The Cuban mission is in Peiping to seek expansion of trade ties. It is headed by Maj. Ernesto Guevara, Castro's leftist economic chief who negotiated the recent trade treaty with Peiping.

Trustees Agree To Integration

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The University of Tennessee board of trustees agreed Friday to admit Negroes to the university on the undergraduate level.

The board adopted a resolution saying, "There shall be no racial discrimination in the admission of qualified students to the University of Tennessee."

The university's graduate school and law college have been desegregated since 1952.

One Witness Fails Court Reading Test

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Earl E. Smith, 43-year-old white registered voter, testified in a Negro voting purge trial Friday he was unable to read and interpret the law.

Thelma M. Tobin of Castor, a Negro school teacher who has a masters degree from Sanford University, said her interpretation of the registration provision was not accepted by the defendant, Mrs. Pauline Culpepper.

An attorney read statements of eight other Negroes which said they were not allowed to register because they did not interpret the law to the satisfaction of Mrs. Culpepper, the Bienville Parish registrar.

Smith testified his education was limited to service with the Civilian Conservation Corps and the U. S. Army.

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. handed Smith a lawbook and said, "I'm not trying to embarass you, but this is for a purpose."

Smith was unable to read the first section cited by the judge, then, haltingly, read another section while making several mistakes.

Judge Dawkins asked for an interpretation, and Smith said, "I don't know just what to say."

The federal government seeks to reinstate 560 Negro voters it claims were challenged and removed from the registration rolls in 1956 because of their race.

The government also seeks an injunction to prevent discrimination against Negro voters and the appointment of a federal voting referee for Bienville Parish.

Guy Corley, secretary of the Arcadia Citizens Council, testified he told the Arcadia Citizens Council president minutes of a council meeting did not exist.

However, Corley said the minutes were later found and that the meeting was called to discuss challenges of unqualified voters.

Adenauer Girds For Vote Battle

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, born the year of Custer's last stand, is preparing to fight his fourth national election campaign with the vigor of a man half his age.

The 84-year-old chancellor will be opposed in the 1961 elections by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who is 47.

Adenauer does not appear to have slowed down at all since becoming West Germany's first post war chancellor in 1949 at the age of 73, when most statesmen would be thinking of retirement.

"My doctor told me I could carry the burdens of the chancellorship for a maximum of another 18 months," Adenauer said to an interviewer recently. "He told me that in 1949."

During a recent length news conference, Adenauer insisted on jumping to his feet to answer each question. His host advised him to remain seated.

"I like to stand up for the questions, because I want the exercise," the chancellor said. "Also, I find if one is a bit above the audience, one's words are more effective."

If Adenauer seems to be deliberately flouting his vigor these days, it may be because of the youth of Brandt, his Socialist opponent.

The issue of experience is bound to come up in the campaign, as it did in the American presidential race.

With the resignation of former South Korean President Syngman Rhee, Adenauer became the oldest leader of any nation in the free world. He obviously intends to stay around longer.

Among those closest to him in age are French President Charles de Gaulle, 70 just this week, and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, both 66. In comparison, American president-elect John F. Kennedy is 43, and French Premier Michel Debre is 48.

Adenauer spent many years cultivating roses in enforced retirement from political life during the Nazi era. He was dismissed from his post as lord mayor of Cologne by the Nazis in 1933, after serving in the city government since 1906. He was arrested twice, in 1934 and 1944, but freed after short periods in concentration camps.

Adenauer returned to his native Cologne after the collapse of the Hitler regime and joined with other German Democrats in rebuilding the nation. He moved quickly from city politics to the national field as the Christian Democratic Union grew into the dominant party of the country. It won the first elections in 1949 and repeated its victory twice, with Adenauer the moving force.

His government rebuilt West Germany on two fronts: It cleared away the rubble of war and got the economy producing again, and it returned the nation to the ranks of the democracies.

Adenauer took a personal role in every major development. He pushed treaties of alliance through parliament, made trips to allied capitals, and fought to overcome old prejudices against former enemies.

With West Germany a full partner in the NATO alliance and the European Common Market and its economy enjoying a prolonged boom, Adenauer could be expected to step down from the chancellorship and watch from the sidelines.

21ST STRAIGHT WIN

Neville, Aimed At Playoffs, Conquers Ouachita, 16-0

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Neville found just two leaks in Ouachita's otherwise watertight defense, gushed through for a pair of touchdowns and sank the charged-up Lions, 16-0, last night, winding up a second straight unbeaten season with its 21st victory in a row.

Quarterback Beverly Franks danced 44 yards down the sidelines early in the second period for the first Neville touchdown. Then he, end Sperry Brown and fullback Ralph Roberts pulled off a perfectly - executed pass and pitchout for the other TD in the third.

A blocked punt that went out of bounds in the end zone gave Neville's its final two points. Neal Gunn ran for the extra point after the first touchdown and Bill Becton ran the other PAT.

The victory sent Neville into defense of its class AA state championship with Louisiana's longest winning streak. Bill Ruple's Tigers won 12 games last year and last night's triumph was No. 9 of 1960.

STATISTICS	Neville	Ouachita
First Downs	3	8
Yards Rushing	134	101
Yards Passing	38	31
Passes	8-3	14-6
Passes Int. By	1	0
Fumbles Lost	1	0
Penalties	1-15	4-50
Punting	8-34.0	9-24.3

Ouachita fought gamely to avert its fifth straight defeat after five opening wins. The Lions contained Neville's sprinters most of the way and got eight first downs to Neville's three. They drove to the Neville 20 in the first quarter and to the 38, 30, 31 and 36 later but could never come up with a six - pointer.

Linebacker Roy Walton, Don Ellen, Johnny Butler, Johnny Roach and Tommy Beaube were the defensive stars for the Lions and Ted Smith and Herbert Perry were the standouts in a ball - control offense. Smith gained 44 yards in 12 carries and Perry 31 in 10.

Neville got great defense from Mike Wilson, a linebacker who personally stalled Ouachita's first quarter drive, Jack Burton, Robert Payne, Robert Turner and Brown. Franks was the top ground - gainer for the Tigers, ending up with a net of 44 yards in four carries. Neal Gunn got 40 yards in 11 trips.

Ouachita ground as far as the Tiger 20 after taking the opening kickoff, getting a 13-yard trip around end by Smith for the biggest gain on the march, a drive that started on the Ouachita 37. Perry picked up two nine - yard gains around end for the Lions and the last one put the ball on the 21.

James Cromwell gained a yard but Wilson put a stop to the long gaining reverses by bursting through to spill Smith for a six-yard loss. On the next play he trapped Perry for a minus five. That killed the drive although Cromwell gained five on the next play. Then the Lion quarterback tried to pass, had to run and was dropped for a five - yard loss and Neville took over.

Neither team could get moving the rest of the first period and Neville took over on the Lion 44 after a punt early in the second. On first down, Franks circled right end, shook off three tackles and swept down the sileline for the touchdown. Gunn ran the Pat to make it 7-0 with 1 :05 left in the second.

Ouachita came nearest a touchdown a few plays later. With first and 10 at the Lion 44 after a punt, Cromwell wheeled out and threw to Smith, all alone. The speedy halfback went for 26 yards before Robert Payne, the last man with a chance to get him, pushed him out of bounds on the Neville 30.

On the next play, however, the Lions drew a 15-yard holdiing rap back to the 42. Cromwell then hit Smith again for five yards but his third down pass at the 36 was intercepted by Payne on the 21.

Just before the half ended, the Lions went to the Tiger 32, thanks to an 11 - yard run by Cromwell but two passes were incomplete and another lost four yards.

Late in the third, Neville took over after a punt on its 33, Gunn returning the kick 21 yards. Becton and Gunn gained one each and Don Brant picked up six. Then Franks tossed a jump pass to Brown on the 20. Brown was hit immediately but pitched back to Roberts, under a full head of steam. Roberts charged into the end zone standing up, Becton ran the PAT and it was 14-0 with 2:25 left in the quarter.

Midway of the fourth, the Tigers punted dead on their 49 and Ouachita moved to the 31, Perry gaining 12 of the yards. But one pass was incomplete on third down and Cromwell lost four trying to throw on fourth.

A Payne punt into the end zone set up the safety. Two Lion passes were incomplete from the 20 but Cormwell hit Beaube for three yards on third. Then Bubba Via went back to punt. The Tigers charged through and Robert Turner blocked the kick. The ball skidded back into the end zone and out of bounds for a safety, Becton almost recovering it for a touchdown before it went out.

The game ended about seven plays later.

Wright Pass Puts Memphis Over Southern

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — A spectacular 82-yard pass play in the fourth quarter carried Mephis State to a 7-6 victory over Mississippi Southern before 12,500 fans Friday night.

Southern scored its touchdown with 1:47 to go in the first period. Reserve fullback Windell Campbell capped an 80pyard drive by plunging over from the one. The march covered 14 plays.

Southern had several other scoring opportunities but couldn't cash in. It was their third straight defeat and fourth in nine games so far.

Southern has one game left, at Chattanooga Thanksgving Day. State finished the campaign with an 8-2 mark, the only losses coming to Mississippi and Mississippi State.

The vctory broke a jnx for the Tennessee team which had never won here since the series began in 1952.

Both teams had 12 first downs and State had only a 13-yard edge in total offense, 250-237.

Southern gained 172 yards along the ground and added 65 on five of 11 passes.

State rushed for 125 yards and picked up the same number on 6 of 12 pass completions.

Wright, architect of the State victory, ironically is from Columbus, Miss., and only went to Memphis State after his home-state schools turned him down because he was too small.

Iowa Finishes Season With Fighting Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Iowa, ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press football poll, closes its regular season Saturday in a traditional game with Notre Dame.

The Hawkeyes, who were beaten only by Minnesota in eight starts and regained prestige with a 35-12 thumping of Ohio State last week, will be shooting for national honors and a possible Rose Bowl bid with a closing triumph. They are at least a 14-point favorite.

The game could be the last as a coach for Iowa's Forest Evashevski, who is slated to devote full time to being athletic director. Strongly rumored as his successor is Jerry Burns, a member of Evy's staff for the last six years.

Victory over Notre Dame would square Evashevski's record against the Irish. Since he became head Hawkeye coach in 1952, the Irish have won four times, Iowa three and there was one tie. Notre Dame won at Iowa City last year in the closing minutes, 20-19.

In all, the two schools have met 18 times with Notre Dame holding a 9-6 edge with three ties.

Jofre Batters Eloy Sanchez For Mitt Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brazil's Eder Jofre captured the National Boxing Association version of the world bantamweight championship Friday Friday night with a spectacular one-punch knockout of Mexico's Eloy Sanchez in the sixth round of their scheduled 15-round fight.

A terrific right to the jaw floored the game little Mexican and he was counted out, first flat on his face and then twisting over on his back, after 1 minute, 30 seconds of the sixth frame.

Both boxers weighed 118.

Wild confusion broke out and police and special guards rushed to the ring to toss out scores of delirious Brazilians who got into the ring to congratulate their hero.

It took a reinforced guard to get Jofre out of the ring as his supporters in the crowd of 6,000 or more shook the Olympic Auditorium with cheers.

Jofre, the first Brazilian to win even a big piece of the world championship, was well ahead on points and had scored an eight-count knockdown in the fifth round. But the aroused Sanchez rallied in the last minute of the fifth as his countrymen set up a roar of approval.

As the pair closed in, Sanchez was doing well. A right to the jaw sent the Brazilian's mouthpiece flying across the ring.

But no sooner had the Sanchez backers let loose with a cheer, than the end came for their newfound idol.

Jofre unleashed a short explosive right. It caught Sanchez flush on the jaw and sent him into almost a somersault as he pitched over on his back.

Referee Mushy Callahan counted but it was several long moments before Sanchez was able to arouse himself and be led to his corner.

Until the climactic sixth the fifth round was the best of what had been a fast and crowd-pleasing match.

Sanchez got to one knee in the early count. At about six it appeared he might not make it, but then he got up just as Callahan reached eight.

Watching at ringside was Jose Becerra of Mexico, the young man who won the undisputed world championship from Halimi in 1958, and then retired last summer.

The retirement came after Sanchez had belted out Becerra in eight rounds in Juarez, Mexico, Aug. 30, 1960.

Jofre has agreed to meet Halimi got back into the scene when he defeated Ireland's Freddie Gilroy last Oct. 25.

Jofre's knockout victory was his 22nd in 38 fights. He never has been defeated but has been held to three draws. Sanchez had been stopped three times, prior to this one, but all were technical knockouts from cuts.

Hockey Loop Will Not Play Off Tie Tilts

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Minnesota, quietly nursing hopes of a Rose Bowl bid, shoots for a share of the Big Ten championship Saturday when they meet upset-minded Wisconsin in the 69th renewal of an old football rivalry.

Dumped from the unbeaten ranks by upstart Purdue last week, the Gophers must win to earn a tie for the title with Iowa. The Hawkeyes finished Big Ten play a week ago with a 5-1 mark.

Wisconsin, the 1959 conference champion belted by four of six league opponents in an unsuccessful defense of the crown, pins its hopes on a healthy Ron Miller, a sensational sophomore.

The slick quarterback has been hobbled by a pair of sprained ankles the past few weeks but is reported fit again.

The Gophers, dropped from first to fourth place in the national rankings by the 23-14 loss to Purdue, rate only a 7-point favorite despite its 7-1 overall record and Wisconsin's 4-4 mark against all opponents.

Minnesota has not won a game on Wisconsin's home field since 1948.

Miller will be out to capture the Big Ten passing and total offense titles. In six conference games, he has connected on 62 of 120 passes for 860 yards. His total yardage on offense is 903.

GOOD PASSING GAME

Rebels Win, 19-13 Over Tough Cats

RUSTON (Special) — West Monroe ended regular season play here last night with a hard-fought defensive 19 - 14 victory over Ruston's stubborn Bearcats.

Buck Fox, who intercepted two Ruston passes in clutch situations, got the Rebels going in the first quarter by hauling in a punt by the Bearcats' Jerry Hood, picking up his blockers and sprinting 74 yards to paydirt. Fullback John Covington kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 2:50 minutes remaining in the first period.

Ruston dug in on the defensive, sparked by guard Allen Carpenter, center Andy Clark and end Jerry Hood, and held the Rebels scoreless for the rest of the quarter and came back to knot the score with 3:40 minutes left in the half on Ronnie Graham's plunge over from two yards out. Hood added the PAT.

With only a minute left in the first half the Rebels came storming back moving the ball to Ruston's 18 yard line. From that the Rebs pulled off the same play that had worked for them in preceding games. VanZile handed off to halfback Don Harrel who stopped and passed back to VanZile in the clear for the touchdown. This time the extra point attempt was no good and West Monroe left the field at halftime with a 13-7 lead.

Both teams settled down to a tough defensive war in the third quarter, neither able to keep a drive going and the period ended without a score.

Ruston became fired up in the final quarter, throwing everything at the Rebels in a last shot at a win. Flashy quarterback Melvin Shows found end R. B. Williams in the clear at the Rebel 23 yard line, threw a perfect strike and the towering flank man pulled it in for a touchdown to tie the score at 13-13. Hood's talented toe put the Bearcats' ahead with five minutes left in the game.

Buck Fox proved to be the hero intercepting a Bearcat pass to end a threat in the final quarter and the Rebels got their winning drive going. In the last two minutes of play the Rebs pulled it out with a 38 yard pass from John Covington to glue - fingered Freddy Hooter. The kick failed but the Rebels already had enough to end the season with a good 8-3 record.

End Tojo Green had another good defensive night for the Rebels, along with teammates Butch LaBrano and Richard Drew.

Gophers Try To Capture Title Share

MONTREAL (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Friday the NHL considers a tie game a legitimate result of a sports contest and that overtime tends to defeat balanced competition.

"It's a matter of policy with us and we have found it highly acceptable as reflected in attendance," said Campbell.

He was commenting on a statement in New York by Dick Canning, president of the American Hockey League, who was critical of failure of the NHL to use overtime. Canning said in an interview that NHL fans "have a right to expect more than they're getting."

Campbell said the AHL can do as it pleases. "I have no desire to criticize their show and see no point in them trying to knock ours. If their fans want it, that's all right with us."

NHL records show that in the five years prior to discontinuance of overtime in 1942, only 30 per cent of cities were broken by playing overtime.

"Overtime wasn't worth it as far as we are concerned," said Campbell. "We consider around 20 percent ties satisfactory. If the percentage runs much higher we can control it by increasing penalties on fouls. Soccer, the most widely played game, has a high percentage of ties."

Campbell said starting times of NHL games are timed at accommodating spectators, many of them commuters. "They want to see a full game. Overtime imposes an inconvenience upon them."

Experience of the NHL has been that overtime is dull, said Campbell, but a tie on the road is a moral victory for the visiting team.

"If there is overtime, the team with the greatest strength is most likely to win. This defeats the purpose of balanced competition.

Neville, Aimed At Playoffs, Conquers Ouachita, 16-0

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Neville found just two leaks in Ouachita's otherwise watertight defense, gushed through for a pair of touchdowns and sank the charged-up Lions, 16-0, last night, winding up a second straight unbeaten season with its 21st victory in a row.

Quarterback Beverly Franks danced 44 yards down the sidelines early in the second period for the first Neville touchdown. Then he, end Sperry Brown and fullback Ralph Roberts pulled off a perfectly - executed pass and pitchout for the other TD in the third.

A blocked punt that went out of bounds in the end zone gave Neville's its final two points. Neal Gunn ran for the extra point after the first touchdown and Bill Becton ran the other PAT.

The victory sent Neville into defense of its class AA state championship with Louisiana's longest winning streak. Bill Ruple's Tigers won 12 games last year and last night's triumph was No. 9 of 1960.

STATISTICS	Neville	Ouachita

Ouachita fought gamely to avert its fifth straight defeat after five opening wins. The Lions contained Neville's sprinters most of the way and got eight first downs to Neville's three. They drove to the Neville 20 in the first quarter and to the 38, 30, 31 and 36 later but could never come up with a six - pointer.

Linebacker Roy Walton, Don Ellen, Johnny Butler, Johnny Roach and Tommy Beaube were the defensive stars for the Lions and Ted Smith and Herbert Perry were the standouts in a ball - control offense. Smith gained 44 yards in 12 carries and Perry 31 in 10.

Neville got great defense from Mike Wilson, a linebacker who personally stalled Ouachita's first quarter drive, Jack Burton, Robert Payne, Robert Turner and Brown. Franks was the top ground - gainer for the Tigers, ending up with a net of 44 yards in four carries. Neal Gunn got 40 yards in 11 trips.

Ouachita ground as far as the Tiger 20 after taking the opening kickoff, getting a 13-yard trip around end by Smith for the biggest gain on the march, a drive that started on the Ouachita 37. Perry picked up two nine - yard gains around end for the Lions and the last one put the ball on the 21.

James Cromwell gained a yard but Wilson put a stop to the long gaining reverses by bursting through to spill Smith for a six-yard loss. On the next play he trapped Perry for a minus five. That killed the drive although Cromwell gained five on the next play. Then the Lion quarterback tried to pass, had to run and was dropped for a five - yard loss and Neville took over.

Neither team could get moving the rest of the first period and Neville took over on the Lion 44 after a punt early in the second. On first down, Franks circled right end, shook off three tackles and swept down the sileline for the touchdown. Gunn ran the Pat to make it 7-0 with 1 :05 left in the second.

Ouachita came nearest a touchdown a few plays later. With first and 10 at the Lion 44 after a punt, Cromwell wheeled out and threw to Smith, all alone. The speedy halfback went for 26 yards before Robert Payne, the last man with a chance to get him, pushed him out of bounds on the Neville 30.

On the next play, however, the Lions drew a 15-yard holdiing rap back to the 42. Cromwell then hit Smith again for five yards but his third down pass at the 36 was intercepted by Payne on the 21.

Just before the half ended, the Lions went to the Tiger 32, thanks to an 11 - yard run by Cromwell but two passes were incomplete and another lost four yards.

Late in the third, Neville took over after a punt on its 33, Gunn returning the kick 21 yards. Becton and Gunn gained one each and Don Brant picked up six. Then Franks tossed a jump pass to Brown on the 20. Brown was hit immediately but pitched back to Roberts, under a full head of steam. Roberts charged into the end zone standing up, Becton ran the PAT and it was 14-0 with 2:25 left in the quarter.

Midway of the fourth, the Tigers punted dead on their 40 and Ouachita moved to the 31, Perry gaining 12 of the yards. But one pass was incomplete on third down and Cromwell lost four trying to threw on fourth.

A Payne punt into the end zone set up the safety. Two Lion passes were incomplete from the 20 but Cormwell hit Beaube for three yards on third. Then Bubba Via went back to punt. The Tigers charged through and Robert Turner blocked the kick. The ball skidded back into the end zone and out of bounds for a safety, Becton almost recovering it for a touchdown before it went out.

The game ended about seven plays later.

Wright Pass Puts Memphis Over Southern

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — A spectacular 82-yard pass play in the fourth quarter carried Mephis State to a 7-6 victory over Mississippi Southern before 12,500 fans Friday night.

Southern scored its touchdown with 1:47 to go in the first period. Reserve fullback Windell Campbell capped an 80pyard drive by plunging over from the one. The march covered 14 plays.

Southern had several other scoring opportunities but couldn't cash in. It was their third straight defeat and fourth in nine games so far.

Southern has one game left, at Chattanooga Thanksgving Day. State finished the campaign with an 8-2 mark, the only losses coming to Mississippi and Mississippi State.

Iowa Finishes Season With Fighting Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Iowa, ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press football poll, closes its regular season Saturday in a traditional game with Notre Dame.

The Hawkeyes, who were beaten only by Minnesota in eight starts and regained prestige with a 35-12 thumping of Ohio State last week, will be shooting for national honors and a possible Rose Bowl bid with a closing triumph. They are at least a 14-point favorite.

The game could be the last as a coach for Iowa's Forest Evashevski, who is slated to devote full time to being athletic director. Strongly rumored as his successor is Jerry Burns, a member of Evy's staff for the last six years.

Victory over Notre Dame would square Evashevski's record against the Irish. Since he became head Hawkeye coach in 1952, the Irish have won four times, Iowa three and there was one tie. Notre Dame won at Iowa City last year in the closing minutes, 20-19.

In all, the two schools have met 18 times with Notre Dame holding a 9-6 edge with three ties.

Jofre Batters Eloy Sanchez For Mitt Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brazil's Eder Jofre captured the National Boxing Association version of the world bantamweight championship Friday Friday night with a spectacular one-punch knockout of Mexico's Eloy Sanchez in the sixth round of their scheduled 15-round fight.

A terrific right to the jaw floored the game little Mexican and he was counted out, first flat on his face and then twisting over on his back, after 1 minute, 30 seconds of the sixth frame.

Both boxers weighed 118.

Wild confusion broke out and police and special guards rushed to the ring to toss out scores of delirious Brazilians who got into the ring to congratulate their hero.

It took a reinforced guard to get Jofre out of the ring as his supporters in the crowd of 6,000 or more shook the Olympic Auditorium with cheers.

Jofre, the first Brazilian to win even a big piece of the world championship, was well ahead on points and had scored an eight-count knockdown in the fifth round. But the aroused Sanchez rallied in the last minute of the fifth as his countrymen set up a roar of approval.

As the pair closed in, Sanchez was doing well. A right to the jaw sent the Brazilian's mouthpiece flying across the ring.

But no sooner had the Sanchez backers let loose with a cheer, than the end came for their newfound idol.

Jofre unleashed a short explosive right. It caught Sanchez flush on the jaw and sent him into almost a somersault as he pitched over on his back.

Referee Mushy Callahan counted but it was several long moments before Sanchez was able to arouse himself and be led to his corner.

Until the climactic sixth the fifth round was the best of what had been a fast and crowd-pleasing match.

Sanchez got to one knee in the early count. At about six it appeared he might not make it, but then he got up just as Callahan reached eight.

Watching at ringside was Jose Becerra of Mexico, the young man who won the undisputed world championship from Halimi in 1958, and then retired last summer.

The retirement came after Sanchez had belted out Becerra in eight rounds in Juarez, Mexico, Aug. 30, 1960.

Jofre has agreed to meet Halimi got back into the scene when he defeated Ireland's Freddie Gilroy last Oct. 25.

Jofre's knockout victory was his 22nd in 38 fights. He never has been defeated but has been held to three draws. Sanchez had been stopped three times, prior to this one, but all were technical knockouts from cuts.

Rebels Win, 19-13 Over Tough Cats

RUSTON (Special) — West Monroe ended regular season play here last night with a hard-fought defensive 19 - 14 victory over Ruston's stubborn Bearcats.

Buck Fox, who intercepted two Ruston passes in clutch situations, got the Rebels going in the first quarter by hauling in a punt by the Bearcats' Jerry Hood, picking up his blockers and sprinting 74 yards to paydirt. Fullback John Covington kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 2:50 minutes remaining in the first period.

Ruston dug in on the defensive, sparked by guard Allen Carpenter, center Andy Clark and end Jerry Hood, and held the Rebels scoreless for the rest of the quarter and came back to knot the score with 3:40 minutes left in the half on Ronnie Graham's plunge over from two yards out. Hood added the PAT.

With only a minute left in the first half the Rebels came storming back moving the ball to Ruston's 18 yard line. From that the Rebs pulled off the same play that had worked for them in preceding games. VanZile handed off to halfback Don Harrel who stopped and passed back to VanZile in the clear for the touchdown. This time the extra point attempt was no good and West Monroe left the field at halftime with a 13-7 lead.

Both teams settled down to a tough defensive war in the third quarter, neither able to keep a drive going and the period ended without a score.

Ruston became fired up in the final quarter, throwing everything at the Rebels in a last shot at a win. Flashy quarterback Melvin Shows found end R. B. Williams in the clear at the Rebel 23 yard line, threw a perfect strike and the towering flank man pulled it in for a touchdown to tie the score at 13-13. Hood's talented toe put the Bearcats' ahead with five minutes left in the game.

Buck Fox proved to be the hero intercepting a Bearcat pass to end a threat in the final quarter and the Rebels got their winning drive going. In the last two minutes of play the Rebs pulled it out with a 38 yard pass from John Covington to glue - fingered Freddy Hooter. The kick failed but the Rebels already had enough to end the season with a good 8-3 record.

End Tojo Green had another good defensive night for the Rebels, along with teammates Butch LaBrano and Richard Drew.

Gophers Try To Capture Title Share

MONTREAL (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Friday the NHL considers a tie game a legitimate result of a sports contest and that overtime tends to defeat balanced competition.

"It's a matter of policy with us and we have found it highly acceptable as reflected in attendance," said Campbell.

He was commenting on a statement in New York by Dick Canning, president of the American Hockey League, who was critical of failure of the NHL to use overtime. Canning said in an interview that NHL fans "have a right to expect more than they're getting."

Campbell said the AHL can do as it pleases. "I have no desire to criticize their show and see no point in them trying to knock ours. If their fans want it, that's all right with us."

NHL records show that in the five years prior to discontinuance of overtime in 1942, only 30 per cent of cities were broken by playing overtime.

"Overtime wasn't worth it as far as we are concerned," said Campbell. "We consider around 20 percent ties satisfactory. If the percentage runs much higher we can control it by increasing penalties on fouls. Soccer, the most widely played game, has a high percentage of ties."

Campbell said starting times of NHL games are timed at accommodating spectators, many of them commuters. "They want to see a full game. Overtime imposes an inconvenience upon them."

Experience of the NHL has been that overtime is dull, said Campbell, but a tie on the road is a moral victory for the visiting team.

"If there is overtime, the team with the greatest strength is most likely to win. This defeats the purpose of balanced competition.

No Decision In Los Angeles Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — The American League Friday deferred until Tuesday a decision on the ownership of the new Los Angeles franchise after meeting with Commissioner Ford Frick and sending Del Webb west to meet with Waltter O'Malley.

Joe Cronin headed a four-man committee that met with Frick during a mid-afternoon recess. Earlier in the day the league heard one Los Angeles applicant in person—Charles Finley, an insurance broker from Gary, Ind.— and received several bids by phone and wire. Cronin refused to identify any of the bidders except Finley who said he had $5 million of his own money to put in the club.

Because of the problems involved in the Los Angeles situation and the short time remaining for Elwood Quesada to name a general manager for Washington, it was decided to postpone the selection of players for the new franchises from Sunday to Friday, Nov. 25.

Each of the eight "old" clugs listed 15 draft eligibles from their current rosters. Each club will lose seven men with each new club acquiring title to 28 men at $75,000 each or $2.1 million total.

Such familiar names as Gene Woodling or the Baltimore Orioles, Don Newcombe of the Cleveland Indians, Bob Cerv of the New York Yankees, Ted Kluszewski of the Chicago White Sox, Eddie Yost of Detroit and Hank Bauer of Kansas City were reported on the lists which were not released officially.

The Los Angeles situation is complicated by Commissioner Frick's stand insisting on a "fair and equitable" amendment to baseball's territorial rule. A baseball rule must be amended before either Los Angeles or New York can have a second club.

It can not be amended formally until Dec. 8 at a joint meeting of the majors in St. Louis. An amendment that Frick considers suitable could resolve the problem as the commissioner casts the decisive vote in case the leagues disagree.

Webb has been asked by Cronin to meet with O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, presumably to discuss what conditions the National League would insist upon for permitting another team to share its terriory.

I also was believed that Webb would look into some of the groups who have submitted bids for the new franchise.

"We have a number of applicants for the franchise," said Cronin. "We will consider all of them in the meanwhile."

Cronin said the meeting between Frick and the American League committee was "agreeable." He said the group told the commissioner, "We would be glad to sit down with O'Malley to talk over matters pertaining to an American League club playing in the Los Angeles Coliseum."

Quesada, who heads the 10-man group that will operate the Washington club, had hoped to lure General Manager Frank Lane away from Cleveland, but the executive decided to remain with the Indians. Quesada had hopes of lining up an adviser on players, if not a permanent general manager, in the next day or two.

If neither club has a general manager by next Friday, it is possible that some sort of a committee, including Cronin, will make the selections.

The usual inter-league trading without waivers will start Monday as scheduled, but no American League team may trade anyone on the 15-player lists they submitted as draft eligibles.

The appearance of Finley was a surprise to many although he had tried to buy the Philadelphia A's, Detroit and the Chicago White Sox at various times.

Finley said he had an agreement with Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg to buy their 54 per cent interest in the Chicago White Sox if they decided to leave Chicago. When he read in the papers that Greenberg no longer was in the picture at Los Angeles, he decided to fly to New York and apply for the Los Angeles Franchise.

It was reported that one of the telephone or wire bidders was J. A. Smith, an industrialist who owns part of the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast League and had been identified with the "Greenberg Group" last week.

Players listed as eligible for draft by the new clubs are:

Neale Frazer, MacKay Meet In Net Final

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The two top tennis stars of the United States and Australia, Barry MacKay and Neale Fraser, will meet Saturday in the final of the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

It could be an early pointer to the Davis Cup prospects for the two old rivals could very well play the deciding match in the challenge round on the same White City Stadium courts here Dec. 26-28. First, however, the United States has to beat the Philippines, Nov. 22-24, and then Italy, Dec. 9-11.

Fraser has recovered completely from a siege of food poisoning which hampered his play in his semifinals with countryman Bob Hewitt. Despite the illness, Fraser the U.S. and Wimbledon champion, won in four sets.

The American camp still was elated over MacKay's come-from-behind, five-set triumph over Rod Laver, the Australian champion and Davis Cup singles player, in Thursday's semifinals.

"It was one of the greatest games I have ever seen," said U.S. non-playing Captain David Freed.

The Americans were hopeful that the tall Dayton, Ohio, blaster would beat Fraser and give the United States its first singles title in this tournament since Vic Seixas captured it in 1951.

Indians, Tech Tangle In Grid Finale Here

Visitors Aiming For Title Share

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

The two rivals square off at 8 o'clock in Northeast's Brown Stadium.

At stake this evening in the last game of the season for both teams are Tech's title hopes, a three - game Northeast home field winning streak and, incidentially, the mythical football championship of north Louisiana. Both Tech and Northeast have beaten north Louisiana's other GSC school, Northwestern.

Tech, undisputed champion of the GSC last fall, has won three league games and lost one. It shares the conference lead with two other teams, Southeastern and Southwestern, as the little circuit goes into its last Saturday as tight as ever.

A victory for Joe Aillet's Techmen, ranked fifth among the nation's small colleges by United Press International, will give them at least a part of the GSC title for the seventh time. Tech has won or shared the title every season except five since the league started in 1948.

Northeast has no such tradition to protect and enjoys nothing better than spoiling things for their Ruston neighbors. They did it once, back in 1956 when a 7-0 Northeast victory cost Tech the loop crown.

Northeast's Indians have been winless on the road and unbeatable at home. They lost to East Texas, 13-6, Arlington, 16-0, McNeese 14-8, Southeastern, 26-0, Southwestern, 87, and Delta State, 27-0, away from home but tripped Arkansas State, 13-6, Nothwestern, 7-6, and Jacksonville, 35-0, at Brown Stadium.

Tech opened the season with a 20-0 blanking of Lamar Tech, was upset by Arkansas State, 7-3, edged McNeese, 15-14, lost to Southwestern, 6-2, then beat Pensacola Navy, 28-13, Northwestrn, 13-7, McMurry, 23-7, Southeastern, 17-14 and Mississippi Southern, 10-7.

Featuring the top yardage pro ducer in the conference, quarterback Mickey Slaughter, Tech will present a versatile offense with Slaughter throwing to his favorite target, end Tom Causey, and Paul Hynes, Max Rudd, Jack Howard, Jack Lestage and Dave Williamson handling most of the running chores.

Bud Alexander's toe has been an important part of the Tech offense also. Alexander field goals provided the margin of victory in the Southeastern and Southern contests.

Tech is expected to have one starter, all - GSC center Jim Campbell, out of action with a knee injury while three Northeast players are question marks.

The Northeast injured are guards Perry Beaver and Dan Keith and halfback Don Blackwelder. Beaver has been held out of practice this week with a pulled muscle, Keith has some bruised ribs and Blackwelder's bad knee is expected to sideline him. Several other Indians are nursing bruises but none serious.

"Our boys have been really working for this game," Rowan said. "We know Tech has a fine team and it will take a supreme effort on our part to handle them at all."

Northeast will depend on the running of halfback Al Ott, the club's top rusher with 251 yards in 66 carries, Ferdy Cruce, second in rushing with 250 yards for a 5.0 average, Levy Redden and fullback Ed Thomas.

Quarterback Don Wattigny and Jack Webb will probably do most of the passing for the Indians, Wattigny has hit on 18 of 53 passes for 227 yards and Webb on 15 of 42 for 187 yards.

AFTER 27 YEARS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La (Special) — After 27 years of waiting, the Oak Grove Tigers defeated the Lake Providence Panthers on Hamley Field here last night, 28-14. It was Lake Providence's homecoming.

The Tiger ace, Ronnie Myrick, scooted two yards for the first touchdown and also ran for the point.

George Murphy went over from the one a few minutes later, and Myrick ran for the point to give the invaders an early 14-0 edge.

Myrick counted his second TD from the two, and D.C. Sowell, fullback, counted the final Oak Grove touchdown on a two-yard plunge. E. Lee Trichell added the final conversion for the invaders.

Gary Parker and Mitchell Boyett scored the Lake Providence touchdowns.

Parker counted on a 12-yard dash in the first quarter, and Steve Honeycutt, a guard, kicked the point. Boyett tallied from the two, and Honeycutt again converted.

Oak Grove made 15 first downs against eight for Lake Providence. The Tigers got 168 yards rushing, and Lake Providence tallied 149.

BLOCK BEARS, 13-6

After a dull first quarter Block quarterback Billy Brooks got things going with a two - yard smash over center for the Bears' first score. Fullback J. S. Fairbanks kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead. The touchdown was wet up by a Block fumble recovery on their own 26 and it climaxed a 74 yard drive. The Tigers scored shortly after the opening kickoff in the second half when halfback Johnny Young went 15 yards for a touchdown.

In the final period Block tackle Richard Richard put the game on ice by intercepting a pass and traveling 11 yards for a touchdown. Block was in scoring position again as the game ended with a first down on the Tigers two yard line. Block had 15 first downs to Sicily Island's 3. The Bears now stand 10-1 overall and 6-1 in district and the Tigers are 7-3 overall and 4-2 in district play.

BASTROP 19, J-H 13

JONESBORO, La. (Special) A 55-yard romp by fullback Larry McNeely in the third quarter brought Bastrop from behind to defeat the Jonesboro-Hodges Tigers, 19-13, here last night.

The Jackson parish Tigers enjoyed a 13-12 edge, thanks to touchdowns by Ronnie Carson and Charles Fullerton, plus Carson's extra point running, until McNeeley got loose on his payoff dash for the Rams.

Bastrop counted first in the touchdown swapping when McNeeley went over from the one in the first period.

Carson's J-H touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the second period tied the score, but Bastrop quarterback Edward Worley fired a 15-yard touchdown pass to halfback Charles Magee and the Rams were in front again.

Then Fullerton got away on a 44-yard touchdown run for J-H in the third quarter, and Carson ran for the first of the evening's extra points to give the Tigers the lead for the first time.

The lead was shortlived, however, as McNeeley got away a few minutes later, and Magee added the extra on a run.

The game ended the season for both teams.

J-H had eleven first downs to nine for Bastrop. J.-H got 164 yards rushing and 59 passing. Bastrop rushed for 200 and passed for 27.

WISNER 26, CROWVILLE 0

WISNER, La. (Special) — The Wisner Bulldogs used long marches and some long runs to conquer the Crowville Bulldogs, 26-0, here last night.

"Sonny" Bundrick powered Wisner with tow touchdowns, passed for another, had one called back, and added two extra points.

Wisner covered a fumble on its own 23 early in the game and marched 62 yards for the first TD, Bundrick running the last 13 yards.

W. H. Sanders recovered a fumble on the Wisner eight in the second quarter, and D. D. Smith proptly sprinted 92 yards for the touchdown that gave Wisner a 13-0 edge at the half.

Wisner turned on a 70 - yard touchdown march in the third quarter, capping the drive as Bundrick fired a 14 - yard touchdown pass to Michael Carwell.

An 80- yard drive in the fourth period was climaxed by a 50-yard TD run by Bundrick to end the scoring.

Two Wisner touchdowns were nullified by penalities in the third quarter, one a 70 - yard gallop by Bundrick and the other a 40-yard run by Smith.

Wisner had 18 first downs to Crowville's nine. Wisner piled up 331 yards rushing and got 34 passing. Crowville totalled 131 yards, six of them passing.

Quesada, who heads the 10-man group that will operate the Washington club, had hoped to lure General Manager Frank Lane away from Cleveland, but the executive decided to remain with the Indians. Quesada had hopes of lining up an adviser on players, if not a permanent general manager, in the next day or two.

If neither club has a general manager by next Friday, it is possible that some sort of a committee, including Cronin, will make the selections.

The usual inter-league trading without waivers will start Monday as scheduled, but no American League team may trade anyone on the 15-player lists they submitted as draft eligibles.

The appearance of Finley was a surprise to many although he had tried to buy the Philadelphia A's, Detroit and the Chicago White Sox at various times.

Finley said he had an agreement with Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg to buy their 54 per cent interest in the Chicago White Sox if they decided to leave Chicago. When he read in the papers that Greenberg no longer was in the picture at Los Angeles, he decided to fly to New York and apply for the Los Angeles Franchise.

It was reported that one of the telephone or wire bidders was J. A. Smith, an industrialist who owns part of the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast League and had been identified with the "Greenberg Group" last week.

Neale Frazer, MacKay Meet In Net Final

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The two top tennis stars of the United States and Australia, Barry MacKay and Neale Fraser, will meet Saturday in the final of the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

It could be an early pointer to the Davis Cup prospects for the two old rivals could very well play the deciding match in the challenge round on the same White City Stadium courts here Dec. 26-28. First, however, the United States has to beat the Philippines, Nov. 22-24, and then Italy, Dec. 9-11.

Fraser has recovered completely from a siege of food poisoning which hampered his play in his semifinals with countryman Bob Hewitt. Despite the illness, Fraser the U.S. and Wimbledon champion, won in four sets.

The American camp still was elated over MacKay's come-from-behind, five-set triumph over Rod Laver, the Australian champion and Davis Cup singles player, in Thursday's semifinals.

"It was one of the greatest games I have ever seen," said U.S. non-playing Captain David Freed.

The Americans were hopeful that the tall Dayton, Ohio, blaster would beat Fraser and give the United States its first singles title in this tournament since Vic Seixas captured it in 1951.

Indians, Tech Tangle In Grid Finale Here

Visitors Aiming For Title Share

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

The two rivals square off at 8 o'clock in Northeast's Brown Stadium.

At stake this evening in the last game of the season for both teams are Tech's title hopes, a three - game Northeast home field winning streak and, incidentially, the mythical football championship of north Louisiana. Both Tech and Northeast have beaten north Louisiana's other GSC school, Northwestern.

Tech, undisputed champion of the GSC last fall, has won three league games and lost one. It shares the conference lead with two other teams, Southeastern and Southwestern, as the little circuit goes into its last Saturday as tight as ever.

A victory for Joe Aillet's Techmen, ranked fifth among the nation's small colleges by United Press International, will give them at least a part of the GSC title for the seventh time. Tech has won or shared the title every season except five since the league started in 1948.

Northeast has no such tradition to protect and enjoys nothing better than spoiling things for their Ruston neighbors. They did it once, back in 1956 when a 7-0 Northeast victory cost Tech the loop crown.

Northeast's Indians have been winless on the road and unbeatable at home. They lost to East Texas, 13-6, Arlington, 16-0, McNeese 14-8, Southeastern, 26-0, Southwestern, 87, and Delta State, 27-0, away from home but tripped Arkansas State, 13-6, Nothwestern, 7-6, and Jacksonville, 35-0, at Brown Stadium.

Tech opened the season with a 20-0 blanking of Lamar Tech, was upset by Arkansas State, 7-3, edged McNeese, 15-14, lost to Southwestern, 6-2, then beat Pensacola Navy, 28-13, Northwestrn, 13-7, McMurry, 23-7, Southeastern, 17-14 and Mississippi Southern, 10-7.

Featuring the top yardage pro ducer in the conference, quarterback Mickey Slaughter, Tech will present a versatile offense with Slaughter throwing to his favorite target, end Tom Causey, and Paul Hynes, Max Rudd, Jack Howard, Jack Lestage and Dave Williamson handling most of the running chores.

Bud Alexander's toe has been an important part of the Tech offense also. Alexander field goals provided the margin of victory in the Southeastern and Southern contests.

Tech is expected to have one starter, all - GSC center Jim Campbell, out of action with a knee injury while three Northeast players are question marks.

The Northeast injured are guards Perry Beaver and Dan Keith and halfback Don Blackwelder. Beaver has been held out of practice this week with a pulled muscle, Keith has some bruised ribs and Blackwelder's bad knee is expected to sideline him. Several other Indians are nursing bruises but none serious.

"Our boys have been really working for this game," Rowan said. "We know Tech has a fine team and it will take a supreme effort on our part to handle them at all."

Northeast will depend on the running of halfback Al Ott, the club's top rusher with 251 yards in 66 carries, Ferdy Cruce, second in rushing with 250 yards for a 5.0 average, Levy Redden and fullback Ed Thomas.

Quarterback Don Wattigny and Jack Webb will probably do most of the passing for the Indians, Wattigny has hit on 18 of 53 passes for 227 yards and Webb on 15 of 42 for 187 yards.

AFTER 27 YEARS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La (Special) — After 27 years of waiting, the Oak Grove Tigers defeated the Lake Providence Panthers on Hamley Field here last night, 28-14. It was Lake Providence's homecoming.

The Tiger ace, Ronnie Myrick, scooted two yards for the first touchdown and also ran for the point.

George Murphy went over from the one a few minutes later, and Myrick ran for the point to give the invaders an early 14-0 edge.

Myrick counted his second TD from the two, and D.C. Sowell, fullback, counted the final Oak Grove touchdown on a two-yard plunge. E. Lee Trichell added the final conversion for the invaders.

Gary Parker and Mitchell Boyett scored the Lake Providence touchdowns.

Parker counted on a 12-yard dash in the first quarter, and Steve Honeycutt, a guard, kicked the point. Boyett tallied from the two, and Honeycutt again converted.

Oak Grove made 15 first downs against eight for Lake Providence. The Tigers got 168 yards rushing, and Lake Providence tallied 149.

BLOCK BEARS, 13-6

After a dull first quarter Block quarterback Billy Brooks got things going with a two - yard smash over center for the Bears' first score. Fullback J. S. Fairbanks kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead. The touchdown was wet up by a Block fumble recovery on their own 26 and it climaxed a 74 yard drive. The Tigers scored shortly after the opening kickoff in the second half when halfback Johnny Young went 15 yards for a touchdown.

In the final period Block tackle Richard Richard put the game on ice by intercepting a pass and traveling 11 yards for a touchdown. Block was in scoring position again as the game ended with a first down on the Tigers two yard line. Block had 15 first downs to Sicily Island's 3. The Bears now stand 10-1 overall and 6-1 in district and the Tigers are 7-3 overall and 4-2 in district play.

BASTROP 19, J-H 13

JONESBORO, La. (Special) A 55-yard romp by fullback Larry McNeely in the third quarter brought Bastrop from behind to defeat the Jonesboro-Hodges Tigers, 19-13, here last night.

The Jackson parish Tigers enjoyed a 13-12 edge, thanks to touchdowns by Ronnie Carson and Charles Fullerton, plus Carson's extra point running, until McNeeley got loose on his payoff dash for the Rams.

Bastrop counted first in the touchdown swapping when McNeeley went over from the one in the first period.

Carson's J-H touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the second period tied the score, but Bastrop quarterback Edward Worley fired a 15-yard touchdown pass to halfback Charles Magee and the Rams were in front again.

Then Fullerton got away on a 44-yard touchdown run for J-H in the third quarter, and Carson ran for the first of the evening's extra points to give the Tigers the lead for the first time.

The lead was shortlived, however, as McNeeley got away a few minutes later, and Magee added the extra on a run.

The game ended the season for both teams.

J-H had eleven first downs to nine for Bastrop. J.-H got 164 yards rushing and 59 passing. Bastrop rushed for 200 and passed for 27.

WISNER 26, CROWVILLE 0

WISNER, La. (Special) — The Wisner Bulldogs used long marches and some long runs to conquer the Crowville Bulldogs, 26-0, here last night.

"Sonny" Bundrick powered Wisner with tow touchdowns, passed for another, had one called back, and added two extra points.

Wisner covered a fumble on its own 28 early in the game and marched 62 yards for the first TD, Bundrick running the last 13 yards.

W. H. Sanders recovered a fumble on the Wisner eight in the second quarter, and D. D. Smith proptly sprinted 92 yards for the touchdown that gave Wisner a 13-0 edge at the half.

Wisner turned on a 70 - yard touchdown march in the third quarter, capping the drive as Bundrick fired a 14 - yard touchdown pass to Michael Carwell.

An 80- yard drive in the fourth period was climaxed by a 50-yard TD run by Bundrick to end the scoring.

Two Wisner touchdowns were nullified by penalities in the third quarter, one a 70 - yard gallop by Bundrick and the other a 40-yard run by Smith.

Wisner had 18 first downs to Crowville's nine. Wisner piled up 331 yards rushing and got 34 passing. Crowville totalled 131 yards, six of them passing.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Uneasy Missouri Takes On Kansas

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Surprising Missouri, the nation's top-ranked college football team, goes after the Big Eight Conference title Saturday while harboring even more fervent hopes of clinching its first national championship as a host of teams wind up the 1960 season.

But eyeing the already-nervous Tigers, who meet Kansas, are the nation's next five ranking teams as picked in the weekly Associated Press poll. All have illusions of wearing the crown that last year belonged to Syracuse.

Two of them Minnesota (No. 4) and Duke (No. 6) are involved in conference title struggles. There are three other such battles on Saturday's card and out of the whole business is going to come a fair line on the post-season bowls.

Missouri (9-0) already has an Orange Bowl bid locked up and can concentrate on its perfect season against the Jayhawks, who have lost to Iowa and Syracuse, and tied Oklahoma, in nine games. Even if Kansas should win, and the Jayhawks are 7-point underdogs, an NCAA ban on post-season play nullifies its bowl hopes.

If Missouri wins, it is reasonably certain of maintaining its top-ranking but must sweat out next week's games, where only Mississippi (No. 3) and Duke pose a threat. The rest of the aspirants finish Saturday.

More important to the Gophers (7-1) is that a victory could mean a ticket to the Rose Bowl. Minnesota has beaten Iowa (7-1) and this could turn out to be the determining factor in choosing between the two. The Gophers were upset last week by Purdue.

The Minnesota game is on television in the Midwest. Iowa's game against Notre Dame will be Coach Forest Evashevski's last for the Hawkeyes. He'll concentrate in the future on his post as athletic director.

Conference titles are on the line in the Atlantic Coast, and Skyline, while others can be determined in the Ivy and Southwest. Mississippi and ninth-ranked Auburn, the two-top active contenders for the Southeastern Conference title and a Sugar Bowl bid, do not engage in conference play until next week. Ole Miss is idle Saturday and Auburn (7-1) plays Florida State.

Duke (7-1) plays North Carolina (1-7) and a victory gives the Blue Devils the ACC crown and touts Duke to meet Missouri in the Orange Bowl. A Duke loss, coupled with a North Carolina State victory over South Carolina, would split the title between the Blue Devils and N.C. State.

Utah State (9-0) meets Utah (6-2). A victory brings State the Skyline Conference title. Here too, a loss coupled with a victory by Wyoming over Brigham Young, will split that title.

Yale, another of the nation's unbeatens at 8-0, can nail down the Ivy League title and its first perfect season since 1923 by beating ancient rival Harvard, whom it meets for the 77th time. There is a chance for a first place tie if the Eli lose and second-place Princeton beats Dartmouth. This is televised in the East.

Arkansas, No. 7 with a 7-2 mark, must beat Texas Tech to gain at least a tie for the Southwest title and guarantee a berth in the Cotton Bowl. Second-place Rice, which meets Texas Christin, must win its two remaining conference games for a share of the title.

Tenth-ranked Ohio State (6-2) plays Michigan (5-3) in a Big Ten game. Eighth-ranked Navy is idle, prepping for its big game next week against Army, also idle. Fifth-ranked Washington (8-1) with the Rose Bowl host spot sewn up for the second straight year, closes its regular season against Washington State (4-4-1). The Huskies expect All-America quarterback Bob Schloredt, out most of the season with a broken collar bone, to be available for punting chores.

New Mexico State (8-0) needs a victory over Hardin-Simmons to clinch a tie for the Border Conference title. Purdue and Indiana meet for the 63rd time while Virginia, holding the nation's longest losing string at 25, plays Maryland. A West Coast regionally televised game finds Stanford at California. Pitt and Penn State, both harboring bowl ambitions, meet for the 60th time.

Other games:

MIDWEST: Illinois at Northwestern, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Detroit at Michigan State, Nebraska at Oklahoma, Colorado at Oklahoma State, N. Texas State at Wichita, night, Ohio U. at So. Illinois.

Grid Players, Students In Theft Charge

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Five college students, including a track star and two football players from San Jose State, were released from jail Friday when District Attorney Louis P. Bergna decided not to press charges that they stole 44 sweaters from a clothing store.

They spent eight hours in jail. The two football players were dropped from the squad and their scholarships were canceled. Coach Bob Titchenal said he dropped them because they broke training by being out of bed after 11 p.m.

One, Phillip Clifton, 21, was scheduled to start at halfback Friday night against the University of Idaho. The other was Lenard Rhodes, 20, fullback.

The others were Bob Poynter, 22, sprinter on the San Jose State track team; Eldridge Johns Jr., 20, San Jose State student, and Maurice Jackson, 23, San Jose City College student.

The district attorney said he felt justice would not be served by prosecution, since all five had unblemished records and taking the carton of $300 worth of sweaters from a stack behind the store was "a spur of the moment thing."

He warned, however, he could prosecute any time in the next three years if they didn't stay out of trouble.

Police said the box of sweaters was one of three delivered to the store of Edwin Mosher, president of the San Jose State College Alumni Association. After a clerk reported one box missing, police reported finding 27 of the sweaters in Jackson's apartment and the others in the trunk of his car.

Officers quoted Jackson as implicating the other four.

Jackson, an outstanding hurdler in high school at Toledo, Ohio, had to quit San Jose State because of low grades and gone to city college but had hopes of reentering state and becoming a track man there.

LSU Closes Home Season Against Deacons Tonight

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) — A successful final appearance before home fans is the goal of Louisiana State's Tigers Saturday night as the Bengals attempt to halt the fabulous passing of Wake Forest quarterback Norman Snead and gain victory number four.

Snead's prolific passing plus the last home game for LSU should attract 45,000 fans to Tiger Stadium for Saturday's 8 p.m. kickoff.

Not in the past decade has a passer of Snead's ability come to Tiger Stadium. The Wake Forest quarterback has thrown for 1,236 yards and eight touchdowns this season. And his accurate long-passing should give LSU's defense numerous problems Saturday night.

The Tiger defense that has surrendered only three touchdowns this season will be trying to protect its goal line against a passer regarded as a "No. 1 prospect" by professional scouts.

Eight LSU seniors will be playing their final game in Tiger Stadium — center Charles Strange, elected team captain earlier this week, guard Ed McCreedy, ends Mickey Mangham, Andy Bourgeois and Gaynell Kinchen, quarterback Darryl Jenkins, halfback Hart Bourque and fullback Donnie Daye.

LSU enters the game with a 3-4-1 record after recovering from four close defeats. Tiger sophomores have continued to improve and have provided exciting football since a 6-6 tie with Ole Miss. Quarterback Lynn Amedee and fullback Charles Cranford have generated most of the offensive spark in the past three games.

Injuries have hobbled Mangham, Kinchen, Daye and fullback Earl Gros. Only Gros is expected to miss this game, however, while sophomore center Dennis Gaubatz, who suffered a broken thumb against Florida, may be able to return to defensive duty against Wake Forest.

LSU's probable starters are ends Bourgeois (174) and Mangham (196), tackles Bobby Richards (217) and Billy Booth (215), guards Roy Winston (219) and McCreedy (209), center Strange (210), quarterback Lynn Amedee (160), halfbacks Jerry Stovall (187) and Wendell Harris (185) and fullback Daye (190).

Florida Eleven Downs Southside

Southside High played give-away for the first two quarters yesterday, came back after the half to gain a 13-13 tie with Florida Industrial School early in the fourth period, then relaxed on pass defense and fell 26-13 to the visitors.

Both teams scored in sets of two quick touchdowns. Florida Industrial got two scores only two minutes apart in the first quarter, Southside got two quick ones at the end of the third and first of the fourth periods, Florida came back with two more closely spaced TD's late in the game, but time ran out before the Pels could get their second set.

STATISTICS

	Southside	Florida Industrials
First Downs	11	7
Yards Rushing	127	132
Passes	16-8	8-5
Fumbles Lost	3	1
Punting	1-30	4-29.5
Penalties	2-10	6-60

Southside fumbled and lost the ball on the game's opening kickoff and gave up a score on a 46 yard pass play from Florida Industrial quarterback Bill Lasseter to halfback Jim Gordon. The PAT was no good, but Lassiter and Gordon got together on a couple of option plays to mve the ball to Southside's 13 yard line n the visitors' next set of downs and Gordon took it over from there. This time halfback Bill Goodson kicked the extra point for a 13-0 halftime lead.

Southside kicked off to start the 3rd period, stopped the Florida razzle-dazzle plays to gain possession on the opponents' 13, and fullback Jim Wilson moved the ball to the two almost single handedly. Quarterback Aldon David sneaked it across and the PAT attempt failed.

The Pels got another drive going to open the fourth period, after guard Octave Douset stopped an enemy drive with two good defensive plays, and halfback Dale Perkins hit end Billy Brondum with a 14 yard pass for the score. The Pels worked the same pass play for the PAT and knotted the score, 13-13.

Florida Industrial caught Southside sleeping on pass defense following the next kickoff and Lassiter threw an opposite side of the field pass to end Bill Letasky for a 37 yard touchdown play. The PAT attempt failed.

In the fading minutes of the game the visitors put the win on ice when Lassiter sneaked the ball across from the three yard line to end a 33 yard drive, and passed to Letasky for the extra point and a 26-13 win.

THE FINEST IN THE COUNTRY

Everybody's All-America, Or, As Coach Sees His Boy

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The All-America durms beat lustily in every college in the land today and the following "team" illustrates the fervent wordage being dispensed.

This then is "The Team":

End: "Terrible Terrance" Tinselwick, Turkey Trot Tech, whose coach says "you think you can outrun him on an end sweep but he gets his nose in there. (Of course his nose is a mess and the ball carrier scores.) He's the finest end in the country."

End: "Glufingered Glen" Glubmyer, Embraceable U, whose coach says "caught more passes than even the co-eds. (The gals ain't much this year). He's the finest end in the country."

Tackle: "Wee Willie" Wyonski, Wildflower Wesleyan, whose coach says "he's six-nine and 290 and plays like nine-six and 920. He'll go far (I hope). He's the finest tackle in the country."

Tackle: J. C. M. Honeyboy) Smythe, Eyeohyou A. & I, whose coach says "makes 90 per cent of our tackles. (Of course we don't make many). A one-man gang. He's the finest tackle in the country."

Guard: "Granite Gus" Georgopolousky, Grated Parsnip U, whose coach says "what a blocker. (What a blocker, phooie!) He knocks everybody down. (Including his own ball carriers.) He's the finest guard in the country."

Guard: "Joltin' Jack" Jablonski, Tombstone Theology, whose coach says "strong, fast, magnificent. A barrel-chested demon who overpowers everybody. (Jack The Ripper?) He's the finest guard in the country."

Center: Chauncey (Immovable Ivan) Ivanovitch, Cornpone College, whose coach says "incredible speed downfield. Our 'head hunter' on punts returns. (Has his own head-curing system.) He's the finest center in the country."

Quarterback: "Threadneedle Theodore" Throckmorton, Two-tone Tech, whose coach says "a great pro prospect who pitches the ball unerringly (so we got no catchers) and who is a real mastermind (even though I can't convince the academic board). He's the finest quarterback in the country."

Halfback: "Swivelhips Sammy" Something - or - other, Swandown Seminary, whose coach says "undoubtedly one of the most elusive backs in the history of the game. Can run away from anybody (and does even if it means a loss.) He's the finest halfback in the country."

Halfback: "Pitchout Pete" Pfhitzk (pronounced) pfhitzk), Powderpuff A. & M., whose coach says "Pfhitzk is the greatest triple threat I've ever seen. (He runs and passes and we pray). He's the finest halfback in the country."

Fullback: "Dynamite Danny" Dumboczysworski, Diehard A&M, whose coach says "Dumbo is the most explosive runner we ever had. Our records show he picks up 8⅞ yards per alternate carry (losing .11⅛ yards very other carry). He's the finest fullback in the country."

Which pretty well takes care of the country.

But now it's time for the city boys to get into the act and picking a team which makes solid sense is going to call for a great deal of concentration and hard work, fellows.

Personally, if I ever hear of one player who isn't the "finest," that's the lad who's going to get my vote.

Pott, Gustin Tie In Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Johnny Pott, one of the most successful golfers this year, and Jon Gustin, who has yet to win a tourney, tied for the lead of the $15,000 Cajun Classic golf tournament at the halfway mark Friday night.

Pott, 25, of Shreveport, turned in the day's best round—a five-under-par 66 for a second round total of 136. Gustin, from Gladwyne, Pa., had a 69 to go with his first round 67.

Lionel Hebert, a native of Lafayette, and Al Balding of Toronto, Canada, were next at 137. Jay Hebert, Lionel's brother, and Frank Boynton of Orlando, Fla., tied at 13.

Pott, probably the most improved player on the tour, played through a steady shower over the 6,531-yard par 36-35—71 soggy Oakbourne Country Club course. He accounted for the most sensational shot of the day, a 25-yard trap shot which gave him a birdie, one of the five on his card.

While Pott has earned almost $24,000 on the tour, Gustin is well down the list with about $5,300 and is still looking for his first victory. A stylish swinger, Gustin hit 17 greens and holed a 20 footer for his longest putt of the day.

After Friday's round, the pros were cut off at 145, leaving 62 of them to play the final two rounds with nine amateurs.

Two top casualties of the cutoff were Bob Goalby and Jim Ferree, both of Crystal River, Fla. Goalby had 146, Ferree 149. One of the surviving amateurs was Alvin Dark of Lake Charles, manager of the San Francisco Giants, who had a 15.

Bald Eagle, Kelso Won't Race Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of Kelso and Bald Eagle, the two top contenders for horse of the year designation, decided to stand on the record Friday and neither horse will start in the 75,000 Gallant Fox Hanicap.

Although Bald Eagle won the invitational $100,000 Washington D.C. International at Laurel in his last start Nov. 11 for the second straight year, the opinion was that Kelso will get the No. 1 title. Kelso won eight of his nine races this year, the last six stakes victories in a row.

Gustave Ring's Don Poggio, an Argentine-bred distance runner, heads a field of 10 with 126 pounds for the tough mile and three-quarter Gallant Fox Saturday at Aqueduct. With Sammy Boulmetis riding, Don Poggio's the 7-5 early choice.

Kelso, a 2-year-old, is owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. du Pont, while the 5-year-old Bald Eagle is the star of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable Bald Eagle will race no more, and enters the stud in Kentucky. Kelso flies to California, his next major objective being the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity Jan. 28.

On Oct. 29 at Aqueduct, Kelso set an American record for two miles in beating Don Poggio and Bald Eagle in that order. The race was the $100,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup. Prior to that he won the Choice, Jerome, Discovery, Lawrence Realization and Hawthorne Gold Cup in succession. Kelso, a son of Your Host, earned $293,310 this season.

Bald Eagle, bay son of Nasrullah, started 11 times in 1960 and won five, with two seconds and two thirds, earning $398,085. He won the Widener and Gulfstream Handicaps in Florida, the Metropolitan and Aqueduct Handicaps in New York, as well as the Laurel International.

"I understand that the decision for horse of the year by now has been made" said Capt. Guggenheim in a statement announcing Bald Eagle would not start Saturday. He pointed out that the horse had run in three hard races since Oct. 22, and will retire "without a blemish," adding:

"The Gallant Fox would be an anti-climax to the brilliant career of a noble animal who has always been treated with consideration."

Garwol Choice In Pimlico Run

BALTIMORE (AP) — Garwol, one of Louis E. Wolfson's examples of "buying his way" into big-time racing, will be a slight favorite to win the $50,000-added Pimlico Futurity here Saturday.

The 2-year-old from Wolfson's Harbor View Farm will compete with a well-matched field of seven other juveniles over the 1 1-16 mile route.

With a gross purse of $110,760, the winner will take home $67,371 if all eight start.

None of the field has won a stakes victory, although Garwol was second by a head to stablemate Roving Minstrel in the Champagne Stakes at Belmont a couple of weeks ago. Last Friday, Garwol was second to Cain Hoy Stable's Regal Morn in a minor race at Laurel.

To Meet Jan. 24

Hank, Armstrong Tangle Tonight

The ten-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV, at 10 p.m. EST.

Hank, a stiff puncher from Detroit, makes his Garden debut with ten fights behind him this year. The 25-year-old contender won 7, lost 2 and drew in the other with Jesse Smith. The two defeats were to Hank Casey.

Five of Hank's victories were knockouts, over Jesse Bowdry, Sixto Rodriguez, Rory Calhoun, Victor Zalazar and Rudy Ellis. His record is 46-12-2, including 53 knockouts. This has earned him a No. 5 ranking among the 160-pound contenders.

Ducks Prefer Louisiana's Callers, 23-15

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Louisiana duck callers out-quacked an Arkansas team by a 23-15 score in a two-day quackoff, Raleigh Newman, captain of the Louisiana team, said.

The contest was held to let ducks decide which state's call was the best. Newman had charged Arkansas calls were strictly for contest and wouldn't lure ducks.

Leavell Smith of Stuttgart, Ark., said there weren't enough ducks around to make the contest meaningful. The weather was rainy, he added. "It was pretty pitiful," Smith said. "Louisiana hasn't gotten a migration from the north yet. Both sides agreed it wasn't much of a contest."

"There wasn't any doubt about the outcome as far as we're concerned," Newman said. "If the flight ducks were up, we'd have beaten them 10-1."

In Thursday's contest, Newman said he scored 5 points, Joe Roya 5, L. A. Hebert 3, Amos Faulk 2, and Noah Granger 1.

Newman said on the Arkansas team, Smith had 2; Lloyd McCollum, mayor of Stuttgart, 2; Kenneth McCollum 2; Lewis Wilhelm 2; and Bob Roberts 1.

After the first day's quacking, the score stood Louisiana 7, Arkansas 6.

One point was scored for bringing in one duck, two points for a group. A caller earned two points for a duck his opponent couldn't attract and three points for a group of ducks his opponent missed.

Stein Group Leaves A's To Kansas City

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A syndicate headed by Elliot H. Stein, Louis investment broker, withdrew Friday from negotiations for purchase of the Kansas City Athletics in favor of a rival Kansas City group.

The about-face came just after Stein met with representatives of Kansas City business and civic interests seeking control of the last-place American League club.

Stein said he and his associates are backing out because of disappointment expressed by Kansas City fans that control might pass to an outside group. But Byron Spencer, an attorney for the Kansas City group, was skeptical.

"I think they are withdrawing for one of two reasons," Spencer said. "One is that they concluded they could not get the other 48 per cent of the stock and the other that they bid too much for the club."

Co-executors of the estate of the late Arnold Johnson, who moved the club to Kansas City upon purchasing control, were authorized Monday to sell the estate's 52 per cent of the stock to the Stein syndicate.

Probae Judge Robert J. Dunne of Chicago, who granted the authority, has set another hearing for Monday on the matter. The judge had approved $1,820,000 as the price for the 52 per cent of the stock. Stein said the stock would be offered to the Kansas City group at an identical price.

Spencer's statement indicating the Kansas City group feels the price is too high left the fate of the A's in doubt. Asked what will happen now, Spencer said: "It is hard to tell. We'll go back to Chicago next week."

Stein's meeting was with J. W. Putsch, baseball committee chairman of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, and attorney Irvin Fane. The broker said the meeting here was arranged by utility executive J. Wesley McAfee at their behest. Spencer said the meeting was at Stein's invitation.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Uneasy Missouri Takes On Kansas

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Surprising Missouri, the nation's top-ranked college football team, goes after the Big Eight Conference title Saturday while harboring even more fervent hopes of clinching its first national championship as a host of teams wind up the 1960 season.

But eyeing the already-nervous Tigers, who meet Kansas, are the nation's next five ranking teams as picked in the weekly Associated Press poll. All have illusions of wearing the crown that last year belonged to Syracuse.

Two of them Minnesota (No. 4) and Duke (No. 6) are involved in conference title struggles. There are three other such battles on Saturday's card and out of the whole business is going to come a fair line on the post-season bowls.

Missouri (9-0) already has an Orange Bowl bid locked up and can concentrate on its perfect season against the Jayhawks, who have lost to Iowa and Syracuse, and tied Oklahoma, in nine games. Even if Kansas should win, and the Jayhawks are 7-point underdogs, an NCAA ban on post-season play nullifies its bowl hopes.

If Missouri wins, it is reasonably certain of maintaining its top-ranking but must sweat out next week's games, where only Mississippi (No. 3) and Duke pose a threat. The rest of the aspirants finish Saturday.

Iowa, second-ranked and with at least a share of the Big Ten title sewn up, plays Notre Dame (1-7), while Minnesota tries to get a tie for the Big Ten crown against Wisconsin.

More important to the Gophers (7-1) is that a victory could mean a ticket to the Rose Bowl. Minnesota has beaten Iowa (7-1) and this could turn out to be the determining factor in choosing between the two. The Gophers were upset last week by Purdue.

The Minnesota game is on television in the Midwest. Iowa's game against Notre Dame will be Coach Forest Evashevski's last for the Hawkeyes. He'll concentrate in the future on his post as athletic director.

Conference titles are on the line in the Atlantic Coast, and Skyline, while others can be determined in the Ivy and Southwest. Mississippi and ninth-ranked Auburn, the two-top active contenders for the Southeastern Conference title and a Sugar Bowl bid, do not engage in conference play until next week. Ole Miss is idle Saturday and Auburn (7-1) plays Florida State.

Duke (7-1) plays North Carolina (1-7) and a victory gives the Blue Devils the ACC crown and touts Duke to meet Missouri in the Orange Bowl. A Duke loss, coupled with a North Carolina State victory over South Carolina, would split the title between the Blue Devils and N.C. State.

Utah State (9-0) meets Utah (6-2). A victory brings State the Skyline Conference title. Here too, a loss coupled with a victory by Wyoming over Brigham Young, will split that title.

Yale, another of the nation's unbeatens at 8-0, can nail down the Ivy League title and its first perfect season since 1923 by beating ancient rival Harvard, whom it meets for the 77th time. There is a chance for a first place tie if the Eli lose and second-place Princeton beats Dartmouth. This is televised in the East.

Arkansas, No. 7 with a 7-2 mark, must beat Texas Tech to gain at least a tie for the Southwest title and guarantee a berth in the Cotton Bowl. Second-place Rice, which meets Texas Christin, must win its two remaining conference games for a share of the title.

Tenth-ranked Ohio State (6-2) plays Michigan (5-3) in a Big Ten game. Eighth-ranked Navy is idle, prepping for its big game next week against Army, also idle. Fifth-ranked Washington (8-1) with the Rose Bowl host spot sewn up for the second straight year, closes its regular season against Washington State (4-4-1). The Huskies expect All-America quarterback Bob Schloredt, out most of the season with a broken collar bone, to be available for punting chores.

New Mexico State (8-0) needs a victory over Hardin-Simmons to clinch a tie for the Border Conference title. Purdue and Indiana meet for the 63rd time while Virginia, holding the nation's longest losing string at 25, plays Maryland. A West Coast regionally televised game finds Stanford at California. Pitt and Penn State, both harboring bowl ambitions, meet for the 60th time.

Other games:

MIDWEST: Illinois at Northwestern, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Detroit at Michigan State, Nebraska at Oklahoma, Colorado at Oklahoma State, N. Texas State at Wichita, night, Ohio U. at So. Illinois.

SOUTHWEST: Abilene Christian at Trinity (Tex.), Baylor at SMU, Montana at New Mexico, Kansas State at Arizona.

Grid Players, Students In Theft Charge

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Five college students, including a track star and two football players from San Jose State, were released from jail Friday when District Attorney Louis P. Bergna decided not to press charges that they stole 44 sweaters from a clothing store.

They spent eight hours in jail. The two football players were dropped from the squad and their scholarships were canceled. Coach Bob Titchenal said he dropped them because they broke training by being out of bed after 11 p.m.

One, Phillip Clifton, 21, was scheduled to start at halfback Friday night against the University of Idaho. The other was Lenard Rhodes, 20, fullback.

The others were Bob Poynter, 22, sprinter on the San Jose State track team; Eldridge Johns Jr., 20, San Jose State student, and Maurice Jackson, 23, San Jose City College student.

The district attorney said he felt justice would not be served by prosecution, since all five had unblemished records and taking the carton of $300 worth of sweaters from a stack behind the store was "a spur of the moment thing."

He warned, however, he could prosecute any time in the next three years if they didn't stay out of trouble.

Police said the box of sweaters was one of three delivered to the store of Edwin Mosher, president of the San Jose State College Alumni Association. After a clerk reported one box missing, police reported finding 27 of the sweaters in Jackson's apartment and the others in the trunk of his car.

Officers quoted Jackson as implicating the other four.

Jackson, an outstanding hurdler in high school at Toledo, Ohio, had to quit San Jose State because of low grades and gone to city college but had hopes of reentering state and becoming a track man there.

LSU Closes Home Season Against Deacons Tonight

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) — A successful final appearance before home fans is the goal of Louisiana State's Tigers Saturday night as the Bengals attempt to halt the fabulous passing of Wake Forest quarterback Norman Snead and gain victory number four.

Snead's prolific passing plus the last home game for LSU should attract 45,000 fans to Tiger Stadium for Saturday's 8 p.m. kickoff.

Not in the past decade has a passer of Snead's ability come to Tiger Stadium. The Wake Forest quarterback has thrown for 1,236 yards and eight touchdowns this season. And his accurate long-passing should give LSU's defense numerous problems Saturday night.

The Tiger defense that has surrendered only three touchdowns this season will be trying to protect its goal line against a passer regarded as a "No. 1 prospect" by professional scouts.

Eight LSU seniors will be playing their final game in Tiger Stadium — center Charles Strange, elected team captain earlier this week, guard Ed McCreedy, ends Mickey Mangham, Andy Bourgeois and Gaynell Kinchen, quarterback Darryl Jenkins, halfback Hart Bourque and fullback Donnie Daye.

LSU enters the game with a 3-4-1 record after recovering from four close defeats. Tiger sophomores have continued to improve and have provided exciting football since a 6-6 tie with Ole Miss. Quarterback Lynn Amedee and fullback Charles Cranford have generated most of the offensive spark in the past three games.

Injuries have hobbled Mangham, Kinchen, Daye and fullback Earl Gros. Only Gros is expected to miss this game, however, while sophomore center Dennis Gaubatz, who suffered a broken thumb against Florida, may be able to return to defensive duty against Wake Forest.

LSU's probable starters are ends Bourgeois (174) and Mangham (196), tackles Bobby Richards (217) and Billy Booth (215), guards Roy Winston (219) and McCreedy (209), center Strange (210), quarterback Lynn Amedee (160), halfbacks Jerry Stovall (187) and Wendell Harris (185) and fullback Daye (190).

Florida Eleven Downs Southside

Southside High played give-away for the first two quarters yesterday, came back after the half to gain a 13-13 tie with Florida Industrial School early in the fourth period, then relaxed on pass defense and fell 26-13 to the visitors.

Both teams scored in sets of two quick touchdowns. Florida Industrial got two scores only two minutes apart in the first quarter, Southside got two quick ones at the end of the third and first of the fourth periods, Florida came back with two more closely spaced TD's late in the game, but time ran out before the Pels could get their second set.

STATISTICS

	Southside	Florida Industrials
First Downs	11	7
Yards Rushing	127	132
Passes	16-8	8-5
Fumbles Lost	3	1
Punting	1-30	4-29.5
Penalties	2-10	6-60

Southside fumbled and lost the ball on the game's opening kickoff and gave up a score on a 46 yard pass play from Florida Industrial quarterback Bill Lasseter to halfback Jim Gordon. The PAT was no good, but Lassiter and Gordon got together on a couple of option plays to mve the ball to Southside's 13 yard line n the visitors' next set of downs and Gordon took it over from there. This time halfback Bill Goodson kicked the extra point for a 13-0 halftime lead.

Southside kicked off to start the 3rd period, stopped the Florida razzle-dazzle plays to gain possession on the opponents' 13, and fullback Jim Wilson moved the ball to the two almost single handedly. Quarterback Aldon David sneaked it across and the PAT attempt failed.

The Pels got another drive going to open the fourth period, after guard Octave Douset stopped an enemy drive with two good defensive plays, and halfback Dale Perkins hit end Billy Brondum with a 14 yard pass for the score. The Pels worked the same pass play for the PAT and knotted the score, 13-13.

Florida Industrial caught Southside sleeping on pass defense following the next kickoff and Lassiter threw an opposite side of the field pass to end Bill Letasky for a 37 yard touchdown play. The PAT attempt failed.

In the fading minutes of the game the visitors put the win on ice when Lassiter sneaked the ball across from the three yard line to end a 33 yard drive, and passed to Letasky for the extra point and a 26-13 win.

Quarterback: "Threadneedle Theodore" Throckmorton, Two-tone Tech, whose coach says "a great pro prospect who pitches the ball unerringly (so we got no catchers) and who is a real mastermind (even though I can't convince the academic board). He's the finest quarterback in the country."

Halfback: "Swivelhips Sammy" Something - or - other, Swandown Seminary, whose coach says "undoubtedly one of the most elusive backs in the history of the game. Can run away from anybody (and does even if it means a loss.) He's the finest halfback in the country."

Halfback: "Pitchout Pete" Pfhitzk (pronounced) pfhitzk), Powderpuff A. & M., whose coach says "Pfhitzk is the greatest triple threat I've ever seen. (He runs and passes and we pray). He's the finest halfback in the country."

Fullback:. "Dynamite. Danny" Dumboczysworski, Diehard A&M, whose coach says "Dumbo is the most explosive runner we ever had. Our records show he picks up 8⅞ yards per alternate carry (losing .11⅛ yards very other carry). He's the finest fullback in the country."

Which pretty well takes care of the country.

But now it's time for the city boys to get into the act and picking a team which makes solid sense is going to call for a great deal of concentration and hard work, fellows.

Personally, if I ever hear of one player who isn't the "finest," that's the lad who's going to get my vote.

Pott, Gustin Tie In Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Johnny Pott, one of the most successful golfers this year, and Jon Gustin, who has yet to win a tourney, tied for the lead of the $15,000 Cajun Classic golf tournament at the halfway mark Friday night.

Pott, 25, of Shreveport, turned in the day's best round—a five-under-par 66 for a second round total of 136. Gustin, from Gladwyne, Pa., had a 69 to go with his first round 67.

Lionel Hebert, a native of Lafayette, and Al Balding of Toronto, Canada, were next at 137. Jay Hebert, Lionel's brother, and Frank Boynton of Orlando, Fla., tied at 13.

Pott, probably the most improved player on the tour, played through a steady shower over the 6,531-yard par 36-35—71 soggy Oakbourne Country Club course. He accounted for the most sensational shot of the day, a 25-yard trap shot which gave him a birdie, one of the five on his card.

While Pott has earned almost $24,000 on the tour, Gustin is well down the list with about $5,300 and is still looking for his first victory. A stylish swinger, Gustin hit 17 greens and holed a 20 footer for his longest putt of the day.

After Friday's round, the pros were cut off at 145, leaving 62 of them to play the final two rounds with nine amateurs.

Two top casualties of the cutoff were Bob Goalby and Jim Ferree, both of Crystal River, Fla. Goalby had 146, Ferree 149. One of the surviving amateurs was Alvin Dark of Lake Charles, manager of the San Francisco Giants, who had a 15.

Bald Eagle, Kelso Won't Race Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The owners of Kelso and Bald Eagle, the two top contenders for horse of the year designation, decided to stand on the record Friday and neither horse will start in the 75,000 Gallant Fox Hanicap.

Although Bald Eagle won the invitational $100,000 Washington D.C. International at Laurel in his last start Nov. 11 for the second straight year, the opinion was that Kelso will get the No. 1 title. Kelso won eight of his nine races this year, the last six stakes victories in a row.

Gustave Ring's Don Poggio, an Argentine-bred distance runner, heads a field of 10 with 126 pounds for the tough mile and three-quarter Gallant Fox Saturday at Aqueduct. With Sammy Boulmetis riding, Don Poggio's the 7-5 early choice.

Kelso, a 2-year-old, is owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. du Pont, while the 5-year-old Bald Eagle is the star of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable Bald Eagle will race no more, and enters the stud in Ken tucky. Kelso flies to California, his next major objective being the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity Jan. 28.

On Oct. 29 at Aqueduct, Kelso set an American record for two miles in beating Don Poggio and Bald Eagle in that order. The race was the $100,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup. Prior to that he won the Choice, Jerome, Discovery, Lawrence Realization and Hawthorne Gold Cup in succession. Kelso, a son of Your Host, earned $293,310 this season.

Bald Eagle, bay son of Nasrullah, started 11 times in 1960 and won five, with two seconds and two thirds, earning $398,085. He won the Widener and Gulfstream Handicaps in Florida, the Metropolitan and Aqueduct Handicaps in New York, as well as the Laurel International.

"I understand that the decision for horse of the year by now has been made" said Capt. Guggenheim in a statement announcing Bald Eagle would not start Saturday. He pointed out that the horse had run in three hard races since Oct. 22, and will retire "without a blemish," adding:

"The Gallant Fox would be an anti-climax to the brilliant career of a noble animal who has always been treated with consideration."

Garwol Choice In Pimlico Run

BALTIMORE (AP) — Garwol, one of Louis E. Wolfson's examples of "buying his way" into big-time racing, will be a slight favorite to win the $50,000-added Pimlico Futurity here Saturday.

The 2-year-old from Wolfson's Harbor View Farm will compete with a well-matched field of seven other juveniles over the 1 1-16 mile route.

With a gross purse of $110,760, the winner will take home $67,371 if all eight start.

None of the field has won a stakes victory, although Garwol was second by a head to stablemate Roving Minstrel in the Champagne Stakes at Belmont a couple of weeks ago. Last Friday, Garwol was second to Cain Hoy Stable's Regal Morn in a minor race at Laurel.

To Meet Jan. 24

Hank, Armstrong Tangle Tonight

The ten-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV, at 10 p.m. EST.

Hank, a stiff puncher from Detroit, makes his Garden debut with ten fights behind him this year. The 25-year-old contender won 7, lost 2 and drew in the other with Jesse Smith. The two defeats were to Hank Casey.

Five of Hank's victories were knockouts, over Jesse Bowdry, Sixto Rodriguez, Rory Calhoun, Victor Zalazar and Rudy Ellis. His record is 46-12-2, including 53 knockouts. This has earned him a No. 5 ranking among the 160-pound contenders.

Ducks Prefer Louisiana's Callers, 23-15

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Louisiana duck callers out-quacked an Arkansas team by a 23-15 score in a two-day quackoff, Raleigh Newman, captain of the Louisiana team, said.

The contest was held to let ducks decide which state's call was the best. Newman had charged Arkansas calls were strictly for contest and wouldn't lure ducks.

Leavell Smith of Stuttgart, Ark., said there weren't enough ducks around to make the contest meaningful. The weather was rainy, he added. "It was pretty pitiful," Smith said. "Louisiana hasn't gotten a migration from the north yet. Both sides agreed it wasn't much of a contest."

"There wasn't any doubt about the outcome as far as we're concerned," Newman said. "If the flight ducks were up, we'd have beaten them 10-1."

In Thursday's contest, Newman said he scored 5 points, Joe Roya 5, L. A. Hebert 3, Amos Faulk 2, and Noah Granger 1.

Newman said on the Arkansas team, Smith had 2; Lloyd McCollum, mayor of Stuttgart, 2; Kenneth McCollum 2; Lewis Wilhelm 2; and Bob Roberts 1.

After the first day's quacking, the score stood Louisiana 7, Arkansas 6.

One point was scored for bringing in one duck, two points for a group. A caller earned two points for a duck his opponent couldn't attract and three points for a group of ducks his opponent missed.

Stein Group Leaves A's To Kansas City

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A syndicate headed by Elliot H. Stein, Louis investment broker, withdrew Friday from negotiations for purchase of the Kansas City Athletics in favor of a rival Kansas City group.

The about-face came just after Stein met with representatives of Kansas City business and civic interests seeking control of the last-place American League club.

Stein said he and his associates are backing out because of disappointment expressed by Kansas City fans that control might pass to an outside group. But Byron Spencer, an attorney for the Kansas City group, was skeptical.

"I think they are withdrawing for one of two reasons," Spencer said. "One is that they concluded they could not get the other 48 per cent of the stock and the other that they bid too much for the club."

Co-executors of the estate of the late Arnold Johnson, who moved the club to Kansas City upon purchasing control, were authorized Monday to sell the estate's 52 per cent of the stock to the Stein syndicate.

Probae Judge Robert J. Dunne of Chicago, who granted the authority, has set another hearing for Monday on the matter. The judge had approved $1,820,000 as the price for the 52 per cent of the stock. Stein said the stock would be offered to the Kansas City group at an identical price.

Spencer's statement indicating the Kansas City group feels the price is too high left the fate of the A's in doubt. Asked what will happen now, Spencer said: "It is hard to tell. We'll go back to Chicago next week."

Stein's meeting was with J. W. Putsch, baseball committee chairman of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, and attorney Irvin Fane. The broker said the meeting here was arranged by utility executive J. Wesley McAfee at their behest. Spencer said the meeting was at Stein's invitation.

WOMAN'S WORLD

THESE JUNIORS are ready for all the fun-filled days of autumn and winter. The all-around pleated skirt ranks high in the heart of every girl who goes to school; it's teamed with a matching plaid jacket, and the easy-to-care for broadcloth shirt that's a favorite everywhere. Then, for a smart change after school, juniors can slip into the slim tapered slacks shown on the left, add the braid-bound chemette, neatly buttoned, and the casual wool and nylon shirt. How can a girl not have fun when she's so well dresed for it?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Child Must Grow Into Sense Of Responsibility

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The ideal adult is a responsible individual, and so parents become disturbed when a child fails to make himself responsible within the limits of his capacity.

But a sense of responsibility is a slow growth. A child may know well enough what he should do, but getting him to do it is something quite different.

Is it important that he do what is asked of him? If it is, then a parent has to keep on bearing the responsibility until the child is capable of it.

You've heard parents say; "Well if he leaves his bicycle outdoors and it gets stolen, that's his loss." Or, of the small child, "If he doesn't pick up his toys they can just lie there, I won't do it for him. He has to learn to be responsible."

But how can he learn if his parents, themselves, show no concern for the material value of a bicycle; or do not care if the house is disorderly and the toys lying all about? The first example of responsibility has to come from the parents.

You keep on telling the child but see that he goes out and puts his bicycle away properly each night. Help the small child pick up his toys until he grows into a recognition that this is what is done each night; and eventually he will accept the responsibility for carrying out the program.

But not all at once. Children have to discover how the home functions and their essential part in it. They have to become aware that irresponsibility punishes them as well as others.

And they discover these by seeing how their own parents bear the responsibilities which come their way. Picture the child who hears his mother say: "I've taken on the responsibility for the church supper, and I will have to get busy planning it"; or one whose father says, "I'd rather stay home this evening, but I promised my team captain I'd get out and bring in some money for the charity drive." This child absorbs these attitudes and reflects them in his own future conduct.

There are irresponsible individuals who always let someone else carry the ball. But we may take it for granted they did not grow up in homes where everyone, within his own capacity, did what he could to fulfill the tasks assigned to him. It is only in such an atmosphere that a sense of responsibility can grow and flourish.

Rehearsal Dinner, Parties Precede Sunday Wedding

Of interest in this area is the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Cherry Chapman and Paul Hines. Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orland Chapman of West Monroe, and Mr. C. A. Hines of Sulphur, and the late Mrs. Hines.

Guests invited to enjoy the party with the honor guests were: The Rev. Harold Cook, Ronnie Brothers, Miss Pat Wells, Mr. C. A. Hines, father of the prospective groom; Mr. and Mrs. George Hines and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Adams and Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. David Marchman, Joe Hinton, Don Tippet, Bud Viotre, Pat Garrett, Jim Campbell, Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, Miss Charlotte Null, Miss Diana Cobb, Miss Judy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Chapman, and Miss Sandra Chapman, parents and sister of the bride-elect.

INFORMAL PARTY

Miss Chapman was entertained with a conversational hour Saturday, November 12, in the home of Mrs. Walter Silmon, West Monroe.

Focal point in the reception room was a gold mesquite tree tied with white wedding bells. The refreshment table was covered with an imported white embroidered cutwork cloth, centered with an epergne holding white chrysanthemums and gold fern, flanked by white tapers in silver holders. Beneath the arrangement was a miniature bride and groom.

Attending the informal party given between the hours of 3 to 5 p.m. were: Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, Miss Lillian Blondin, Miss Carolyn Boyce, Miss Theda Pettigrew, Mrs. Dianne Van, Miss Judy Taylor, Miss Diana Cobb, Mrs. F. P. Cobb Jr., Miss Mary Evelyn Ware, Mrs. Walter Ware, Mrs. Walter Silmon, Mrs. Orland Edwin Chapman, mother of the honoree, and Miss Sandra Chapman.

The hostess presented the honoree a corsage of white mums to compliment her dress of plum-colored wool jersey. Mrs. Chapman, mother of the bride-elect, was given an orchid mum corsage.

Sharing the occasion with the honoree, her mother, and the hostess, were: Miss Sandra Chapman, Miss Judy Taylor, Miss Diana Cobb, Miss Rosalyn Thames, Miss Lillian Blondin, Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, and Mrs. H. O. Taylor Jr.

WOMAN'S WORLD

THESE JUNIORS are ready for all the fun-filled days of autumn and winter. The all-around pleated skirt ranks high in the heart of every girl who goes to school; it's teamed with a matching plaid jacket, and the easy-to-care for broadcloth shirt that's a favorite everywhere. Then, for a smart change after school, juniors can slip into the slim tapered slacks shown on the left, add the braid-bound chemette, neatly buttoned, and the casual wool and nylon shirt. How can a girl not have fun when she's so well dresed for it?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Child Must Grow Into Sense Of Responsibility

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The ideal adult is a responsible individual, and so parents become disturbed when a child fails to make himself responsible within the limits of his capacity.

But a sense of responsibility is a slow growth. A child may know well enough what he should do, but getting him to do it is something quite different.

Is it important that he do what is asked of him? If it is, then a parent has to keep on bearing the responsibility until the child is capable of it.

You've heard parents say; "Well if he leaves his bicycle outdoors and it gets stolen, that's his loss." Or, of the small child, "If he doesn't pick up his toys they can just lie there, I won't do it for him. He has to learn to be responsible."

But how can he learn if his parents, themselves, show no concern for the material value of a bicycle; or do not care if the house is disorderly and the toys lying all about? The first example of responsibility has to come from the parents.

You keep on telling the child but see that he goes out and puts his bicycle away properly each night. Help the small child pick up his toys until he grows into a recognition that this is what is done each night; and eventually he will accept the responsibility for carrying out the program.

But not all at once. Children have to discover how the home functions and their essential part in it. They have to become aware that irresponsibility punishes them as well as others.

And they discover these by seeing how their own parents bear the responsibilities which come their way. Picture the child who hears his mother say: "I've taken on the responsibility for the church supper, and I will have to get busy planning it"; or one whose father says, "I'd rather stay home this evening, but I promised my team captain I'd get out and bring in some money for the charity drive." This child absorbs these attitudes and reflects them in his own future conduct.

There are irresponsible individuals who always let someone else carry the ball. But we may take it for granted they did not grow up in homes where everyone, within his own capacity, did what he could to fulfill the tasks assigned to him. It is only in such an atmosphere that a sense of responsibility can grow and flourish.

Rehearsal Dinner, Parties Precede Sunday Wedding

Of interest in this area is the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Cherry Chapman and Paul Hines. Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orland Chapman of West Monroe, and Mr. C. A. Hines of Sulphur, and the late Mrs. Hines.

Guests invited to enjoy the party with the honor guests were: The Rev. Harold Cook, Ronnie Brothers, Miss Pat Wells, Mr. C. A. Hines, father of the prospective groom; Mr. and Mrs. George Hines and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Adams and Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. David Marchman, Joe Hinton, Don Tippet, Bud Viotre, Pat Garrett, Jim Campbell, Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, Miss Charlotte Null, Miss Diana Cobb, Miss Judy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Chapman, and Miss Sandra Chapman, parents and sister of the bride-elect.

INFORMAL PARTY

Miss Chapman was entertained with a conversational hour Saturday, November 12, in the home of Mrs. Walter Silmon, West Monroe.

For the occasion, the honoree was wearing a purple wool jersey sheath and matching jacket.

Focal point in the reception room was a gold mesquite tree tied with white wedding bells. The refreshment table was covered with an imported white embroidered cutwork cloth, centered with an epergne holding white chrysanthemums and gold fern, flanked by white tapers in silver holders. Beneath the arrangement was a miniature bride and groom.

The hostess took this opportunity to present the honoree and her mother with a corsage of white mums. She also gave Miss Chapman a dinner plate of her China.

Attending the informal party given between the hours of 3 to 5 p.m. were: Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, Miss Lillian Blondin, Miss Carolyn Boyce, Miss Theda Pettigrew, Mrs. Dianne Van, Miss Judy Taylor, Miss Diana Cobb, Mrs. F. P. Cobb Jr., Miss Mary Evelyn Ware, Mrs. Walter Ware, Mrs. Walter Silmon, Mrs. Orland Edwin Chapman, mother of the honoree, and Miss Sandra Chapman.

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums centered the luncheon table and were also used in the living room.

The hostess presented the honoree a corsage of white mums to compliment her dress of plum-colored wool jersey. Mrs. Chapman, mother of the bride-elect, was given an orchid mum corsage.

Sharing the occasion with the honoree, her mother, and the hostess, were: Miss Sandra Chapman, Miss Judy Taylor, Miss Diana Cobb, Miss Rosalyn Thames, Miss Lillian Blondin, Mrs. Gerald Wayne Dyson, and Mrs. H. O. Taylor Jr.

DEAR ABBY

Husband's Insecurity Is Showing, Honey

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When my husband goes out of town he makes sure our car is never left at home for me to use. He doesn't come right out and say he doesn't want me to have it, but he either leaves it with his brother (who has a car of his own) or else he promises it to "one of the boys" at the office.

I've never had an accident or a ticket, so he doesn't have to worry about that. And I've never given him any cause to doubt me or to be jealous. Why does he do this, and how can I change him —DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Your husband's insecurity is showing. In the "old days" men would keep their wives pregnant or barefoot to make sure they didn't stray. Today, they remove the "wheels." Bring the subject out into the open and discuss it freely. Once he's gained self-confidence he'll leave you the car.

DEAR ABBY: I am what is known as a "brain." I always get straight A's. This may sound wonderful, but it isn't. The other kids are so jealous, they shun me. Even the smart kids. I try to be friendly and never brag about my grades, but the resentment is always there. I would like to have some friends, but I am not going to get poor grades on purpose to do it. —THE BRAIN

DEAR BRAIN: Face it. There are plenty of "brains" who have lots of friends. If you are disliked generally, there must be another reason. Use some of that brain power to figure out why.

DEAR ABBY: Please advise me if I was right or wrong for accepting a diamond ring from a man who, at the time, was still married, claimed he was going to get a divorce, but instead was trying for a reconciliation with his wife. We have nothing to do with each other any more. Am I right in keeping the ring, or should I return it to him —TYLER

DEAR TYLER: You were wrong to accept the ring under those circumstances. Return it.

DEAR ABBY: That foolish girl who whined because she has to wear braces on her teeth in high school doesn't know when she's well off. I am 13 years old and will have to wear a 14-pound brace on my back for the rest of my life. —GOLDINE

YOUR PROBLEMS

Concentrate On Dancing Not On Conversation

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't throw this letter away as a "silly kid problem." I need help.

I'm 15, a fellow, and have just started to go to school dances. I'm not a very hot dancer but I'm trying to improve. My big problem is, what does a guy talk to a girl about besides school and the weather when they are dancing?

I try a lot of different subjects, but they fall flat and I feel like a goof. To top it all off, my dancing gets lousy, too. Please help me. —STUMBLING AND TONGUE TIED

Dear Stumbling: A wise man once said it's better to remain silent and be thought a fool, than to open your mouth and remove all doubt.

Nobody expects a 15-year-old kid to be a combination of Mortimer Adler and Fred Astaire. Forget about jazzy conversation on the dance floor. When you dance—dance.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister has three children whom she calls "active and normal." I say they are undisciplined and rude.

The oldest is 12, a boy. He doesn't stand up when introduced to older people. He interrupts adult conversations and takes right over. The girl, 10, never says "please" or "thank you." It's always "gimme" this or that. Her table manners are atrocious. I realize a 10-year-old is far from an adult but she's old enough to know better than to stuff food into her mouth with both hands and ignore the silver completely.

The youngest who is six behaves like a jungle animal. I could write a book on this one. When I recently told my sister she'd better do something about her kids she became furious and said, "I hate trained monkeys. I want "my" children to be natural and enjoy life." What about this? —AUNTIE MAYME

Dear Mayme: If your sister wants her children to enjoy life she'd better start to teach them some of the essentials on how to live with others. I mean "manners".

By manners, I don't mean superficial niceties. I mean genuine consideration for other people Children who interrupt, grab, shove, and put their own wants first, demonstrate a basic lack of respect for the rights of others. Your sister can call this "natural" if she wants to. Others have a different definition—and such kids become persona non grata (plenty unwelcome) in all circles.

Dear Ann Landers: I'll be frank and come to the point. I'm a working girl, 29 years old, no raving beauty. In fact I'm plain looking and a little on the heavy side. I've had darned few dates in my life and exactly one proposal of marriage. This is the problem:

I should tell you, too, in 1958 he got a girl in trouble and it cost "me," not him, $500. My mother says a woman, 29, has to put up with some monkey-shines or be an old maid. Help me decide—and "please" be practical. —JEAN

Husband's Insecurity Is Showing, Honey

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When my husband goes out of town he makes sure our car is never left at home for me to use. He doesn't come right out and say he doesn't want me to have it, but he either leaves it with his brother (who has a car of his own) or else he promises it to "one of the boys" at the office.

I've never had an accident or a ticket, so he doesn't have to worry about that. And I've never given him any cause to doubt me or to be jealous. Why does he do this, and how can I change him —DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Your husband's insecurity is showing. In the "old days" men would keep their wives pregnant or barefoot to make sure they didn't stray. Today, they remove the "wheels." Bring the subject out into the open and discuss it freely. Once he's gained self-confidence he'll leave you the car.

DEAR ABBY: I am what is known as a "brain." I always get straight A's. This may sound wonderful, but it isn't. The other kids are so jealous, they shun me. Even the smart kids. I try to be friendly and never brag about my grades, but the resentment is always there. I would like to have some friends, but I am not going to get poor grades on purpose to do it. —THE BRAIN

DEAR BRAIN: Face it. There are plenty of "brains" who have lots of friends. If you are disliked generally, there must be another reason. Use some of that brain power to figure out why.

DEAR ABBY: Please advise me if I was right or wrong for accepting a diamond ring from a man who, at the time, was still married, claimed he was going to get a divorce, but instead was trying for a reconciliation with his wife. We have nothing to do with each other any more. Am I right in keeping the ring, or should I return it to him —TYLER

DEAR TYLER: You were wrong to accept the ring under those circumstances. Return it.

DEAR ABBY: That foolish girl who whined because she has to wear braces on her teeth in high school doesn't know when she's well off. I am 13 years old and will have to wear a 14-pound brace on my back for the rest of my life. —GOLDINE

Concentrate On Dancing Not On Conversation

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't throw this letter away as a "silly kid problem." I need help.

I'm 15, a fellow, and have just started to go to school dances. I'm not a very hot dancer but I'm trying to improve. My big problem is, what does a guy talk to a girl about besides school and the weather when they are dancing?

I try a lot of different subjects, but they fall flat and I feel like a goof. To top it all off, my dancing gets lousy, too. Please help me. —STUMBLING AND TONGUE TIED

Dear Stumbling: A wise man once said it's better to remain silent and be thought a fool, than to open your mouth and remove all doubt.

Nobody expects a 15-year-old kid to be a combination of Mortimer Adler and Fred Astaire. Forget about jazzy conversation on the dance floor. When you dance—dance.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister has three children whom she calls "active and normal." I say they are undisciplined and rude.

The oldest is 12, a boy. He doesn't stand up when introduced to older people. He interrupts adult conversations and takes right over. The girl, 10, never says "please" or "thank you." It's always "gimme" this or that. Her table manners are atrocious. I realize a 10-year-old is far from an adult but she's old enough to know better than to stuff food into her mouth with both hands and ignore the silver completely.

The youngest who is six behaves like a jungle animal. I could write a book on this one. When I recently told my sister she'd better do something about her kids she became furious and said, "I hate trained monkeys. I want "my" children to be natural and enjoy life." What about this? —AUNTIE MAYME

Dear Mayme: If your sister wants her children to enjoy life she'd better start to teach them some of the essentials on how to live with others. I mean "manners".

By manners, I don't mean superficial niceties. I mean genuine consideration for other people Children who interrupt, grab, shove, and put their own wants first, demonstrate a basic lack of respect for the rights of others. Your sister can call this "natural" if she wants to. Others have a different definition—and such kids become persona non grata (plenty unwelcome) in all circles.

Dear Ann Landers: I'll be frank and come to the point. I'm a working girl, 29 years old, no raving beauty. In fact I'm plain looking and a little on the heavy side. I've had darned few dates in my life and exactly one proposal of marriage. This is the problem:

My boy friend is 27, good-looking, likes his martinis and changes jobs often. We were going to be married in December but he told me last night he lost $480 in a crap game and our wedding will have to wait. Also, he said he lost control of himself in a men's store and ran up a bill of $350.

I should tell you, too, in 1958 he got a girl in trouble and it cost "me," not him, $500. My mother says a woman, 29, has to put up with some monkey-shines or be an old maid. Help me decide—and "please" be practical. —JEAN

Dear Jean: This monkey has outshined himself. You're better off single than tied up with an irresponsible character who will bring you nothing but heartache and his overdue bills to pay.

MAP SUMMARY

Lingering rain continued during the afternoon Friday from the Carolinas into the Central Gulf Region and was accompanied by a few thundershowers near the Georgia coast. A low pressure area centered over Lake Erie was associated with a few showers in the southern Great Lakes region. Elsewhere precipitation was in the form of occasional rain or showers scattered over western Oregon and Washington and from Montana into northern Utah and Nevada with snow reported in higher elevations. A high pressure area centered near the Oklahoma Arkansas border was coupled to considerable sunshine in the Tennessee and southern Ohio valley.

Southerly winds spread mild air over portions of the western plains with readings in the 60's reported as far north South dakota where Philip recorded a high of 64. In contrast temperatures in the 30's and 40's were observed in North Dakota and extended through the upper Mississippi valley into the Great Lakes Region. Readings over the Atlantic states ranged from the 40's and 50's in New England to the 60's in the Carolinas and to the 70's and 80's in Florida. Temperatures in the 40's and 50's were common from the Rockies into the Pacific Northwest although the 30's were noted in higher elevations and the 60's and 70's were reported in eastern Colorado as well as portions of New Mexico and Arizona. The 60's and 70's were also reported in California.

A warming trend is expected today over most of the area from the southern half of the plains into the middle Mississippi Valley but lower temperatures are forecast for most of the Rocky Mountain states and from New England into the Central Appalachians. Occasional rain or showers may occur from the Pacific Northwest into Idaho and Utah with snow flurries expected over the mountains of northern Colorado and western Montana.

Dispute Halts Space Project

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A dispute over who should handle certain electrical work halted construction Friday on launch facilities for two giant space rockets, Saturn and Centaur.

National Labor Relations Board investigators are here to determine if the NLRB should issue an injunction against two striking unions—the International Brotherhood of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe fitting Industry.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which directs the Saturn and Centaur programs, filed unfair labor practice charges against the union and asked the NLRB to grant an injunction to halt the strike. The charges were filed in Tampa.

MAP SUMMARY

Lingering rain continued during the afternoon Friday from the Carolinas into the Central Gulf Region and was accompanied by a few thundershowers near the Georgia coast. A low pressure area centered over Lake Erie was associated with a few showers in the southern Great Lakes region. Elsewhere precipitation was in the form of occasional rain or showers scattered over western Oregon and Washington and from Montana into northern Utah and Nevada with snow reported in higher elevations. A high pressure area centered near the Oklahoma Arkansas border was coupled to considerable sunshine in the Tennessee and southern Ohio valley.

Southerly winds spread mild air over portions of the western plains with readings in the 60's reported as far north South dakota where Philip recorded a high of 64. In contrast temperatures in the 30's and 40's were observed in North Dakota and extended through the upper Mississippi valley into the Great Lakes Region. Readings over the Atlantic states ranged from the 40's and 50's in New England to the 60's in the Carolinas and to the 70's and 80's in Florida. Temperatures in the 40's and 50's were common from the Rockies into the Pacific Northwest although the 30's were noted in higher elevations and the 60's and 70's were reported in eastern Colorado as well as portions of New Mexico and Arizona. The 60's and 70's were also reported in California.

A warming trend is expected today over most of the area from the southern half of the plains into the middle Mississippi Valley but lower temperatures are forecast for most of the Rocky Mountain states and from New England into the Central Appalachians. Occasional rain or showers may occur from the Pacific Northwest into Idaho and Utah with snow flurries expected over the mountains of northern Colorado and western Montana.

Dispute Halts Space Project

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A dispute over who should handle certain electrical work halted construction Friday on launch facilities for two giant space rockets, Saturn and Centaur.

National Labor Relations Board investigators are here to determine if the NLRB should issue an injunction against two striking unions—the International Brotherhood of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe fitting Industry.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which directs the Saturn and Centaur programs, filed unfair labor practice charges against the union and asked the NLRB to grant an injunction to halt the strike. The charges were filed in Tampa.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Well How To Keep

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SCHOOL PHOBIA

Some of the small fry refuse to go to school because they don't want to leave their parents. This is a form of separation anxiety and is most common in the only child or in one born years after his older brothers and sisters. These youngsters usually are timid, sensitive or spoiled; they already have displayed other fear reactions such as night terrors.

The mother tends to be overprotective and overanxious; she is the type who specializes in "smother love." One authority describes her as dominated by her children as she had been dominated by her mother.

She tends to be inconsistent — spanking or threatening one moment and cuddling or bribing the next. The offspring sense that the mother wants them to stay home. Any illness is welcomed because it offers her an excuse.

In many instances, school phobia begins after a prolonged sickness or a change of home or school that allowed a prolonged absence. These boys and girls are to be differentiated from those who feign illness by vomiting or complaining of abdominal pain and from the truant who conceals his absence from teacher and parent.

Altho the phenomenon is basically one of fear, some dislike school because they have been teased, ridiculed, bullied, or punished for a poor performance.

The problem is best handled by specialists in child guidance. The tot must get back to class; and mother and child be weaned from excessive dependence on each other. The mother's help is needed; she must understand the part she plays in the situation if the plan of returning the youngster to school is to be successful.

TOMORROW: Loss of memory.

RESISTANT LESIONS

M. M. writes: I have had lichen planus of the mouth for five years. Is there any cure for this irritating condition?

REPLY

The cause of this inflammatory dermatosis is unknown and treatment of the chronic type is particularly unsatisfactory. Lesions in the mouth are especially stubborn and the best therapy our dermatologists have to offer is to reduce all irritation in this area. Get expert dental care and refrain from smoking and the use of condiments and hot foods.

KEEP (DOUBLE) CHIN UP

B. A. S. writes: How do you get rid of double chin?

REPLY

Some women wear a chin strap, practice holding up the head, or try massage. A definite double chin is difficult to eliminate without the aid of a plastic surgeon.

RINGWORM VARIETIES

J B. writes: Is there more than one type of ringworm?

REPLY

URINARY TRACT INFECTION

F. R. writes: Is pus in the urine a sign of kidney infection?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because pus may be coming from infection elsewhere in the urinary tract (the bladder, urethra, or ureters).

TOE TUMOR

V. S. writes: What is Morton's toe?

REPLY

A foot condition that leads to severe sharp, burning pain —usually near the base of the fourth metatarsal bone — on standing, walking, or even when resting. The cause is a nerve tumor that gets caught between the metatarsal bones.

Wright To Run In Texas For Johnson's Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Jim Wright of Texas announced Friday he will run for the Senate seat of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson when a special election is held early next year.

The 37-year-old Democrat said he had not discussed his candidacy with the three political leaders of the Lone Star State—Speaker Sam Rayburn, Gov. Price Daniel and Johnson. Johnson is expected to resign as senator in the near future.

Wright said he was not interested in the interim appointment to fill Johnson's seat until the special election is held.

Mother Is Held In Deaths Of Two Daughters

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A 22-year-old mother was held without bail on homicide charges Friday accused of causing the deaths of two daughters. They died two years apart.

Mrs. Robert A. Barnes was held for a further hearing next Friday in the deaths of the two girls after a detective remembered circumstances of the first child's death.

She was arrested Thursday after her daughter Angela, nine months, died in St. Joseph's Hospital where the mother brought her Tuesday afternoon. An autopsy showed the baby had fractured ribs, and had been beaten repeatedly on the head.

Detective Sgt. Albert Billinsky of the homicide unit remembered that on Aug. 8, 1958, Mrs. Barnes, a Negro, brought her eight month old daughter Marchella to the hospital where the child died of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Barnes said at the time she had tripped on a flight of stairs and that the baby had fallen from her arms and struck her head on a heavy ash tray.

Billinsky said he questioned the mother and that she denied beating the children, other than "slapping them."

Mrs. Barnes is the mother of an 18-month-old son. Her husband, Charles, a club steward, believed both girls were injured accidentally, Billinsky said.

Geology Society Asks Northeast Member To Trip

The South Texas Geological Society has invited Dr. Frank Welder, assistant professor of geology at Northeast Louisiana State College, to come to San Antonio to act as a director of the annual field trip next week.

The society, composed of several hundred industrial and government geologists, will visit the hill country between San Antonio and Del Rio examining rock outcrops.

Welder's interest in the project stems from his detailed four-year study of the strata, physiography and ground water of the region that he made while with the U. S. geological Survey.

After this preliminary meeting a more inclusive field trip will be initiated next spring for participating geologists in the Gulf Coast Region.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: IMITATION IS THE SINCEREST OF FLATTERY—COLTON.

Geology Society Asks Northeast Member To Trip

The South Texas Geological Society has invited Dr. Frank Welder, assistant professor of geology at Northeast Louisiana State College, to come to San Antonio to act as a director of the annual field trip next week.

The society, composed of several hundred industrial and government geologists, will visit the hill country between San Antonio and Del Rio examining rock outcrops.

Welder's interest in the project stems from his detailed four-year study of the strata, physiography and ground water of the region that he made while with the U. S. geological Survey.

After this preliminary meeting a more inclusive field trip will be initiated next spring for participating geologists in the Gulf Coast Region.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Well How To Keep

SCHOOL PHOBIA

Some of the small fry refuse to go to school because they don't want to leave their parents. This is a form of separation anxiety and is most common in the only child or in one born years after his older brothers and sisters. These youngsters usually are timid, sensitive or spoiled; they already have displayed other fear reactions such as night terrors.

The mother tends to be overprotective and overanxious; she is the type who specializes in "smother love." One authority describes her as dominated by her children as she had been dominated by her mother.

She tends to be inconsistent — spanking or threatening one moment and cuddling or bribing the next. The offspring sense that the mother wants them to stay home. Any illness is welcomed because it offers her an excuse.

In many instances, school phobia begins after a prolonged sickness or a change of home or school that allowed a prolonged absence. These boys and girls are to be differentiated from those who feign illness by vomiting or complaining of abdominal pain and from the truant who conceals his absence from teacher and parent.

Altho the phenomenon is basically one of fear, some dislike school because they have been teased, ridiculed, bullied, or punished for a poor performance.

The problem is best handled by specialists in child guidance. The tot must get back to class; and mother and child be weaned from excessive dependence on each other. The mother's help is needed; she must understand the part she plays in the situation if the plan of returning the youngster to school is to be successful.

TOMORROW: Loss of memory.

RESISTANT LESIONS

M. M. writes: I have had lichen planus of the mouth for five years. Is there any cure for this irritating condition?

REPLY

The cause of this inflammatory dermatosis is unknown and treatment of the chronic type is particularly unsatisfactory. Lesions in the mouth are especially stubborn and the best therapy our dermatologists have to offer is to reduce all irritation in this area. Get expert dental care and refrain from smoking and the use of condiments and hot foods.

KEEP (DOUBLE) CHIN UP

B. A. S. writes: How do you get rid of double chin?

REPLY

Some women wear a chin strap, practice holding up the head, or try massage. A definite double chin is difficult to eliminate without the aid of a plastic surgeon.

RINGWORM VARIETIES

J B. writes: Is there more than one type of ringworm?

REPLY

URINARY TRACT INFECTION

F. R. writes: Is pus in the urine a sign of kidney infection?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because pus may be coming from infection elsewhere in the urinary tract (the bladder, urethra, or ureters).

TOE TUMOR

V. S. writes: What is Morton's toe?

REPLY

A foot condition that leads to severe sharp, burning pain —usually near the base of the fourth metatarsal bone — on standing, walking, or even when resting. The cause is a nerve tumor that gets caught between the metatarsal bones.

Wright To Run In Texas For Johnson's Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Jim Wright of Texas announced Friday he will run for the Senate seat of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson when a special election is held early next year.

The 37-year-old Democrat said he had not discussed his candidacy with the three political leaders of the Lone Star State—Speaker Sam Rayburn, Gov. Price Daniel and Johnson. Johnson is expected to resign as senator in the near future.

Wright said he was not interested in the interim appointment to fill Johnson's seat until the special election is held.

Daniel has asked William A. Blakly of Dallas to take the interim appointment. Blakly has not publicly announced his decision.

Mother Is Held In Deaths Of Two Daughters

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A 22-year-old mother was held without bail on homicide charges Friday accused of causing the deaths of two daughters. They died two years apart.

Mrs. Robert A. Barnes was held for a further hearing next Friday in the deaths of the two girls after a detective remembered circumstances of the first child's death.

She was arrested Thursday after her daughter Angela, nine months, died in St. Joseph's Hospital where the mother brought her Tuesday afternoon. An autopsy showed the baby had fractured ribs, and had been beaten repeatedly on the head.

Detective Sgt. Albert Billinsky of the homicide unit remembered that on Aug. 8, 1958, Mrs. Barnes, a Negro, brought her eight month old daughter Marchella to the hospital where the child died of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Barnes said at the time she had tripped on a flight of stairs and that the baby had fallen from her arms and struck her head on a heavy ash tray.

Billinsky said he questioned the mother and that she denied beating the children, other than "slapping them."

Mrs. Barnes is the mother of an 18-month-old son. Her husband, Charles, a club steward, believed both girls were injured accidentally, Billinsky said.

Geology Society Asks Northeast Member To Trip

The South Texas Geological Society has invited Dr. Frank Welder, assistant professor of geology at Northeast Louisiana State College, to come to San Antonio to act as a director of the annual field trip next week.

The society, composed of several hundred industrial and government geologists, will visit the hill country between San Antonio and Del Rio examining rock outcrops.

Welder's interest in the project stems from his detailed four-year study of the strata, physiography and ground water of the region that he made while with the U. S. geological Survey.

After this preliminary meeting a more inclusive field trip will be initiated next spring for participating geologists in the Gulf Coast Region.

Well How To Keep

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SCHOOL PHOBIA

Some of the small fry refuse to go to school because they don't want to leave their parents. This is a form of separation anxiety and is most common in the only child or in one born years after his older brothers and sisters. These youngsters usually are timid, sensitive or spoiled; they already have displayed other fear reactions such as night terrors.

The mother tends to be overprotective and overanxious; she is the type who specializes in "smother love." One authority describes her as dominated by her children as she had been dominated by her mother.

She tends to be inconsistent — spanking or threatening one moment and cuddling or bribing the next. The offspring sense that the mother wants them to stay home. Any illness is welcomed because it offers her an excuse.

In many instances, school phobia begins after a prolonged sickness or a change of home or school that allowed a prolonged absence. These boys and girls are to be differentiated from those who feign illness by vomiting or complaining of abdominal pain and from the truant who conceals his absence from teacher and parent.

Altho the phenomenon is basically one of fear, some dislike school because they have been teased, ridiculed, bullied, or punished for a poor performance.

The problem is best handled by specialists in child guidance. The tot must get back to class; and mother and child be weaned from excessive dependence on each other. The mother's help is needed; she must understand the part she plays in the situation if the plan of returning the youngster to school is to be successful.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Loss of memory.

RESISTANT LESIONS

M. M. writes: I have had lichen planus of the mouth for five years. Is there any cure for this irritating condition?

REPLY

The cause of this inflammatory dermatosis is unknown and treatment of the chronic type is particularly unsatisfactory. Lesions in the mouth are especially stubborn and the best therapy our dermatologists have to offer is to reduce all irritation in this area. Get expert dental care and refrain from smoking and the use of condiments and hot foods.

KEEP (DOUBLE) CHIN UP

B. A. S. writes: How do you get rid of double chin?

REPLY

Some women wear a chin strap, practice holding up the head, or try massage. A definite double chin is difficult to eliminate without the aid of a plastic surgeon.

RINGWORM VARIETIES

J B. writes: Is there more than one type of ringworm?

REPLY

URINARY TRACT INFECTION

F. R. writes: Is pus in the urine a sign of kidney infection?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because pus may be coming from infection elsewhere in the urinary tract (the bladder, urethra, or ureters).

TOE TUMOR

V. S. writes: What is Morton's toe?

REPLY

A foot condition that leads to severe sharp, burning pain —usually near the base of the fourth metatarsal bone — on standing, walking, or even when resting. The cause is a nerve tumor that gets caught between the metatarsal bones.

Wright To Run In Texas For Johnson's Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Jim Wright of Texas announced Friday he will run for the Senate seat of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson when a special election is held early next year.

The 37-year-old Democrat said he had not discussed his candidacy with the three political leaders of the Lone Star State—Speaker Sam Rayburn, Gov. Price Daniel and Johnson. Johnson is expected to resign as senator in the near future.

Wright said he was not interested in the interim appointment to fill Johnson's seat until the special election is held.

Daniel has asked William A. Blakly of Dallas to take the interim appointment. Blakly has not publicly announced his decision.

Mother Is Held In Deaths Of Two Daughters

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A 22-year-old mother was held without bail on homicide charges Friday accused of causing the deaths of two daughters. They died two years apart.

Mrs. Robert A. Barnes was held for a further hearing next Friday in the deaths of the two girls after a detective remembered circumstances of the first child's death.

She was arrested Thursday after her daughter Angela, nine months, died in St. Joseph's Hospital where the mother brought her Tuesday afternoon. An autopsy showed the baby had fractured ribs, and had been beaten repeatedly on the head.

Detective Sgt. Albert Billinsky of the homicide unit remembered that on Aug. 8, 1958, Mrs. Barnes, a Negro, brought her eight month old daughter Marchella to the hospital where the child died of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Barnes said at the time she had tripped on a flight of stairs and that the baby had fallen from her arms and struck her head on a heavy ash tray.

Billinsky said he questioned the mother and that she denied beating the children, other than "slapping them."

Mrs. Barnes is the mother of an 18-month-old son. Her husband, Charles, a club steward, believed both girls were injured accidentally, Billinsky said.

Geology Society Asks Northeast Member To Trip

The South Texas Geological Society has invited Dr. Frank Welder, assistant professor of geology at Northeast Louisiana State College, to come to San Antonio to act as a director of the annual field trip next week.

The society, composed of several hundred industrial and government geologists, will visit the hill country between San Antonio and Del Rio examining rock outcrops.

Welder's interest in the project stems from his detailed four-year study of the strata, physiography and ground water of the region that he made while with the U. S. geological Survey.

After this preliminary meeting a more inclusive field trip will be initiated next spring for participating geologists in the Gulf Coast Region.

Vealers and bulls were quotably steady for the small supply. Vealers moved at $21-25 for good and choice, bulls at $17.50-20 for utility and commercial.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Selective Stock Gains Predicted

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Many stocks acted as if they still wanted to go higher as the market wound up an indecisive week, a financial analyst commented Friday.

B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson predicted a rally would go to at least 625-630 on the Dow Jones industrial average.

But he pointed out that an advance most likely would be on an extremely selective basis.

Thurlow reported that a study of 58 groups of stocks showed only 13 actually going up and four more which might be making major bottoms.

He said these groups show well established rising trends:

1. The standard defensive investments — baking, food products, gold, soap and tobacco (but not utilities; the electric companies appear to be entering a downtrend and the gas companies may be just beginning to turn up after a long period of irregularity.

2. Semidefensive groups — amusements, finance companies, retail trade (very selective within the group, however) and publishing.

3. Growth stocks — business machines only. The electronics, drugs, chemicals and other favorites all look bearish.

4. Cyclical groups which finished their bear markets early and appear to have turned — aircrafts, meat packers and oils. The airlines, farm equipments, fertilizers and sulphur stocks may be in the process of making bottoms.

"Frankly, it is a difficult market to judge," he said, "since movements both ways have, up until this point, been very sharp, particularly on an intraday basis.

"In any event, the current moderate decline seems to be holding within the 600 range on the industrial average although a break down through that level would suggest another test of the 565 lows."

A temporary peak seems to have been made Nov. 10 and it appears that some further consolidation or correction will be necssary before another advance can get under way, says A. M. Kidder & Co.

But the firm is of the opinion that even though the business news is not altogether favorable, any decline in the general list will be moderate and will not interfere more than temporarily with the progress of a good many well-situated issues.

Stocks End Up Week On Strong Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished out the week on a firm note Friday with the major interest once again centered among the so-called special situations.

The market held to the upside all day but managed a final fling in the closing minutes as traders anticipated a boost in short interest figures, confirmed after the bell.

The short interest rose 378,390 shares over a month earlier and was the highest since Jan. 15, 1959. A high short interest is considered technically bullish because traders who sell "short," that is, sell borrowed stock in the expectation of lower prices, eventually must buy back the stock and thereby shore up the market.

Other bullish developments cited by brokers as an inducement to buy were personal income having set an eighth consecutive monthly record in October.

WALL STREET VIEWS

Selective Stock Gains Predicted

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Many stocks acted as if they still wanted to go higher as the market wound up an indecisive week, a financial analyst commented Friday.

B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson predicted a rally would go to at least 625-630 on the Dow Jones industrial average.

But he pointed out that an advance most likely would be on an extremely selective basis.

Thurlow reported that a study of 58 groups of stocks showed only 13 actually going up and four more which might be making major bottoms.

He said these groups show well established rising trends:

1. The standard defensive investments — baking, food products, gold, soap and tobacco (but not utilities; the electric companies appear to be entering a downtrend and the gas companies may be just beginning to turn up after a long period of irregularity.

2. Semidefensive groups — amusements, finance companies, retail trade (very selective within the group, however) and publishing.

3. Growth stocks — business machines only. The electronics, drugs, chemicals and other favorites all look bearish.

4. Cyclical groups which finished their bear markets early and appear to have turned — aircrafts, meat packers and oils. The airlines, farm equipments, fertilizers and sulphur stocks may be in the process of making bottoms.

"Frankly, it is a difficult market to judge," he said, "since movements both ways have, up until this point, been very sharp, particularly on an intraday basis.

"In any event, the current moderate decline seems to be holding within the 600 range on the industrial average although a break down through that level would suggest another test of the 565 lows."

A temporary peak seems to have been made Nov. 10 and it appears that some further consolidation or correction will be necessary before another advance can get under way, says A. M. Kidder & Co.

But the firm is of the opinion that even though the business news is not altogether favorable, any decline in the general list will be moderate and will not interfere more than temporarily with the progress of a good many well-situated issues.

Stocks End Up Week On Strong Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished out the week on a firm note Friday with the major interest once again centered among the so-called special situations.

The market held to the upside all day but managed a final fling in the closing minutes as traders anticipated a boost in short interest figures, confirmed after the bell.

The short interest rose 378,390 shares over a month earlier and was the highest since Jan. 15, 1959. A high short interest is considered technically bullish because traders who sell "short," that is, sell borrowed stock in the expectation of lower prices, eventually must buy back the stock and thereby shore up the market.

Other bullish developments cited by brokers as an inducement to buy were personal income having set an eighth consecutive monthly record in October.

Airport Patrols War On Birds

BOSTON (UPI)—Special patrols armed with shotguns and torches, roamed the runways and marshy wastes of Logan International Airport Friday, warring against the huge flocks of birds that have been blamed for at least one air tragedy.

The Massachusetts Port Authority and the airlines serving Logan established the joint, round-the-clock bird watch patrols in the wake of a near-tragedy Thursday.

An Eastern Air Lines pilot brought his jet to a jolting halt as it plowed through a flock of sandpipers on the way down the runway. A total of 107 persons, including the entire St. Louis Hawks professional basketball team, were abroad the craft. Birds were spattered over the fuselage of the plane and the bodies of more than 100 littered the runway.

The huge jet liner was on the same runway from which an Eastern Air Lines turbo-jet Electra took off at dusk Oct. 4 and plunged into Boston Harbor seconds later with the loss of 62 lives.

Airport Patrols War On Birds

BOSTON (UPI)—Special patrols armed with shotguns and torches, roamed the runways and marshy wastes of Logan International Airport Friday, warring against the huge flocks of birds that have been blamed for at least one air tragedy.

The Massachusetts Port Authority and the airlines serving Logan established the joint, round-the-clock bird watch patrols in the wake of a near-tragedy Thursday.

An Eastern Air Lines pilot brought his jet to a jolting halt as it plowed through a flock of sandpipers on the way down the runway. A total of 107 persons, including the entire St. Louis Hawks professional basketball team, were abroad the craft. Birds were spattered over the fuselage of the plane and the bodies of more than 100 littered the runway.

The huge jet liner was on the same runway from which an Eastern Air Lines turbo-jet Electra took off at dusk Oct. 4 and plunged into Boston Harbor seconds later with the loss of 62 lives.

IN PRIVATE LIFE

Lusty Screen Lover Avoided Limelight

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Clark Gable was the lusty lover who always got the girl on the movie screen, but the happy ending eluded him in his private life.

Gable, the actor, was a rugged, handsome, gregarious, brash heartthrob to millions of women movie fans for 30 years.

Off-screen, he was a quiet, almost introspective man who sought a sheltered, secure life away from the tinsel of the movie capital.

The he-man lover of a score of beautiful women in his motion picture roles was married five times. Three of the marriages ended in divorce, tragedy marred another and death wrote finish to his fifth, denying him his wish to see his first child.

Despite his matrimonial breakups, Gable was seldom criticized because of his friendly, honest manner and his rugged manliness. He was held in such high esteem by the motion picture industry and the public that he never was tagged with the lurid reputations of such contemporaries as Errol Flynn.

Gable played self-assured gregarious roles, but he had few intimate friends in his private life. To these few he was fiercely loyal.

On issues, the actor was outspoken but he avoided discussing personalities and rarely knocked anyone. In turn, few people said an unkind word about the "king."

Gable avoided the limelight as much as possible and desperately sought security most of his life. Evidence of the search was his marriages to women many years his senior and his record-breaking association with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios.

The "great lover" of the screen was more at ease with men than the opposite sex. He had the happy faculty of being able to kid himself and usually directed conversation to subjects other than himself or his career.

His first wife was Josephine Dollon, 17 years his senior. They met in Portland, Ore., in 1924 when Gable, a telephone company lineman, went to the Little Theater to repair a wire.

Gable had become stagestruck several years earlier, but had little success playing with stock companies. Miss Dillon hired the rugged young man with the crooked smile. A Broadway actress, she coached him in the trade. When she returned to her Los Angeles home, Gable followed and they were married on Dec. 13, 1924.

The marriage lasted less than six years and Josephine got a divorce on April 1, 1930. The couple had been separated most of the time because they were touring separately in stock companies.

A month later Gable scored his first hit as Killer Mears in "The Last Mile" and later signed his first contract with MGM.

Gable married a second older woman on March 31, 1931. Mrs. Rhea Langham, a wealthy Texas widow, was 11 years the rising young actor's senior.

A year after Gable won his Oscar for "It Happened one Night," they separated. Rhea got a divorce in Las Vegas on March 7, 1939.

Meanwhile, Gable was skyrocketing as a star and appeared in pictures with leading sirens such as Jean Harlow, Greta Garbo and Joan Crawford.

The blonde actress, former wife of William Powell, and the handsome actor were one of Hollywood's happiest couples for three years.

But the happiness ended suddenly on Jan. 16, 1942. Miss Lombard and 21 other persons were killed when a Trans World Airlines plane smashed into Table Rock Mountain near Las Vegas, Nev.

The 33-year-old actress was flying back to her husband from a defense bond promotion speech in Indianapolis. Gable was waiting at Los Angeles airport when he learned the plane had crashed.

He flew to Las Vegas in a chartered plane and tried to go up the snowy mountain slopes in light clothing, but finally returned to a hotel to wait, nearly frantic, for the word which confirmed the tragedy.

Gable never quite recovered from the loss of his wife. Friends called them pals as well as lovers who often had gone hunting together.

Seven months later Gable joined the Army as a private and rose to the rank of major before his discharge.

But the postwar pictures were mediocre and below the boxoffice drawing power of his earlier films. Confused and hurt by the results, Gable withdrew even more to his estate in Encino, Calif.

The actor surprised his friends when he eloped with Lady Sylvia Ashley, the widow of Douglas Fairbanks Sr. Gable's fourth marriage didn't last long and the divorce was made final in 1952.

He abruptly changed his life in 1955 when he quit MGM after 20 years to freelance and married Kay Williams Spreckels, former wife of sugar heir Adolph Speckels II.

The actor and Miss Williams had been friends for 13 years and once made headlines when Spreckels charged in a temporary alimony suit that Gable had intimacies with her. She denied the allegation.

Gable's happiness increased last summer when he learned he was to become a father for the first time.

The 59-year-old actor starred recently with Marilyn Monroe in "The Misfits." Three days after the film was finished Gable suffered a heart attack at his Encino estate and was rushed to a hospital.

He was cheerful and talked of his coming fatherhood. Ten days later the "king" was dead.

SHELBY JACKSON, left, state superintendent of education in Louisiana, appeared at U.S. District Court in New Orleans with his attorney, Harry Booth of Shreveport, Friday for a hearing of contempt charges. The hearing was postponed because Judge J. Skelly Wright sat on a three-judge panel that heard arguments on the future of integration in New Orleans schools. Jackson was cited for contempt after he called a school holiday for last Monday, the day two New Orleans schools were to become integrated. (AP Wirephoto)

Pities Crippled Fiancee

COPENHAGEN Denmark (UPI)—A young student Friday told police he tipped his paralyzed fiancee out of her wheel chair into the harbor Thursday night because he pitied her. The girl drowned.

Erik Stroem, 20, said he wheeled the chair of Adda Skov Petersen, crippled since birth, to the edge of the harbor basin and tipped the girl into the water. Stroem was hospitalized for a mental examination.

DeSoto Car Line Dropped By Chrysler

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. officially confirmed Friday that it was discontinuing its De Soto line of cars, but denied that it planned to market a small sports car under the De Soto name in 1962.

The UPI story, based on reports from highly placed auto industry sources, said Chrysler would halt production of the De Soto line but was considering introducing a small sports car in 1962 to keep the De Soto name alive.

The official company statement said production of the De Soto line will be halted Nov. 30 "or when the current orders are filled."

It said owners of 1961 model De Sotos, purchased prior to Friday, would be given a $300 rebate which could be used toward the purchase of any 1961 or 1962 Chrysler Corp. automobile on which a 1961 De Soto is traded prior to Jan. 1, 1963.

"Dealers representing the 1,649 De Soto dealerships in the United States were informed of the decision to eliminate this line of automobiles so they can concentrate their selling efforts on other corporate makes," the company statement said.

"Despite the general advance in auto sales this year, shifts in market patterns underway in the past three years have already adversely affected De Soto sales, particularly since the 1961 model introduction."

Women Playing Major Role In Japan Politics

TOKYO (AP) — It could be the Japanese woman who decides Sunday who will run the country for the next four years. In a voting population of 54,207,538, women outnumber men by almost 2,330,000.

Until 1945, not only were Japanese women denied the right to vote, but laws and tradition kept them completely subjugated to the omnipotent male and confined to the home.

Now they play a major role in politics, send women representatives to seats in Japan's Parliament and take active roles in the welfare of their communities.

The Japan Women Voter's League, in a recent survey of 600 Tokyo women, reported 97 per cent replied in the affirmative when asked if they had made up their own minds on whom to vote for in the previous election.

One major reaction to the post-war emancipation of women was the election of 39 women to the House of Representatives in 1946. Since then the number has dwindled. There were only 11 in the 467-member House when that body was dissolved last month for the coming election.

Authorities attribute the decline to the elimination of the plural ballot system, under which a voter could list several candidates and often included a woman "to be fashionable." Another reason is that women seem to have less financial "pull" than men for campaign funds.
